NIGHT EDITION

BRUTALLY ASSAULTED

Fred Allard, a Farm Employe, is in a Serious Condition

Fred Allard employed by Jesse R. and John C. Trull of North Tewksbury was badly beaten on the Trull Brothers' farm about midnight last night. He was found in an unconscious condition and removed to the Trull residence where he received medical attention. George Skordas and Simos Darius who are also employed on the farm were arrested early this morning. It being alleged that either one or both of them assaulted Allard. The pair are also charged with the larceny of 500 cucumbers, each of the value of five cents. When arraigned before Judge Talley this morning each entered a plea of not guilty to the complaints. Owing to Allard's condition the government asked that the case be continued and the request was granted, the men being held under $1000 bonds for appearance Thursday.

The Messrs. Trull have been missing a great many vegetables of late and they are of the opinion that the thievies were committed by some person familiar with the premises and that the work was done at night.

Last night John C. Trull decided to stay up and watch the premises in hopes that he could catch the offender. He and Allard left the house at midnight and going to one of the greenhouses saw two men busily engaged in picking cucumbers. It is alleged that the men in the greenhouses were the two defendants.

Leaving Allard to watch the men John Trull went to the house to notify his brother and when the pair returned to the greenhouses they found Allard unconscious on the ground and the two men who had been in the greenhouse were missing.

Allard was carried to the Trull residenc and a doctor and the police notified. The police were given a good description of the two men and about 1 o'clock Patrolman McNally found the pair in Perry street near Fort Hill park and placed them under arrest. When questioned as to what they were doing there at that time of the morning and where they were going, they answered they were looking for the Head farm.

Both men were sent to the police station where they were booked for larceny and assault and battery.

At the time of going to press this afternoon Allard was much improved but he is still in a precarious condition.

PHILIP LETOURNEAU

Alleged to Have Put Up a Battle With Police Officer

Philip Letourneau put up a battle Saturday night while Patrolmen Procencher and Lemay were arresting him and it is alleged he swung his right arm and landed on Patrolman Procencher's jaw and nearly put the latter out of business for several minutes. A tussle ensued in which Letourneau came out second best, and he was finally landed at the police station where he was booked for drunkenness and assault upon an officer. Albert Rivet who happened to be in the vicinity attempted to interfere, it is said, and he, too, was sent in for drunkenness.

When Letourneau was arraigned in police court this morning, through his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, he waived the reading of the complaint and asked for a continuance. The case was continued till Friday. Albert was charged with being drunk and after entering a plea of guilty was fined $2.

Charged With Larceny

Cornelius F. Moran charged with larceny entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued until Saturday. The alleged larceny has to do with the amount of cement put in a sidewalk.

The case of Edward J. Doyle charged with the larceny of a trip book was continued till next Monday.

Reckless Rider Arrested

Joseph Zajichowski was charged with riding a bicycle in Merrimack square at a rate of speed greater than ten miles an hour. Joseph admitted that he was going some but did not think he was violating the law. Patrolman David Petrie testified that at about seven o'clock Saturday night when scores of people were alighting from a Lakeview car in Bridge street, the defendant was riding his bicycle at the rate of about 12 or 15 miles an hour and upon turning from Merrimack street into Bridge street crashed into the crowd and besides knocking several against the car the rider himself was thrown to the ground. He further testified that the young man upon arising from the ground used some vile language. Joseph was found guilty and a fine of $10 was imposed.

Basil Chauvell was charged with the larceny of a pocketbook and $10.14 in money, the property of Joseph Leblanc. A plea of not guilty was entered and as he was anxious to secure the services of a lawyer the case was put over until tomorrow morning.

Kicked a Boy

Michael Augustina was charged with drunkenness and assault on Henry Duprez, a small boy. He pleaded guilty to both complaints and after being found guilty was ordered to pay a fine of $12 for assault and $5 for drunkenness. Duprez informed the court that he was walking along Gorham street last night and without any warning or provocation, he said, Augustina kicked him. The boy's mother testified to having witnessed the assault. The defendant said that the boy asked him for a cigaret and when he refused to give the lad one the latter called him names and that was his reason for kicking the boy. The court, however, did not place much credence in the man's story and therefore found him guilty on both complaints.

Drunken Offenders

Narcisse Bouret after being found guilty of drunkenness was sentenced to the reformatory.

Frank Laba got drunk in Chelmsford yesterday and this morning in court he was fined $5. Frank McQuade was also fined $5.

Mary Taylor and James Whelan were each sentenced to two months in jail. Whelan appealed but later withdrew his appeal. Thomas F. Cummings was sentenced to jail for four months, while Patrick Beecher was sent to the state farm.

John J. Kelly and Percy Dane were fined $6 each and seven simple drunks were released prior to the opening of court.

BOARD OF TRADE

Committee Will Get Started This Week

THE BENEDICTION AT THE OPEN AIR ALTAR AT CORNER OF PAWTUCKET AND CHEEVER STREETS

French Catholics Observed the Feast of Corpus Christi

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed in an elaborate manner in all of the French Catholic churches of the city yesterday. Services were held in the church followed by a solemn procession along the principal streets of the parish. Temporary altars were erected along the route of the processions, and solemn benediction of the most blessed sacrament was held in the open air, the ceremonies being witnessed by several thousand people. The decorations along the routes were magnificent, and all in all the observance was one of the most successful ever held in this city.

St. Jean Baptiste

In the parish of St. Jean Baptiste church, the procession was the second annual and proved by far superior to the one of last year. The service began with solemn vespers at the church at 2 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Frs. Brullard, O. M. I., D. D., Rev. Fr. Bernechc, O. M. I., and Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., superior of St. Joseph's church. The service was former only, and the spacious church was literally filled.

The choir, augmented by members of other choirs, rendered Stearn's vespers, Dr. George E. Caisse directing and Mr. Arthur J. Martel presiding at the organ.

A short instruction on the observance of the day was delivered by the Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I.

At 2.45 o'clock the procession formed at the church and the surrounding streets as follows:

Cross, chandeliers, and altar boys in column of fours.
The boys of St. Joseph's college and the Anges Gardiens sodality.
The little boys of three classes at the Convent of St. Joseph.
Children of Mary.
The girls of St. Joseph's convent.
Group of 60 girls from Pawtucketville with veils and flowers.
The women of St. Anne's Sodality.
Group of little girls.
The girls of Notre Dame de Lourdes sodality.
The children of the orphanage.
Lowell Independent Band.
Union Garin Nationale.
Court Samuel de Champlain.
Conseil Carillon.
The Artisans and l'Union St. Joseph.
Court St. Paul.
Court St Antoine.
The C. M. A. C.
The Holy Family Sodality.
The choir.
Group of girls from the convent with garlands and crowns.
The censers, the Blessed Sacrament, the altar boys and cadets.

The guards formed an escort around the Blessed Sacrament as follows: Guarde Frontenac with the banner from the Eucharistic Congress in front, forming a cross; Garde d'Honneur on the right; Garde St. Paul on the left and the A. G. Cadets bringing up the rear.

The blessed sacrament was carried by Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., under a canopy carried by four of the oldest members of the parish. In the front were some 60 little girls dressed in white, scattering flowers along the way. The other clergymen in the procession were: Rev. Fr. Thomas Marie, O. S. F., of Montreal, Rev. Fr. Chaput, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, Rev. Frs. Denizot, Graton, Brullard, Baron, Paquette, Bernechc, Racette, Lefebvre, O. M. I. of St. Joseph's parish, Rev. Bros. Boldue and Jalbert, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, Rev. Bro. Fortier, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Texas, and Rev. Bro. Levasseur, O. M. I., of St. Joseph's parish.

The route of procession was as follows: from the church in Merrimack

XAVIER DELISLE,
Marshal of Procession.

street, to Aiken, to Hall, to Tucker, to Cheever, to Pawtucket, where a halt was made for benediction, to Moody, to Austin, to Merrimack and into the church.

The repository, a magnificent piece of work, was erected in Pawtucket street opposite Cheever street by Messrs. Euchariste Champagne and Laurier Tremblay. It was a huge monument of wood about 60 feet high and richly decorated with potted plants, flowers, shrubs and greeneries. On its summit rested a temporary altar decorated with candles, pictures of Our Lord and angels, and flowers. The entire repository was also draped with bunting and flags of the national colors.

Here the procession halted and solemn benediction was held. The 25 steps of the temporary altar were lined with little girls dressed in white, while others represented angels. The guards were lined on each side of the repository and presented arms at the benediction.

Over 10,000 people were in attendance at the repository, including about 6000 in the procession. The large crowd conducted itself with the utmost devotion and courtesy, but on account of the immense crowd at the repository the congregation could not kneel.

The procession then continued its march as far as Knapp's place in Moody street, where another halt was made, and there again benediction was held at another temporary altar erected in the middle of the yard. This one was also lavishly decorated and was the work of Mesdames Forget, Collette-Ducharme, Daignault, Lebrun and Miss Fournier.

At the church, after the procession, solemn vespers were again held, this time for women only. Again the Rev. Frs. Watelle, Brullard, Baron and Bernechc, O. M. I., officiated.

The decorations along the route were very artistic and every building was literally covered with bunting and flags of the national colors. Small altars, pictures of saints and statues were also very numerous along the line. A grotto containing the life figure of Our Lord was erected on the land adjoining the church in Moody street. This was admired by every one who chanced to see it. It was erected and decorated by the Sisters in charge of the rectory.

The chief marshal of the procession was Mr. Xavier Delisle, president of the C. M. A. C., and his aids were the Messrs. Joseph Payette, Alderic I. Tellier and Onesime Tremblay.

St. Louis'

The first Corpus Christi procession at St. Louis' church was held yesterday immediately after high mass. The Rev. Fr. J. Henri Filion of St. Joseph's parish, Salem, Mass., officiated at the church, and the sermon, an eloquent one on the feast of the day, was preached by the Rev. Fr. Fortier.

After the mass the procession formed as follows:

First Division.
Cross and acolytes.
National and French colors.
Garde Frontenac.
Banner of St. Louis.
School children.
Parishioners not affiliated with any sodality.

Second Division.
Garde Jacques Cartier.
Artisans.
Catholic Foresters and L'Union St. Jean Baptiste.
Cercle St. Louis.

Third Division.
Sacred Heart League.
Children of Mary.
St. Anne's Sodality.
Third Order of St. Francis.

Fourth Division.
Choir.
Altar boys.
Children distributing flowers.
Torches.
Censers.
Canopy.

Blessed Sacrament, escorted by a detachment of the Garde d'Honneur.

Mr. Pierre A. Boussuar was chief marshal, and the aids were Messrs. Joseph Delorme and Marcel Roussel. The canopy was borne by four well known men of the parish, Messrs. J. H. Beaulieu, J. A. Filion, Simeon Lagasse and J. A. Foisy. Rev. Fr. J. N. Jacques, pastor of the parish, carried the blessed sacrament as far as the repository at the home of Mrs. Pierre Z. Hebert in Hildreth street, where he officiated at the benediction. Then Rev. Fr. Filion carried it to the church. The route of the procession was from the church to Boisvert street, to Victor, to Ennell, to Hildreth, to Aiken avenue, to West Sixth and into the church. The choir was under the direction of Mr. Ollet J. David. Rev. Fr. R. A. Fortier had general charge of the procession. The decorations along the route were splendid.

Notre Dame de Lourdes

The procession after high mass at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in Branch street was a pretty feature, although the route of the procession was just around the church into East Pine street, where a repository had been erected. All the societies of the parish as well as everyone attending high mass took part in the observance. Rev. Fr. Lamothe, O. M. I., pastor of the church, officiated at the benediction, and Rev. Frs. Magnan and Barette, O. M. I., assisted.

The blessed sacrament was escorted by Garde Sacre-Coeur. The choir was under the direction of Mr. H. A. Racicot.

OVER 30 CANDIDATES

Are Looking for Middlesex County Truant School Job

"All applications are in but four and you're one of them," said County Commissioner Richardson to a reporter of The Sun, this morning when the latter asked him if there were many candidates for the position of superintendent of the County Training school.

The county commissioners met at the court house this morning but took no action on the election of a superintendent, the institution at present being in charge of Charles H. Mason, who for the past several years was assistant to the late Superintendent Warren and who conducted the affairs of the school most successfully during the illness of the superintendent. No appointment will be made for the present. Over 30 have applied for the position, many of whom are residents of Lowell, and ten times that many friends have been up against the commissioners in behalf of the different candidates.

Close Bidding

The commissioners opened the bids for contracts to supply coal to all the county buildings in Lowell and vicinity and E. A. Wilson appears to have won out, although the commissioners will go over the schedules once more before formally awarding the contracts. The Wilson firm beat out the Horne coal company by about $30, while Edward Crawley was only 10 cents behind that company. Daniel T. Sullivan also bid while Fred H. Rourke bid on one number in the schedule only. Six different kinds of coal were asked for.

After the meeting the commissioners went to Warren street to inspect the location on which the Middlesex company asks for a private railroad track. The aldermen recently favored the petition now it is up to the county commissioners and finally the railroad commissioners will pass upon it.

J. OMER ALLARD

Chosen Chairman of the Registrars

The board of registrars of voters met Friday night and elected J. Omer Allard chairman. The former chairman of the board was John P. Farley and he had to step down and out in order to preserve the political equilibrium of the board which, the law says, must be a bipartisan board. Mr. Farley was succeeded by George C. Evans, who was appointed by Mayor Meehan and confirmed by the board of aldermen at their last meeting. The personnel of the present board is as follows: J. Omer Allard, chairman; George C. Evans, Hugh C. McCusker, and Stephen Flynn, city clerk.

The board met this afternoon for the purpose of attending to the jury list which is being prepared for the printer. The law requires that the list shall be ready by August 1.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

The following marriage intentions were registered at the city clerk's office today: Henry W. Cote, 24, electrician, 155 Pawtucket street, and Agnes E. Welch, 21, at home, 436 School street.

Richard A. Johnsen, 25, machinist, 190 Shaw street, and Mildred M. Bolger, 20, seamstress, 81 Andover street.

Edgar Brooks, 31, locomotive fireman, 39, Leverett street, and Lily Sheard, 26, dressmaker, Yorkshire, England.

Dennis A. Harrington (widowed), 44, janitor, 291 High street, and Elizabeth A. Welch, 38, at home, 495 High street.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

MEMBERS OF C. M. A. C. RECEIVE COMMUNION

The annual communion of the members of L'Association Catholique was held yesterday morning at St. Jean Baptiste church and was followed by a breakfast at the club rooms in Pawtucket street.

The members of the society gathered in the lower church at 6.45 o'clock and at 7 o'clock they marched to the upper church where mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. J. Ouellette, O. M. I., chaplain of the organization. The sermon on the motto of the society "Je Crois et Je Professe," "I Believe and I Profess," was delivered by Rev. Fr. Denizot, O. M. I., D. D.

During the mass there was singing by a choir under the direction of Mr. J. E. Nolet with Mr. Arthur J. Martel at the organ.

After the service breakfast was served at the club rooms in Pawtucket street President Xavier Delisle presiding over the festivities. Speeches were delivered by Rev. Frs. Watelle and Ouellette, O. M. I., Messrs. Thomas J. Goyette, Henry Achin, Jr., Joseph E. Lambert and Joseph L. Lamoureux.

The committee in charge was Messrs. George Simard, Eugene Beaulieu, Joseph L. Lamoureux and Xavier Delisle, ex-officio.

PLANTING OF IVY

TOOK PLACE AT SMITH COLLEGE TODAY

NORTHAMPTON, June 19.—The planting of the ivy, one of the most picturesque features in connection with the commencement festivities at Smith college, took place today under ideal weather conditions and in the presence of the entire student body of the college and a large number of visitors and townspeople.

The procession formed on the campus, in front of the student building, and the line of march was taken up to Seely hall across the campus, thence to the new library building, where the ivy was planted. The procession was led by the juniors acting as escort to the 365 members of the senior class. All of the seniors were gowned in white and each carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The juniors, also dressed in white, bore in their hands a long chain of mountain laurel.

The ivy was planted by the president of the senior class, Miss Laura E. Wilbar of Bridgewater, Mass., and Smith songs were sung by the students, after which the exercises were transferred to one of the halls.

BOY SCOUTS' GALA DAY

Held at North Chelmsford and Was a Great Success

The Boy Scouts' first lawn party and gala day at North Chelmsford, Saturday, was a huge success. The troops represented included the North Chelmsford boys, Eliot church, Calvary Baptist, Centralville, Pawtucketville, Y. M. C. A., Tyngsboro and Chelmsford Centre.

The Middlesex County Training School band was in attendance during the afternoon and gave a very delightful program. Refreshment stands, tables, etc., had been arranged for the occasion and they were well patronized.

Refreshments: Mrs. Frank Ingalls, Mrs. James Tetley, Mrs. R. Polly, Mrs. James Kiberd and Mrs. William Brown.

Candy—Mrs. Nellie Slater, Mrs. Geo. Rixley, Miss E. Draper and Miss Smith.

Pop corn: Mrs. G. Y. Hodge, Mrs. H. Hadley and Mrs. E. Dixon.

Doll stand: Arthur Polly and Roy Larkin.

Rolling balls: Walter Polly and Gilbert Young.

Moving deer: Warren Prince, Harold Hodge and Willis McComb.

Check sellers: William Brown and John Tabrah.

A fine program of sports was carried out. The tug-of-war was the main event and was won by Tyngsboro. The prize, a beautiful silver cup, will be held by the winners until some other troop defeats them.

The other sports resulted as follows:

100 yard dash, 13 and under: G. Paasche, Chelmsford Centre, first; Clarence Armstrong, Pawtucketville, second; William Mansfield, Pawtucketville, third.

100 yards dash, over 14: Charles Barton, Eliot, first; Lawrence Brown, Tyngsboro, second; Edward Sheridan, Pawtucketville, third.

Obstacle race: Fred Sterling, Truant school, first; Lawrence Brown, Tyngsboro, second; George Chapman, Chelmsford Centre, third.

Running broad jump: Lawrence Brown, Tyngsboro, first; George Marinel, North Chelmsford, second; Fred Sterling, Truant school, third.

Shoe race: John Buchanan, North Chelmsford.

Following the sports, an attractive exhibition of acrobatic work was given by Charles Barton of the Eliot troop.

The program for the evening was a very delightful one and was carried out under the most pleasant conditions imaginable. The grounds of the Silesia Worsted Co., where the affair was held, were brilliantly lighted by myriads of electric lamps. There was music by the Vesper orchestra under the leadership of Herbert Waterhouse and a very pleasing entertainment by the Pawtucketville Minstrel club. The program given by the minstrel troupe, led by its conductor, H. A. Maxfield, was as follows:

Solo, "Sunny South," Master Lenfest; chorus, "On Mobile Bay"; end solo, "Negro Melody," I. Leggatt; duet, "When a Boy from Old New Hampshire," Messrs. Putnam and Mathison; end solo, "Mandy Lane," W. Silcox; end solo, "Put Your Arms Around Me, Little Girl," W. Mansfield; solo, "Old Oaken Bucket," W. Bartlett; end song, "I'm Going to Stay on Solid Ground," L. Conley; end song, "Rickety Rack," J. Grant.

Little Kenneth and Erwin Mitchell danced their minuet in a most charming manner, and Kenneth pleased exceedingly by dancing the sailor's hornpipe. Edna and Ethel Dixon danced the Highland Fling, an Irish jig and a sword dance. An exhibition of wrestling by Mansfield and Mochrie of the Y. M. C. A., in which the various scientific holds were demonstrated, concluded the entertainment, which was a success from start to finish.

DECORATION DAY

Observed by Knights of Pythias

Yesterday was decoration day for the order of Knights of Pythias and was beautifully observed by Wamesit lodge, No. 25, and Samuel H. Hines lodge, No. 56. The members met at their castle hall at 9.30 when the following program was in order:

Chopin's Funeral March, Miss Harriet E. Mansur; opening ode; tribute of respect, John McLeod, C. C., Wamesit; coming of the councillors, Fred W. Ireland, I. G., H. H. Hines; record of the departed, C. W. Peters, K. R. G., Wamesit; song, "Face to Face," Paul Worcester, Wamesit; obligations, Henf. Jordan, M. W., S. H. Hines; benevolence, Alex Feeteau, M. E., Wamesit; roll call of the departed, F. B. Wright, Wamesit; song, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," Edwin W. Kilpatrick; symbol of veneration, V. C., F. C. Prescott, S. H. Hines; closing ode, Accompanist on piano, Miss Harriet E. Mansur.

At the close of the services barges were taken for the Lowell and Edson cemeteries, where the graves were decorated with bouquets of flowers.

At the close the members formed a square around the Pythian lot on First avenue when the beautiful closing ceremony of the order was performed, P. C. A. E. Joy of S. H. Hines delivered the oration. P. G. W. H. Gilman of S. H. Hines as prelate rendered the prayer.

A sextette, Mrs. Henry E. King, soprano; Mrs. Robert J. Fullerton, alto; P. C. Samuel Stott, P. C. E. E. Mansur, tenors; P. C. A. E. Joy, P. C. Robert J. Fullerton, basso, rendered selections during the evening.

The castle hall of the order was beautifully decorated with the flags of the order and the Stars and Stripes.

The services of the day were in charge of the following committee: P. C., Frank B. Wright, chairman, Wamesit; P. C., Robert J. Fullerton, secretary, S. H. Hines; P. C., Leon Berry, Wamesit; P. C., Alex Feeteau, Wamesit; I. G., Fred W. Ireland, S. H. Hines; P., Wallace Langell, S. H. Hines.

CHELMSFORD

The members of the graduating class of the Chelmsford High school attended the Central Baptist church yesterday morning and listened to an eloquent baccalaureate sermon on the subject, "I Must See Rome," by Rev. Mr. Ellis. The auditorium was very prettily decorated with wild flowers and ferns, and prominently displayed was a banner in blue and gold, the class colors, with the words "Class of 1911." Clusters of blue lilies and buttercups marked the seats reserved for the graduates. An anthem and response were given by the quartet and a solo by Mrs. George Blackader.

DIED SUDDENLY

Geo. Halstead Stricken With Hemorrhage

Fireman George T. Halstead of Engine 3, died rather suddenly Saturday afternoon while watching the parade of Patriarchs Militant.

Mr. Halstead had been at St. John's hospital for treatment for neuritis since June 8, and seemed to be improving right along. Saturday in company with his wife he was watching the parade from the hospital grounds, as the marchers passed along Bridge street, when he dropped to the ground unconscious. He was carried into the institution, where he passed away in a few moments. A hemorrhage of the brain was the cause of his sudden death.

Mr. Halstead was one of the most popular men of the fire department, having an enviable record for bravery on many occasions in his 28 years of service. He is survived by his wife, four sisters, Mrs. E. A. Dean of Everett, Miss Emma Halstead of Everett, Miss Martha Halstead of Hartford, Conn., and Mrs. Ella Clark, and three brothers, Captain William H. Halstead, Lieut. James W. Halstead of the Warren Street Protective, and John R. Halstead of New Jersey; one son, Arnold S. Halstead of New York.

The deceased was 60 years old, a member of the United Workmen and Veteran Firemen's association, and his home was at 111 Westford street.

MILITARY WALK

Lowell Officers Took Part In It

Over a score of local military men, most of them non-commissioned officers, left the local armory in Westford street yesterday morning to meet the non-commissioned officers of the other two companies of the first battalion of the Sixth regiment, at Wilmington. In all there were about 60 men present.

Capt. Walter R. Joyes of Company C was one of the local men to take part in the walk. He was attired in one of the new lightweight officers' uniforms. From Company C there were Lieuts. Patten and Powers. Co. G had 18 men, Co. C 4, and Co. K sent two men. Sergt. Colby of headquarters was also present.

The soldiers were attired in the olive drab uniform and were equipped with haversack and canteen and wore the army shoes.

The men traveled by electrics to Wilmington station and there met the officers and men from Companies A and H of Wakefield and Stoneham. Lieut. Marshall of the 11th Infantry U. S. A. also came up as instructor of the day, and the column moved off at a leisurely pace in the direction of Wilmington Centre.

Frequent halts were made and the lieutenant explained the idea to the militiamen. It was supposed that the enemy was in the direction of Andover. Orders had been given to seize the town in the morning and the company was to form the advance guard and throw out a point and march on with all possible speed to Andover. As he went along, the instructing officer questioned the men, bringing up situations and problems for them to solve and afterward explaining every little detail. The column pushed on to North Wilmington, had a slight brush with the enemy, drove him back and went on still farther. They halted in a field near a cross roads above North Wilmington for dinner, and then returned, this time taking up outguard work and despatch sending.

Every man was given a map of the country with instructions to follow carefully. There will be another school of the same kind before the summer tour of duty.

TWO WOMEN PERISHED

Steamer Gov. Andrew Was Badly Damaged By Fire

BOSTON, June 19.—The blackened ulk of the Nahant line passenger eamer Governor Andrew, which was ept by a disastrous fire after midht Sunday morning, while it was d up at Gove's wharf, on the East ston water front, gave up the bodies her two dead yesterday.

These were:

MRS. ELIZABETH McNEIL, of 281 dley street, Roxbury, who was cook oard the steamer.

JISS HARRIET KELLEY, address known, a stewardess.

Seventeen members of the crew, inding all the officers except Capt. ut, were aboard the steamer when fire started, at 2 o'clock. All esped with the exception of the two men, although six of the deckhands re burned on the body.

The steamer, which was warped out o the stream during the fire, was ved to the lumber wharf of William Beath on the East Boston side of harbor in order that search might made for the bodies.

Among those who boarded the amer for this purpose was Policeman Peter J. McNeil of the Roxbury ssing station, the husband of Mrs. Neil. He was among those who nd her body, and he nearly collsed.

The two women, who slept aft of the panionway, must have been awakd soon after the fire started and d to escape in their night clothes. Escape had already been cut off by ball of flame-shot smoke, which had eloped the companionway. The dy of Mrs. McNeil was found at the of the companionway, but was so lly burned as to be scarcely recogable.

ntify Wedding Ring

McNeil hoped against hope it might t be his wife, until careful examinan revealed the blackened gold circlet ich had been Mrs. McNeil's wedding g. This established the identity of body positively.

The other victim, Miss Kelly, had tried to fight her way up the companionway, only to fall back. She managed to reach the cabin, and in order to recover her body, the fireman who aided in the search had to chop a hole through the aft deck.

About five feet of water had flowed into the cabin. The body, which was afloat, was easily reached and drawn out. Medical Examiner McGrath examined both bodies and superintended their removal.

It was thought at first Clarence Thompson, second pilot aboard the steamer, had also perished. He was reported missing after the fire, but was located later. He escaped without injury.

The six deckhands who were treated at the East Boston Relief Station were discharged during the day with the exception of Henry Shuman. He was sent to the City hospital, where he is in a serious condition.

The steamer was too badly burned for reconstruction. The hulk will probably be stripped of its metal work this week and arrangements will be made by the Boston, Nahant and Pines Steamboat company to replace her with another vessel.

THE SABREY CLUB

HELD ANNUAL OUTING AT MOUNTAIN ROCK

The annual outing of the Sabrey club was held Saturday afternoon at Mountain Rock. There was a large attendance and the afternoon was spent in an enjoyable manner. The feature of the affair was the ball game between teams captained by Messrs. Frank Hall and Earle Bass, the former team winning by a good margin. Immediately after the game the members repaired to the pavilion at Lakeview, where a turkey supper was served. At the conclusion of the supper speeches were made by Messrs Adams, Stockbridge, Colburn and Gookin.

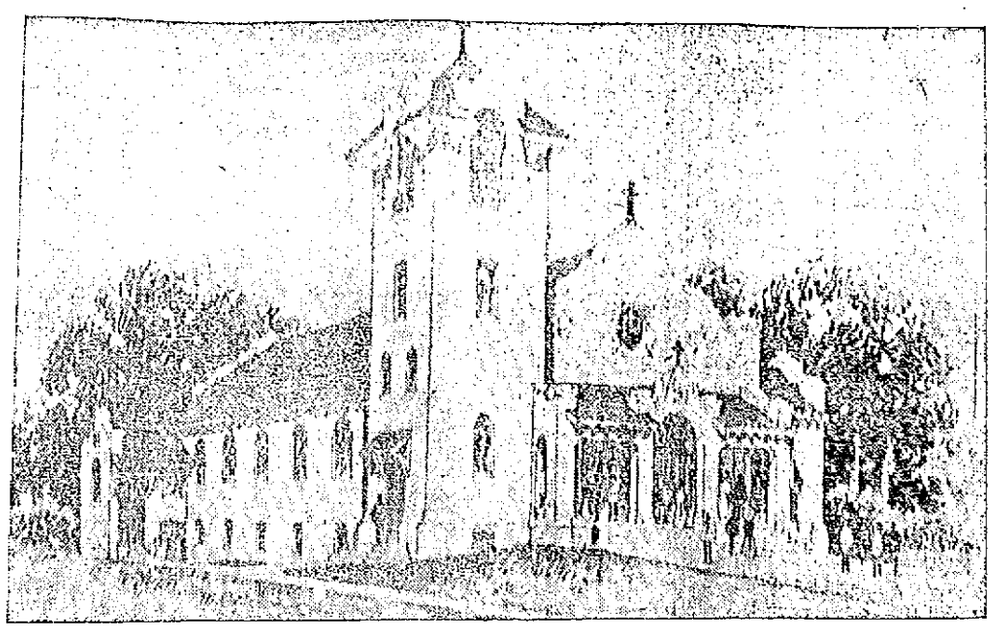
ST. MARGARET'S



ARCHITECT'S PICTURE OF THE NEW ST. MARGARET'S

Corner Stone Laid By Rt. Rev. Bishop Anderson

One of the most imposing of all the beautiful outdoor religious events held in Lowell yesterday was the laying of the corner stone of the new St. Margaret's church in Stevens street, in the presence of a gathering of several thousand people of all religious denominations. There were present also many churchmen, despite the fast that the feast of Corpus Christi necessitated many more remaining at their own churches, and the officiating clergyman was Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, D. D., auxiliary bishop of Boston.

All the windows and piazzas of the residences in the vicinity were crowded while the streets and open spaces surrounding the new church were packed with people. From the broad veranda of the parochial residence the exercises were viewed by a large party of well known women, who have been untiring workers in behalf of the new church.

The exercises were preceded by a parade, participated in by the A. O. H., several hundred of whom were in line under the marshalship of Michael McMullin; the fourth degree members of Lowell council, K. of C., who acted as escort; the little girls of the parish in white dresses; the male members of the parish attired in frock coats and tall hats; the altar boys, and priests escorting the bishop and Monsignor Edward Moriarty of Cambridge. The bishop wore a mitre and vestments of gold, while Monsignor Moriarty was gowned in the purple of his office, the priests wearing the conventional black cassocks and white surplices. The procession was headed by the Lowell Military band, William Regan leader. It passed through Chauncey and D streets to Stevens street, where the Hibernians formed open order allowing the clergymen to pass between them to the platform erected over the foundation from which the exercises took place. A choir of mixed voices from all the Catholic churches of the city was congregated on the platform in the rear of the clergymen. The parochial residence and the church grounds were tastefully decorated and Old Glory waved from the flagpole.

The following was the program:

Selection .....Lowell Military Band
Hymn ..... Choir
Veni Creator.....James E. Donnelly
Sermon..Rev. Patrick J. Supple, D. D.
Selection.....Lowell Military Band
Laying of Corner Stone.
Right Rev. Joseph G. Anderson
Address ....Right Rev. J. G. Anderson
Closing Ode. "Holy God. We Praise Thy Name"....By the Congregation

The band opened the exercises with the familiar strains of "Adeste Fidelis" and after the singing by the choir, Bishop Anderson proceeded to lay the corner stone. He was accompanied by Monsignor Moriarty, Rev. John Ryan, D. D. of Cambridge; Rev. James McCarthy of Boston, Rev. John J. Shaw of Lowell and Rev. W. George Mullin, acting pastor of St. Peter's church, as master of ceremonies.

In the corner stone were placed coins of today, lists of members of the city government, names of state chief executives, names of local Catholic clergymen, copies of Lowell and Boston daily papers and a brief history of the organization of the church.

Dr. Supple's Sermon

An eloquent sermon appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Rev. Patrick J. Supple, D. D., of Boston. His text was from Psalm 126: Unless the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it." Dr. Supple spoke in part as follows:

"We are laying today the corner stone which completes the foundation upon which will rise in stately grandeur your parish church to be dedicated to the worship of God under the patronage of the illustrious St. Margaret. It is fundamental work that we are accomplishing, for the foundation will give unity, security and stability to the building which rests upon it, and will serve as a permanent base. However resplendent the superstructure may be, it will constantly depend for its permanence upon the solidity of the foundation.

"But necessary as the foundation is to secure the coherent firmness of this material building, it assumes a much larger and deeper importance in what it signifies. For this corner stone binding together and completing the whole foundation, typifies the strength and solidity of the Catholic faith, in giving unity, security and stability to the intellectual, moral and spiritual life of a Catholic people.

"The firmness of the Catholic faith becomes remarkably striking in contrast with the religious condition in the world today. Outside the church, men are still searching for truth. What they hold regarding the origin of the world and the destiny of man, they hold tentatively, expecting further light to strengthen and amplify their conclusions. With them, truth is not a fixed reality, but avariable, to be set aside upon the discovery of further data. They cling to the idea that there is a continual progress in the development of religious truth, and the final goal of its complete possession is far off, if, indeed, it shall ever be reached.

"This pitiful condition of mind may be directly traced to the denial of the divinity of Jesus Christ. Refusing to believe that he is the Son of God who came into the world to teach men the truths of the heavenly kingdom, they set up in place of this divine oracle the fruitless searchings of their own minds. Refusing to regard him as other than mere man, they have lost the gift of divine faith, and they are floundering in the mazes of their own human speculations.

"What can they expect to accomplish? Their very lives are bounded by the limits of the world. We know when they were born and when they die. They have no experience of things outside this world. They have rejected Jesus Christ and His church, the divine teacher in the world. What, then can they tell us of the great hereafter, which, according to their principles, never falls under their experience? They are 'the blind leading the blind'

"How much more logical and firm the position of the Catholic believer. He believes in the truths of the God-head, in the ineffable and fruitful life of the Holy Trinity from all eternity, in the immortal destiny of man, and in that whole series of supernatural truths proclaimed by the church because Jesus Christ has revealed them. Here is no inconsistency, no contradiction. He believes that Christ is the God man. Whatever then, he has revealed concerning the life of God and the origin and destiny of man, is true, for he is the eternal witness of all.

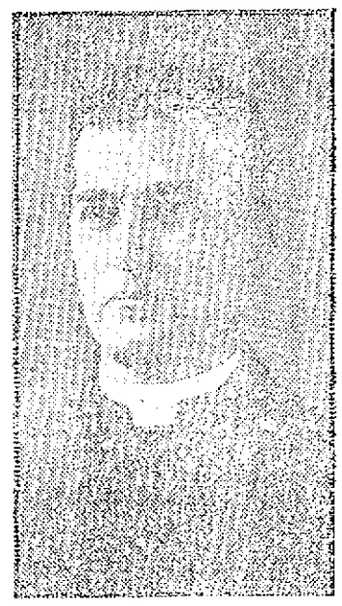
"With the Divinity of Jesus Christ for a foundation all else is secure. This fundamental truth gives firmness to the whole circle of truths which centers around it and rests upon it. It is the corner stone of your faith. Being the saviour of the human race who came into the world to teach men the truth, it is preposterous to suppose that Christ did not make some provision for the conservation and dissemination of the truth. To hold that he left it to the caprice of the human intellect is to disparage his wisdom, and practically to deny his divinity.

"That he did make such provision is patent to all who wish to see and who are not welded to some personal point of view. The records are open and the history of the world since his departure from the earth testifies to the existence among men of a church which he founded and which has endured by his divine assistance.

"We congratulate pastor and people upon the energy with which this work has been advanced, and we see in it a pledge of spiritual work in this place that will for many years to come be an inspiration to those who come here to worship."

Bishop Anderson made a brief congratulatory address. "I desire to express our appreciation of this demonstration in behalf of the church," said the bishop. "It is certainly a happy day for you and your pastor. You have convincingly demonstrated your faith and devotion to the Catholic church, and I may say that the city of Lowell has been conspicuous in its loyalty and in its progress in this diocese. Additional evidence of this will soon be found in the laying of another corner stone in a different part of the city. This splendid response is an indication of what you are about to do. I ask God's blessing on the work before St. Margaret's church."

REV. JOHN J. HARKINS, Pastor.



REV. W. G. MULLIN, Acting Pastor, St. Peter's Church.

Among the clergymen present in addition to those above mentioned were: The Rev. D. J. Heffernan, the Rev. T. S. Scholield, the Rev. John J. Burns, the Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I.; the Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., the Rev. Frances Mullin, Rev. Henry C. Reardon, Rev. Fr. Degan, Rev. James McCarthy, Rev. Timothy Mahoney, the Rev. Fr. Chirolinski.

John J. Pinder was chairman of the committee on arrangements, and George M. Harrigan chairman of the reception committee.

Fr. Harkins Present

While general regret was expressed at the inability of the Rev. Fr. Harkins to take part in the exercises, the parishioners had the satisfaction of knowing that the popular pastor was at least an eye-witness. Fr. Harkins insisted on leaving the hospital to be present, and with the understanding that he should not participate in the exercises he was permitted to come to Lowell and he viewed the laying of the corner stone from a window in the parochial residence.

The coins placed in the corner stone box were secured after considerable work by George M. Harrigan, president of the Lowell Trust Co. They all bear this year's date, and Mr. Harrigan was obliged to communicate with officials at the mint in Philadelphia and the treasury department at Washington before he secured the coins.

Card of Thanks

The following card of thanks is addressed to The Sun by Rev. John J. Harkins, writing from the Carney hospital in Boston:

The Rev. J. J. Harkins, pastor of St. Margaret's church, desires to thank very sincerely Rev. W. George Mullen, acting pastor of St. Peter's church, for his untiring efforts, in the entire arrangements of the very successful exercises connected with the corner stone laying of St. Margaret's church, Sunday. Fr. Harkins wishes to voice hereby not only his own personal gratitude, but that of his parishioners, to Fr. Mullen, to the A. O. H., the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, and all others who contributed their efforts on this occasion. To one and all he is deeply grateful.

(Signed) J. J. Harkins.

AT PICNIC OF THE FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH

The annual picnic of the First Trinitarian Congregational Sunday school was held at Willow Dale Saturday and the affair which was largely attended proved to be very enjoyable for the younger class as well as for the grown up people who were also in attendance.

Special cars conveyed the children to Lakeview, whence they were taken to the Dale on the steamer. There were games of all sorts on the grounds and at 1 o'clock a dainty dinner was served. The prizes were awarded as follows:

100 yards dash: Herbert H. Taylor; second, Alfred Booth; third, William B. Mochrie.

Young boys' 100 yards dash: First, Emery Dearth; second, Herschell Clough; third, Frederick Goodale.

Girls' race: First, Bessie Ranlett; second, Rita Taylor; third, Marion Clark.

Running broad jump: First, W. B. Mochrie; second, H. H. Taylor.

Pole vault: First, Rothwell Smith, and second, W. B. Mochrie.

An exciting ball game was later played between the Y. M. C. A. Indians of the Interurban league and the Sunday school team, the Indians winning out by a score of 17 to 6. The lineup of the teams was as follows: Indians: Snyder c, Smith p and lf, Monahan p and lf, Bennett 1b, Kerr 2b, Clark ss, Booth 3b, Cameron rf and McGrath and Taylor cg.

Sunday school team: Hazeltine p, Stanley c, Ramsay 1b, Cashin 2b, Upton ss, Bassham 3b, Monahan lf, Mochrie cf and Burke rf. Rev. Mr. Kennedy was the umpire and Dr. H. H. Sumner the score-keeper. The feature of the game was the batting of Bennett, who drove out two home runs and two singles.

Supper was served at 6 o'clock, and many of those who had gone to the Dale returned home on the special car at 7 o'clock. Mr. Joseph C. McGray had charge of the tickets and sports, and Nelson C. Hill of the lemonade and refreshments.

LUCKY PRIZE WINNERS

COLLINSVILLE MAN FELL FROM ELECTRIC CAR

Joseph Kennedy of Mill street, Collinsville, suffered a bad accident Saturday evening while returning from Candide Lake park. The man was sitting on the end seat of a car and when the car reached the Meadow road turnout, in some unaccountable manner Kennedy was pitched headlong on the ground and was badly cut and bruised about the head and face. He was removed to his home in an unconscious condition but today he is reported as resting comfortably.

PRESENTED A SILVER SET

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Miss Lillian Harrington of 90 Crawford street, when about 50 of her friends presented her a beautiful silver set. The presentation speech was delivered by Miss Ella Callahan. There were piano selections by Misses May Thistle and Katherine Wholey; songs by Messrs. Frank Cogger, Roy Dunfey, Dan Wholey and John Moynahan; readings by Miss Rita Murray and Mr. George Reynolds. Refreshments were served and the guests departed wishing the hostess many happy returns. Those in charge were the Misses Grace Reynolds, Esther Sekonborn, Katherine Cogger, Bertha Douglass and Ella Callahan.

BARROWS STILL LEADS

Lowell Captain Tops New England Batters

Some of the leading batters of the New England league found the going rather hard last week, although the avalanche of hits last Saturday helped some. Capt. Roland Barrows of the Lowell club is still the leading swatter, but with a reduced average. Those two games Saturday gave him just enough hits to keep him at the top. Pearson, the Lawrence pitcher, who led several weeks and fell back to second a week ago, is now fourth, having been passed by Joe Briggs of the same team and Burkett of Worcester, who is tied for second place with Briggs. Russell of Worcester is coming strong, jumping from 17th place to 6th in a week. Henriksen and Boardman of Brockton and Phoenix of Lawrence, showed great stickwork last week and are up with the leaders.

Of the 26 leading batters Lawrence has five, Brockton, Lowell and Worcester four each, Haverhill three and Lynn, New Bedford and Fall River two each.

CAPT. ROLAND BARROWS,
Leading Batter, New England League.

Moulton of Lowell is still leading in runs scored, having made the circuit 47 times, seven of which he made Saturday. Magee of the same team is second with 43 and Henriksen is third with 40.

Lonergan of Brockton has lost the lead in stolen bases to Carlstrom of Lawrence, who has 18, one more than the Brockton flyer. Courtney of Haverhill is third with 15.

Haas of Worcester leads in sacrifice hits with 14, having broken the triple tie with Carlstrom and Groh, the latter two having 12 each.

Ward of Brockton continues to lead the pitchers. Van Dyke lost two games last week and dropped from second to sixth. Harrington of Lynn is now second.

The averages of the 26 leading batters and 11 leading pitchers, including Saturday's games, are as follows:

WALTER JOHNSON

Seems to Be Losing His Speed

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Local baseball critics say that Walter Johnson, the star twirler of the Washington team, has changed his whole style of pitching, thus making strikeouts fewer. Formerly Johnson would not pitch more than two or three curve balls during a game when he was at his best. Now he is curving almost every other one, besides resorting to a change of pace frequently. But that speed with which the ball fairly hopped over the plate is sadly missing.

WHY THEY FAIL

MOST PILE REMEDIES MISS THE CAUSE OF PILES

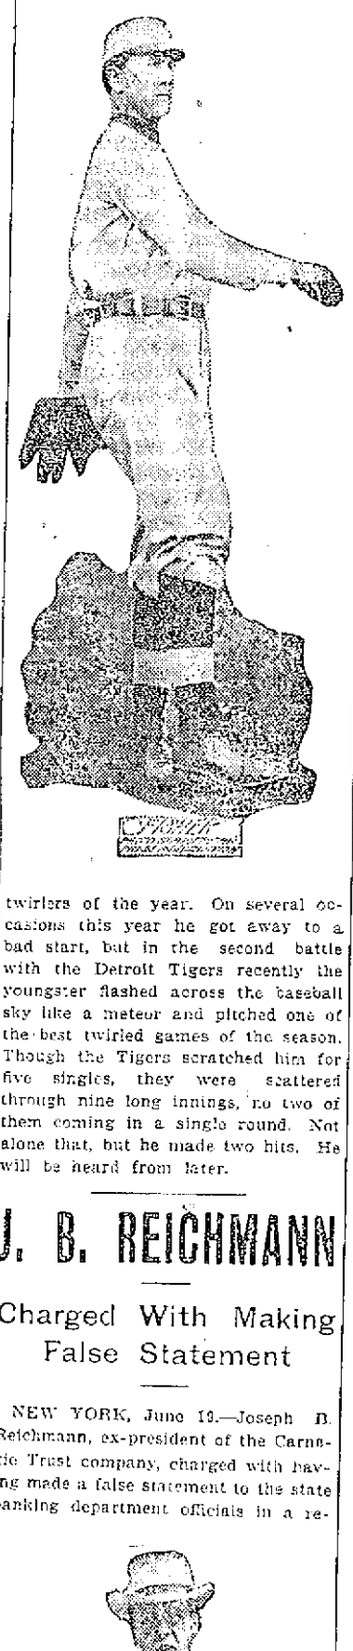
Disagreeable treatment with ointments or suppositories usually fails to cure piles and cutting them off won't remove the cause. Such treatment only moderates the outside effects of the disease and fails to remedy the inside cause. The up-to-date doctors now use internal medicine, to free the circulation in the lower bowel, and so remove the disease.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, the first and only guaranteed internal pile cure—in the form of tablets—cures any kind of piles. Sold by Carter & Sherburne Co., Lowell, Mass., and druggists everywhere. $1.00 for large box. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y.

YOUNG TWIRLER

Fisher May Be Find of Season

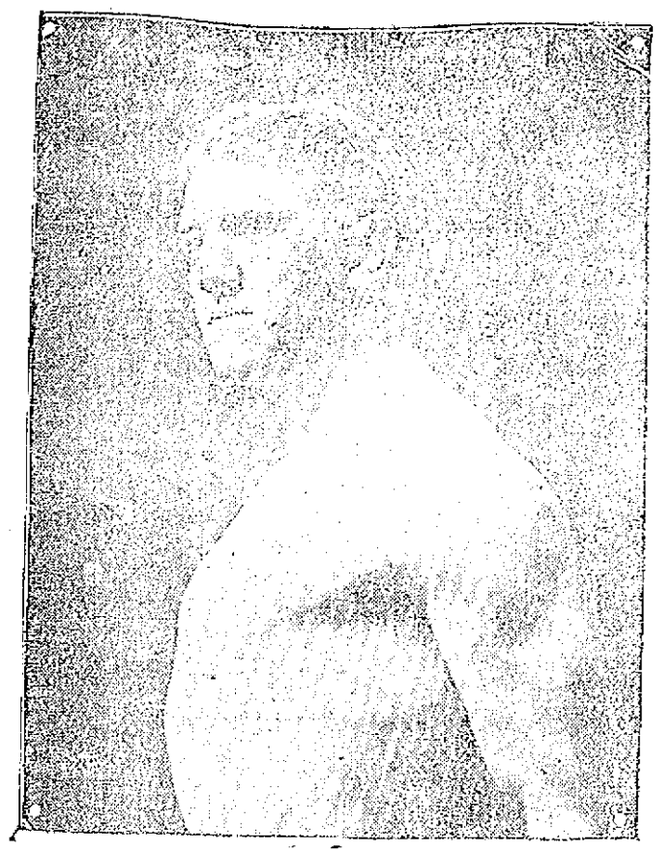
NEW YORK, June 19.—In figuring on the star twirlers this season the official scorer had better keep an eye out for Ray Fisher of the New York Americans. Early in the spring Manager Hal Chase predicted that Fisher would be one of the greatest young twirlers of the year. On several occasions this year he got away to a bad start, but in the second battle with the Detroit Tigers recently the youngster flashed across the baseball sky like a meteor and pitched one of the best twirled games of the season. Though the Tigers scratched him for five singles, they were scattered through nine long innings, no two of them coming in a single round. Not alone that, but he made two hits. He will be heard from later.



J. B. REICHMANN

Charged With Making False Statement

NEW YORK, June 19.—Joseph B. Reichmann, ex-president of the Carnegie Trust company, charged with having made a false statement to the state banking department officials in a report, is now on trial here. The offense is claimed to constitute perjury. Andrew Carnegie was examined by District Attorney Whitman regarding his alleged connection with people interested in the company before he sailed for Europe.



LOU ELLIS.

WRESTLING BOUT

A FINE PROGRAM TO PLEASE LOCAL FANS

Local fans will have a chance to witness one of the best matches of the season tomorrow night at the Hathaway theatre, when Lou Ellis, the southern champion, known as the mountain lion, undertakes to wrest the 170 lb. eastern championship from Jim Prokos, the local wrestler, whom Boston fans call the Terrible Greek. Both men are evenly matched in weight and it looks as though the Greek will have to go some if he expects to carry off the long green. If confidence counts for anything, Ellis will undoubtedly win as he says he will win two straight falls in jig time. The semi-final should be equally as good as the main bout. Wilfrid Barrette, the French middleweight champion, will meet Joe Turner, middle weight champion of America, who made his first appearance in this section on the mat in a fast match in Boston, last Friday. The papers spoke highly of his work.

GUESTS OF KING

Reach London for the Coronation

LONDON, June 19.—A score of King George's coronation guests, accompanied by their suites, reached London today and with as many more from foreign courts and states due to arrive this afternoon will complete practically the assemblage of foreign missions. John Hays Hammond, special United States ambassador, and his suite will be included in the late arrivals coming from Dover on a special train. The night-long work of the army of decorators served to enliven most of the streets in the center of London. Flags gave a gala appearance which the occasional rainstorms could not spoil. The decorations and illuminations are on a scale never before attempted in England and the demand for electric lighting is so great that the electrical companies have served public notice that their capacity to supply the current has been exhausted and that they cannot undertake further contracts.

THE BIGELOW CO

To Build Another Large Mill

The Bigelow Carpet company has made application for a permit to build another large mill in connection with and to add to its present plant. A permit for the foundation was issued about two years ago. The new building will be known as mill No. 17, and will be built along the Pawtucket canal between mills No. 16 and 18. It will be used as a dyehouse and will be of brick, steel and concrete construction. It will be 277 feet long and 46 feet wide. The mill will probably cost in the vicinity of $100,000.

AN AWFUL SLAUGHTER

Lowell Made 40 Runs and 42 Hits Off Haverhill

There were nearly 5000 enthusiastic baseball fans at Spalding park this afternoon to witness the double header between Lowell and Haverhill. It was the largest crowd that ever assembled on the field and people present enjoyed two record breaking games. Owing to the large attendance it was necessary to make ground rules.

The grandstand and bleachers were packed with people and those who were unable to secure seats sat on the grass in right and left field.

There was one mishap in the first inning when Reynolds of the visiting team while running for a fly near the right field foul flag, collided with one of the boys who sells peanuts, corn cakes, chewing gum, etc. Reynolds and the boy and the contents of the basket were all over the field as a result of the collision but neither Reynolds nor the boy was injured but the latter had to collecting his wares.

Lowell started off bad but Wolfgang pulled the team out of a hole. In the first half of the first inning three errors were made by Lowell allowing the visitors to score a run. Then Wolfgang struck three men out. In the latter half of the first the Lowell players hammered the life out of McIntire, by which, together with errors by the visitors, Lowell managed to score six runs.

James Bannon made his first appearance as an umpire and he was loudly applauded by the crowd when he started to operate his high-tenor voice.

Wolfgang and Huston made up the battery for Lowell while McIntyre and Milliman were on the points for the visitors.

The first game was called at two o'clock, the batting order of the teams being as follows:

Lowell	Haverhill
Moulton 2b	ss Aubrey
Barrows cf	cf Ganley
Cooney ss	lf Courtney
Magee lf	rf Reynolds
Fluharty rf	1b McGamwell
Wright 1b	3b Grubb
Boultes 3b	c Milliman
Huston c	2b Pfeffer
Wolfgang p	p McIntire

First Inning

Aubrey was the first man up and he struck out. Ganley, the Lowell boy, hit an easy grounder to Moulton, but the latter fumbled it and "Bob" reached first. Courtney struck out. Ganley stole second and went to third on Huston's bad throw. Reynolds singled to centre field, scoring Ganley. Reynolds then stole second. McGamwell hit to Cooney, who fumbled and "Mac" got on first, Reynolds going to third. McGamwell then purloined second, but Grubb fanned the breezes.

It was a regular batting carnival during the latter part of the first and after the smoke of battle had cleared away it was found that Lowell had scored six runs. Three were scored on a single which is rather unusual. Twelve men went to bat which is also unusual.

Moulton was the first man to grasp the willow and he fanned. Barrows singled over second. Cooney hit to Grubb, but died at first, Barrows going to second. Magee walked and Fluharty hunted along third base and the bases were filled. Wright was the next man up and after three balls and two strikes had been called he proved that he was right. As the ball was thrown the three men on bases started to run. Wright swatted the ball to deep centre field and before Ganley could recover the sphere the three men had scored. Boultes was hit by a pitched ball and walked to first. Huston singled to centre, scoring Wright. Wolfgang hit a grounder to Aubrey and Boultes scored on the fumble. Moulton singled to left and Huston scored. Barrows drew a base on balls, filling the bases again, but Cooney was third out on a fly to Courtney.

Second Inning

Neither side scored in the second. Milliman hit to Wolfgang and never had a look at first. Pfeffer hit the ball to Wolfgang but it took a bad bound and went over the latter's head and the runner was safe. McIntire flied to Barrows and Aubrey followed with a single to right, Pfeffer going to third b. Ganley struck out.

In the latter half of the inning Magee struck out and Fluharty hit to Pfeffer and died at first. Wright hit a line drive too hot for Grubb to handle and reached first. Boultes was hit by a pitched ball for the second time during the game and Huston closed the inning with a fly to Courtney.

Third Inning

In the first half of the third inning Courtney hit to Cooney and died at first and Reynolds was second out on a fly to Fluharty. McGamwell sent the sphere into right field for a single, but Grubb hit to Wolfgang and was out at first.

Four more for Lowell in the latter half of the third. Wolfgang hit a slow grounder to Grubb and beat the ball to first and Moulton followed with a single. Barrows advanced both men with a sacrifice. Cooney singled, scoring Wolfgang and Moulton. Magee singled to right and Cooney went to third. Magee then stole second and when Milliman made a bad throw to second to get Magee, Cooney came home. Fluharty flied to Reynolds and Magee scored on the putout. Wright hit to Grubb and was out at first.

Fourth Inning

In the fourth inning Milliman hit to Moulton, who made his second error and the runner got on first. Pfeffer hit to Boultes, forcing Milliman at second. McIntire fouled to Huston and Aubrey flied to Barrows.

In the latter half of the fourth the visitors made many changes in the positions of the players. McIntire, who had been hammered pretty hard, was sent to right field, and Aubrey, the shortstop, was sent in to pitch. McIntire went to right field and Reynolds went from right to left field. Courtney went from left to second base and Pfeffer went from second to shortstop.

Boultes opened Lowell's half with a free pass, but Huston hit to Aubrey and died at first. Milliman then caught Boultes off second. Wolfgang hit to the centre field fence for a three-bagger. Moulton hit along the first base line and was out.

Fifth Inning

Ganley started the fifth by flying to Boultes. Courtney singled, but when Reynolds sent the ball to Boultes the latter threw to second, getting Courtney, and Moulton sent the ball to first for a double play.

Barrows flied to McIntire, Cooney fouled to Grubb, Magee drew a free pass and Fluharty flied to Courtney.

Sixth Inning

McGamwell fanned the breezes and Grubb flied to Wright. Milliman hit the ball to Moulton and the latter made his third error. Pfeffer hit to Boultes forcing Milliman at second.

With two men out the home team jumped on Aubrey, the short stop-pitcher and slammed out six hits and scored six runs. Wright opened with a free pass and Boultes and Huston sent grounders to Courtney and were out at first. Wolfgang singled to left. Moulton then slammed the ball to centre for three bases and Wright and Wolfgang scored. Barrows singled and Moulton scored. Cooney singled. Magee hit to centre field and when the ball went through him Barrows, Cooney and Magee scored. Fluharty singled to centre and Wright hit to Pfeffer and was out at first.

Seventh Inning

McIntire hit to Boultes and died at first. Aubrey drew a base on balls, Ganley flied to Moulton and Courtney hit to Wolfgang and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Boultes flied to McIntire and Huston followed with a single. Wolfgang hit to Pfeffer and the latter threw to second and the ball was then sent to first for a double play.

Eighth Inning

Reynolds flied to Magee and McGamwell followed with a three bagger to right centre field. Grubb flied to Barrows, McGamwell scoring on the put out. Milliman was third out on a fly to Moulton.

was a farce. Fourteen men went to bat and ten runs were scored. It would be a shame to state how it happened, suffice to say that Lowell made three singles, one two bagger, two three baggers, two home runs and two men walked on free passes. The home runs, which were inside the grounds, were made by Barrows and Boultes and the three baggers were made by Cooney and Wolfgang.

Ninth Inning

Boultes went in to pitch in the ninth and Wolfgang went to third base. Pfeffer flied to Boultes and McIntire followed with a single. Aubrey hit to Cooney who threw to second getting Pfeffer and the ball was sent to first for a double.

THE SECOND GAME

After an intermission of 10 minutes the second game was started with the fans calling lustily for another victory. They got it for the home team were on their mettle and once more put two pitchers out of commission winning the second game by a score of 14 with 15 hits. While the second game was in progress the balloon passed over the field and it proved to be a good omen. Lowell played a sharp fielding game in the second as well as in the first a double play brought about by Boultes being the fielding feature. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES

No game today as the Boston Nationals play at Fall River.

Lowell plays away from home all week.

All pitchers looked alike to Lowell Saturday.

Believe me, the Red Sox in their palmiest day couldn't have beaten that Lowell team Saturday.

It was the biggest crowd of the season and they saw the biggest batting-fest in history. Twenty-seven hits with a total of 43 looks like a record to us.

It was not simply a case of clouting the ball for Lowell played sharply in the field if several errors were recorded against them.

Three runs on a single to centre field was one of the remarkable features of Saturday's first game and it is a stunt that will go down in history. Cooney on third, Magee on second, and Flu on first, with Wright at the bat and two gone. The pitcher got three balls and two strikes on Wright and as the next ball was delivered all three base runners started at top speed for the bases ahead of them. Wright responded with a pretty single across second to Ganley at centre and before the ball was returned Flu had crossed the plate. That's some base running. Scientific base running, as Rad Graham would remark.

What do you know about Jonesey, old boy, the chunky little outfielder from Millinocket, Me., signing up with the Boston Nationals? Jones played centre for a time with Lowell last season but wasn't fast enough to keep company with Magee and Fluharty. "Wait till he gets going" was the cry of his admirers. But Jonesey failed to get going and got canned instead. But Jonesey wasn't discouraged for he went to Portsmouth in Ohio state league and batted for .309 and now he's in the big league. Hooray for Jonesey! Here's hoping he makes good.

In the eighth inning of the second game Maybohm and Cooney pulled off a spectacular fielding play. Reynolds hit a sizzler that bounded high over Maybohm's head. The latter jumped and cracked it with his glove hand deflecting its course and sending it over Cooney's head. The latter on the dead run jumped and got it on the fly and snapped the ball to first in time to get Reynolds, and Ginger is some base runner at that.

Wolfgang was there several ways. He not only pitched finely but he got in two three suckers and two singles. Once the threes would have been a homer only Wolf couldn't believe the coacher when he told him to keep going and he turned a moment to have a look at the outfielders chasing the sphere and the pause was fatal. But it's all right. Any pitcher who makes four hits along with twirling successfully can stay with the club until the snow flies.

Perhaps that wasn't a classy double play that Jake Boultes pulled off in the fifth inning of the second game! With McCleary on third and Aubrey on second, Courtney hit to Boultes, who gathered in the ball and threw it to home, getting McCleary. Courtney starts for second on a delayed steal to draw a throw. Huston ran out on the field to hold Aubrey on third and get Courtney, and as Courtney got near second Harry whipped the ball to Moulton at second. Then Aubrey beat it down the line for home with Huston out in the middle of the field, but Boultes was on the job and running to home got the ball on the dead run in time to tag Aubrey as he was coming in at the plate.

Jimmie Bannon made his first appearance on the local grounds and there was no chance for a kick at his work.

Bob Ganley received a warm welcome from the crowd.

The fans will have an opportunity to chew over Saturday's slaughter for a week as there will be no home games.

The ball player who hits the "Bull" gets $50, while the fan who hits the "Bull Durham" base ball guide gets $50 worth of information on the game and its players. The Bull Durham guide is now out and is published by the Base Ball Publishing Co of Park Square, Boston. It's the most complete book of its kind ever published.

Praise from Sir Hubert is praise, indeed! Listen to what Tim Murnane says in the Boston Globe:

Last Thursday I witnessed a game from the bleachers on the Lowell grounds. I was a few minutes late, and when nearing the park I heard a great cheer go up. I later learned that it came from the spectators, who were giving Umpire Walsh a welcome as he walked on the field.

Lowell had Fall River as an opponent and the game was well played. The umpire had a number of close decisions and yet there was not a word of protest from the spectators or the players. Both managers sat on the bench with their boys, and the game was played in a most scientific manner.

For all-around work and as possible timber for the big league, I liked Outfielder Barrows. Other players on both teams looked good, and the best of it was they were evenly matched.

Baseball is in a flourishing condition in Lowell, and several clever players have made their home there after giving up the business. This is a good sign, showing the innate love the best people have for the men who made the game popular on the field.

I failed to inquire if the local veterans were holders of complimentary season tickets. I took it for granted that they were.

THE ZIONS WON

Defeated the Strong Andover Team

The Zions beat the strong Andover cricket team on the home grounds on Saturday, June 17th, in an exceedingly well played game. "Bob" Birtwistle was star batter of the day, scoring 35 runs. Fred Chapman bowled very well indeed for the Zions, taking 7 wickets for 14 runs, while "Bill" Croft, the other Zion bowler, took 3 wickets for 20 runs. The game was a very good one to watch and was witnessed by a good crowd of sportsmen very much interested in cricket, who enjoyed the game very much. D. Stewart bowled well for the Andovers, taking 5 wickets for 35 runs, though not in it with Fred Chapman's bowling, but very good bowling. The following is a summary of the game:

CARBONOL
Cleans Everything

CARBONOL is a coal tar extract. It cleans better than soap. Put a spoonful in a bucket of water, and it will kill germs of decay, dissolve grease, kill smells, especially musty odors in old houses, and make the home healthier. Use it in cleaning the sick room. Keep flies away by sprinkling the garbage with it. It dissolves grease in waste pipes; removes stains; disinfects wounds and sores. Kills bacteria anywhere. 10c and 25c a bottle.

The virtues of those Indian remedies were quite strikingly shown upon the death of the late Mrs. Ole Bull. When people of wealth place themselves in the hands of such spook fakers they may know what to expect.

The Fall River Herald is to be congratulated on the splendid industrial edition it has issued in honor of the Cotton Centennial celebration now in progress in Fall River. It is a great boom for the city and a great feat for The Herald.

On September 26 the people of this state will have the first opportunity to test the direct nomination law that applies to all officers. There is plenty of time to educate the voters to the importance of attending the primaries on that date and voting for the best men on the respective tickets.

Premier Laurier of Canada is winning some important points at the conference of premiers in London. He has just had ratified an agreement by which foreign powers will be negotiated with to permit any colony to withdraw from a commercial treaty without abrogating the treaty so far as the other colonies are concerned.

The Boston school board should arrange to grant an increase to the elementary teachers and thus save the reputation of Boston and at the same time the principle of home rule. The whole world knows now that they are poorly paid and that by a single vote the legislature was prevented from making the increase compulsory.

Cuban gratitude to the United States for our helping the people to complete independence does not extend to the abandonment of the mother tongue, the adopting of English and eventually the loss of their national character as a people. Indeed they seem to be jealous of the United States, evidently fearing annexation in case of disturbance.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION WORK

The society for the extension of university teaching has issued a prospectus for the coming year and a report of its last year's work, showing that it has steadily extended the scope of its influence. Any number of people in any city who get together and agree to apply to this society for a course of lectures by college professors upon any subject the applicants may select, can have those lectures if they pay the moderate fee and provide the hall, warmed and lighted, together with a sufficient number of students to make the lecture worth while. This affords a means by which adults may continue their education through life in a variety of branches at a nominal expense.

WHO'S HEAD OF OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT?

Under our present charter and ordinances not even the city solicitor can tell who is head of the fire department. Within the past few weeks we have had the spectacle of the committee on fire department investigating one of the fire houses on certain charges and recommending that the captain be transferred and reduced to the ranks. So far as can be learned the superintendent of the fire department will refuse to carry out the recommendations of the committee and may decide also to take no action in the matter.

Here we have an instance of the need of fixing responsibility for the right management of a municipal department, so that if anything goes wrong the people may know to whom they should look for a remedy. It is quite likely that this state of affairs will not be set right until we have a new charter which will leave no mistake as to who is responsible for the management of each and every department. It is understood, of course, that power must go with responsibility, for no official can justly be held responsible for conditions unless she has power to change them.

TO REGULATE PUBLIC UTILITIES

Considerable interest centres in the meeting of the national committee of the American Civic Federation in New York this week for the specific purpose of framing a law for the regulation of railroads and other public utilities. This committee appointed by Seth Low is composed of practical men who are well able to deal with this difficult problem. For some time past there has been an effort by many states and also by the federal government to bring the great combinations of capital under definite control so as to restrain their action and prevent them encroaching upon the rights of the people. Ever since the days of Mark Hanna these combinations have in various ways been overriding the rights of the individual; but the government has called a halt and the trusts and the railroads are to be so regulated that they will no longer be able to fix prices of commodities and thus reduce the purchasing power of the dollar as much as they please. Already something has been done to curb their power, and a variety of laws has been framed by various states with this end in view. To draft a model law for this purpose is the aim of the meeting in New York, and the outcome will be watched with interest.

The task in hand is one surrounded with a great many legal and other difficulties, one that has already taxed the skill of the ablest lawyers; but the time is ripe for a remedy, and it is bound to come. The Civic Federation may point the way to a solution of the problem and thus hasten the day when the stability of business and the welfare of the individual will be equally protected.

LET ME LEAN ON YOU, UNCLE SAM

SEEN AND HEARD

"Is this York Springs water, Mary?"
"Yes, sir."
"Has it been chlorined?"
"Yes, sir."
"Boiled?"
"Yes."
"Filtered?"
"Yes, sir."
"Well—bring me a bottle of lager."

THE SURVIVAL OF THE UNFIT

'Tis the cracked and noiseless pitcher
That survives the hardest knocks;
'Tis the gown that least becomes us
That outwears our favorite frocks.
'Tis the broken ribbed umbrella
That contronts us, rainy days.
While our own, pearl-handled treasure
In some other hall-rack stays.

'Tis the coarse and common fabric
Goes unscathed through suds and dust.
While our best and finest linen
Gets the coffee-stains and rust.
'Tis the weed that's most obnoxious
That is left to spread and grow,
While the slips we dearly cherish
Fall a victim to the hoe.

'Tis the battle scarred old Thomas,
Who spits and growls and bites,
Who stays with us from year to year,
And murders sleep o' nights,
While frolicsome young Tabby,
With temper sweet and mild,
Becomes the prey of vandal boys,
Or is by thief beguiled.

'Tis the friend our heart most longed for
Who can just a minute stay,
While the family aversion
Comes prepared to spend the day.
Thus, numberless examples
Do not prove one little bit
The correctness of that saying—
"The survival of the fit."

SOME HATCHING

Si Stebbins bought a setting hen,
The best he ever got.
He set it on a door-knob
And it hatched a house and lot.

Josh Browster bought a setting hen.
And now he's in a quandary.
He set it on a Chinese egg
And it hatched out a laundry.
Bill Sprucely bought a setting hen,
And, much against his wishes,
It, too, sat on a china egg
But hatched out a set of dishes.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed in St. John's church yesterday morning. Two masses were celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield. At each mass an instructive sermon on the gospel of the day was preached by Fr. Schofield. There was special singing by the boys of the Training school at the communion and at the close of the mass. A procession in honor of the blessed sacrament was held around the church and the priest and altar boys took part.

A triduum in honor of the Sacred Heart will open Wednesday evening at 7.30 and close Friday evening at the same hour.

The various committees in charge of the picnic are hustling, and Fr. Schofield asked the people yesterday to give Fr. Doherty their best support to make this affair the best ever conducted in the history of the parish.

Announcement was also made to the parishioners of St. John's about the splendid success Fr. Schofield has achieved in the completion of the church in Graniteville. Special mention was made of the check of $1060 he received from Messrs. Cameron and Abbott, the manufacturers in Forge Village and Graniteville.

HOW TO GET RID OF PIMPLES

It is truly remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently helped in a week, and sometimes even sooner. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off, leaving the skin as soft and smooth as a baby's. Pimples are a disease of the skin and are not caused by bad blood, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these annoying and disfiguring facial blemishes because it can be applied direct to the trouble, and its soothing, antiseptic and healing powers stop the itching at once. Cadum is equally good for rash, blotches, scaly skin, chafings, eczema, sores, eruptions, acne, psoriasis, etc. 10c and 25c per box at all druggists.

The Purest Petroleum Jelly Is VASELINE

Don't confuse it with nameless petrolatums.

Made by a special process of extra filtration, VASELINE is absolutely pure and safe. On bottle, box or tube, the name "VASELINE" is your protection.

MANY KINDS—MANY USES.
You Should Know Them All

Efficient remedies for common ills are found in these 12 Vaseline specialties:

Capsicum Vaseline	Vaseline Cold Cream
Menthotated Vaseline	Vaseline Balm of Flax
Carbolated Vaseline	Borated Vaseline
Vaseline Camphorated Cream	White Vaseline
Perfumed White Vaseline	Camphorated Vaseline
Vaseline Camp for Ice	Pomade Vaseline

These remedies are simple, safe and efficient, and an assortment of them forms an ideal home medicine chest for the treatment of all the little ailments prevalent in every family.

Physicians and nurses recommend the use of VASELINE in the sanitary tin tubes.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Alfred Waterhouse and Miss Fabiola Lefebvre was solemnized this morning at St. Jean Baptiste church. The ceremony took place at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Berneche, O. M. I. The young couple were attended by Messrs. L. J. Z. Robillard and M. Dion. After the ceremony the party repaired to the home of the groom's parents in Willard street, Dracut, where a dainty breakfast was served, followed by a reception. Among the guests present were friends from Boston and other cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. They will leave tomorrow morning for a short honeymoon trip to New York. After their return they will make their home with the groom's parents in Willard street.

LATOUR—MARCHAND

Mr. Ernest Latour and Miss Marie Rose Marchand were united in marriage this morning, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Fr. Danizot, O. M. I., D. D., at a nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory. The witnesses were Messrs. Pierre Latour and Ephrem Marchand. The young couple left on a wedding trip immediately after the mass.

LUSSIER—McDONALD

A pretty wedding took place this morning, when Mr. Theodore Lussier and Miss Adrienne McDonald were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at St. Louis' church at 6 o'clock by Rev. J. N. Jacques. The witnesses were Rosario Lussier and Ferdinand Lussier. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Lussier, 88 Lilley avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Lussier left on the 10 o'clock train for Brockton, where they will spend a short honeymoon. After their return they will make their home at 88 Lilley avenue.

A Suggestion for Outings

When you pack your bags and baskets remember it may not be all fun. Sunburn, brown tail poison, mosquito bites, poison ivy—are all things that may spoil a lot of your pleasure if you don't protect yourself against them. A small bottle of Tollotine will save you lots of discomfort from these things. Get it at our druggist's and always take it along when you are going away from home. It soothes inflamed parts and heals cuts, sores and wounds. It is entirely harmless and can be used freely and safely at all times.

PATRIARCHS MILITANT

Well Pleased With Their Reception in This City

The visiting Patriarchs Militant who were in town Saturday as the guests of Canton Pawtucket, I. O. O. F., were delighted with the way they were received by their fellow brethren of Lowell.

They also made a very good showing for the procession was one of the prettiest of its kind ever held in this city. An ideal afternoon was spent at Willow Dale and it was late in the evening when the return trip was made.

Charles J. Morse, the efficient chairman of the committee of arrangements, may well feel proud of the Department Council meeting and the parade.

Comrades John S. Dennett and Erwin A. Wilson had a joy ride to Willow Dale and Chevaliers Holt, John S. Dennett and Erwin A. Wilson were the great stalwarts in the "line up" of Canton Pawtucket.

Much regret was expressed at the absence of Col. John C. Bennett. He was much sought for by his friend, Major A. W. Rose of Manchester, N. H.

Then there were Past Department Commanders "Steve" Welch of Lynn, A. E. Bliss of Malden, and Department Commanders H. B. Farrington of Manchester, who is now serving his fourth term in that office, all leaders in the Patriarchs Militant branch of the order.

W. D. McFee of Haverhill is a hustling colonel and is much respected by the chevaliers who compose his staff.

Mr. Charles A. Roberts, artist of The Sun, was introduced to many of the prominent officials of the order at Willow Dale.

Past Department Commander Frank M. Merrill was "Johnny on the spot" in looking out for the welfare of the department and past department commanders during the council meeting and the entire day.

Night Editor William J. Welpley of the Brockton Times was a visitor and came with Canton Nemasket, also of Brockton.

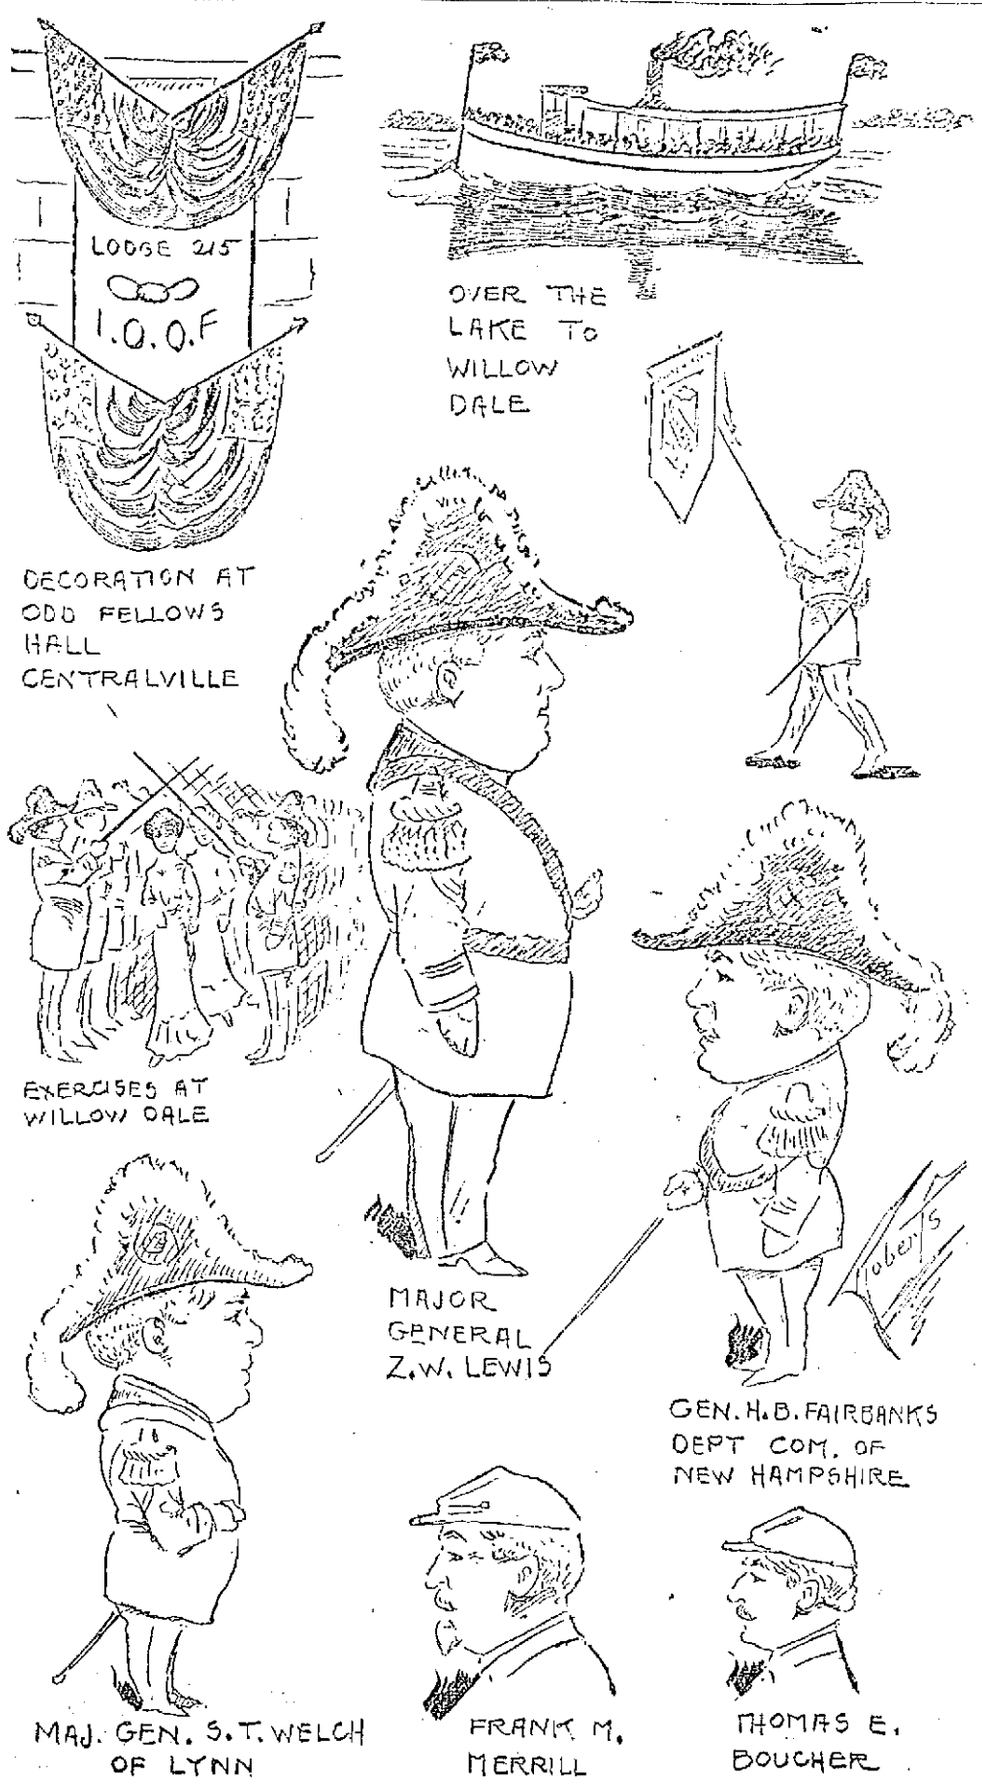
Lieut. Frank H. Gunther of the local canton had an auto at the service of all committees, thereby expediting all matters pertaining to the council meeting.

Among the visiting brethren were many members of the B. P. O. E. They were cared for by members of Lowell lodge, who were on the several committees of Canton Pawtucket. Col. McFee is esteemed lecturing knight of Haverhill lodge, and Department Commander Zenas W. Lewis a member of Brockton lodge. They were recognized during the parade and loudly cheered.

Assistant Adjt. General R. E. Brayton makes an efficient clerk for Department Commander Z. W. Lewis.

"Tom" Boucher is favorably known throughout the state among the fraternity of the Patriarchs Militant and he is greatly appreciated by newspaper men as the man who has the facts at his finger tips.

It was a merry procession that "hiked" by the roadway to the Dale with inspiring music from the band, "Lou" Weiler, leader.



SKETCHES ON PATRIARCH'S MILITANT FIELD DAY

KNIGHTS OF EQUITY

HELD A GRAND OUTING AT JUNIPER PARK

The Lawrence and Lowell Courts of the Knights of Equity held their annual joint outing at Juniper park, Lawrence, yesterday. It was an all day affair, the two courts going up in the morning and staying till night fell. About 300 in all were present. Three special cars were used to convey the Lowell Knights to the scene of the affair.

An elaborate banquet that tickled the palates of all those present was prepared by Caterer Finn and each and every one did full justice to it.

The afternoon was given over to sports and besides a ball game between teams from the courts of each city a long list of track games was run off. Lawrence, with Tommy Jordan and Joe Shine in the points won out over the Spindle City boys by a score of 5 to 4. "Nixey" Corcoran, an old New England leaguer, did the twirling for Lowell. The summary of the track sports:

100-Yard Dash—Won by Woods, Lawrence; Andrew Minahan, Lawrence, second.

Shoe race, won by Thomas Terlihy Lawrence; Patrick Fitzpatrick, Lawrence, second.

Shot Put—Won by James Clancy, Lowell; Simon Dean, Lowell, second.

75-Yard Dash (for married men)—Won by Thomas Jordan, Lawrence; John O'Neil, Lawrence, second.

Potato Race—Won by William Kelley, Lowell; Henry O'Brien, Lawrence, second.

Hop, Step and Jump—Won by Michael Mahoney, Lowell; Dr. Edward Lynch, Lawrence, second.

75-Yard Race (for fat men)—Won by John O'Neil, Lowell; James Clancy, Lowell, second.

Backward Race—Won by John Shea, Lawrence; Joseph Shine, Lawrence, second.

Three Legged Race—Won by Woods and Toye, Lowell; Lynch and Minahan, Lawrence, second.

56-Pound Weight—Won by Dean, Lowell; Clancy, Lowell, second.

Irish Jig and Hornpipe—Won by Patrick Galvin, Lawrence; Andrew Herlihy, Lawrence, second.

SUPT. WHITCOMB

RECEIVES LITERATURE ABOUT SIMPLIFIED SPELLING

Arthur K. Whitcomb, superintendent of schools, is in receipt of three or four cart loads of literature from the Simplified Speling Board of New York, and Mr. Whitcomb rather allows that the board would simplify matters for him if it would but keep its literature at home. Mr. Whitcomb is not adverse to simplified spelling, and he is a pretty good speller, too, but he hasn't room for more than three tons of literature on the one subject at one time. Mr. Whitcomb, like a good many others, sympathizes with the fellow who is a little off on spelling and if the simplified method will help a weaker soul along, he would like to see it adopted. One of the circulars received by Mr. Whitcomb says that the simplified method is going to come just as sure as little apples. The circular says: "It is time to act. The time is propitious. The simplified spelling movement is steadily growing purblind support. Knowledge and reason will win against ignorance and prejudis."

SENT TO PRISON

MEN CONVICTED OF CONSPIRING TO SMUGGLE CHINESE

BOSTON, June 19.—Two years' imprisonment at Greenfield and 18 months at Barnstable were the respective sentences imposed today upon Goodman Phillips of Boston and George Gardinier of Wellfleet, convicted of conspiring to smuggle Chinese into this country from Jamaica.

Dr. Moy of New York and Captain C. Daley of Somerville, who were tried at the same time, were acquitted.

IMPOSING SERVICES

In Honor of Corpus Christi Held in Catholic Churches Yesterday

Yesterday the solemnity of the feast of Corpus Christi was observed in all the Catholic churches in Lowell with solemn processions of the Blessed Sacrament, most of the churches holding impressive exercises in the open air and through the streets, each feature having its own significance well understood by most Catholics.

At St. Patrick's

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed at St. Patrick's church yesterday with time-honored solemnity, for at St. Patrick's an elaborate outdoor procession has been in vogue for over a generation, and yesterday's beautiful event was thoroughly in keeping with the magnificence of its long list of predecessors.

The exercises opened in the church at 2 o'clock, when the marching societies were assembled in reserved seats. Vespers were sung, concluding with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Rev. Joseph Currin, assisted by Rev. John J. McHugh deacon, Rev. Timothy Callahan subdeacon, and Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., master of ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the church services, the procession formed, headed by the Lowell Cadet band, John J. Gillin, leader.

The procession was headed by the pastor, Rev. William O'Brien, followed by Daniel Powers as censer bearer, and Edward O'Neil as cross bearer. The attendants to the latter were Daniel Daly and John Burt. The girls followed the Boys' Infant Jesus sodality and the members of the Girls' Infant Jesus sodality.

The boys and girls who recently made their first communion followed, and after them came the members of the Sacred Heart sodality. The pupils of the parochial school came next and after them the members of the Children of Mary sodality. The members of the Immaculate Conception sodality followed, preceding the members of St. Cecilia's choir. The sanctuary choir came next and then the flower girls. The sacred host, carried by Rev. Joseph Currin, was attended by Rev. John J. McHugh and Rev. Timothy P. Callahan. The canopy was carried by Hon. John F. Meehan, Brother Osmond, John J. Sullivan and John McCarthy. The acolytes were Edward Flannery and Michael Doherty and the thurifers James King and Michael Coyle while the lanterns were carried by E. Dean, P. Gill, F. Kelley, John Bardon, John O'Brien and Edward Keleher. The incense bearers were R. Campbell and G. Tobin, while the master of ceremonies was Bernard O'Reilly and his assistant, Edward Nelligan. The members of the Holy Name society acted as a guard of honor.

With the band playing "Graces from My Jesus Flowing," the chimes alternating with the band in playing the familiar hymn, the procession moved slowly to the grotto in the academy garden, where a flower-bedecked temporary altar had been erected. Here benediction was given by Fr. Curtin, the church, sanctuary and academy choirs singing "Pange Lingua" and "Tantum Ergo" as the procession moved along. Thence the procession emerged through the garden gate into Fenwick street to Suffolk and into the church yard, where at the monument a temporary altar also beautifully adorned was erected. Here also benediction was given, after which the marching societies re-entered the church where the service was concluded. Several thousand people assembled in Fenwick and Suffolk streets and in the church yard kneeling in the streets as the Blessed Sacrament passed. The scene was most impressive throughout. The parochial residence and St. Patrick's Home were tastefully decorated in the national and papal colors, while lighted candles lined all the windows in the two buildings.

Immaculate Conception

The Corpus Christi services at the Immaculate Conception church were held in the beautiful Columbus park in front of the church and were most elaborate. Hundreds thronged the vicinity of the church during the procession, which was held in the evening at 6.30 o'clock.

In the line were the young communicants, the Children of Mary and the Immaculate Conception sodality. The O. M. I. Cadets appeared as a guard of honor, and the Holy Name society was in charge of the park. The scene presented was one of rare beauty. During the procession the hymn "Pange Lingua" was sung. Benediction in the church closed the service.

At the 7.30 mass, the children who recently received their first communion were again at the altar. They were dressed in their communion suits, with veils and ribbons.

At the solemn mass at 11 o'clock Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., was the celebrant, assisted by Drs. Sullivan and McQuaid, O. M. I., deacons. The blessed sacrament was exposed throughout the ceremony and benediction was given at the close. The choir sang Rinsel's mass, and at the offertory Rossino's "O Salutaris."

At Sacred Heart

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed at the Sacred Heart church yesterday with beautiful ceremonies. At 10.30 o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated. Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., was celebrant, Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I., deacon, and Rev. James McDermott, O. M. I., subdeacon. James Mahan was master of ceremonies. Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., occupied a seat in the sanctuary and also preached the sermon. The altar and sanctuary were beautifully decorated for the occasion. During the mass the choirs alternated in singing the responses, the solos being sustained by Miss Katherine Hickey and Messrs. Henry Curry and William Finley. John Kelly presided at the organ.

At the close of mass a procession, headed by Rev. Fr. McDermott as cross bearer, with the altar boys, members of the sanctuary choir and the officers of the mass, marched through the aisles of the church, singing appropriate hymns. The blessed sacrament was carried by Rev. Fr. Flynn.

After the procession, solemn benediction of the blessed sacrament was given.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock services were held in the church, and there was a procession, vespers and solemn benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Next Friday at the church the beautiful service of the forty hours' devotion will begin at the 9 o'clock mass. The sacrament will remain exposed until Sunday, when the service will come to a close with solemn high mass at 10.30 o'clock.

St. Peter's Church

The Corpus Christi procession at St. Peter's church was held at the conclusion of the high mass and was confined to the aisles of the church, being participated in by the Children of Mary society, the sanctuary choir and altar boys. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Fr. Heffernan and the sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. O'Brien. The procession was in charge of Rev. W. George Mullin.

The formation of the parade was as follows:

Chaplee Banner—Marietta Markham; lilies, Mary Kenney, Josephine Flanagan, 30 children with veils and lavender sashes, carrying small bouquets, lamb, Elizabeth Joyce; floral emblems, I. H. S., Sally Flanagan, Molly Whelan, Catherine Cryan.

Children of Mary Banner—Ritt Nawn 41 children with veils and blue sashes, carrying large bouquets; wheat, Ruth Kirby; grapes, Mary Corbett, lilies, Lena Sharkey.

Sacred Heart Banner—Jennie Frawley, 10 children with veils and red sashes, carrying cycas palms; lantern bearers, Anna Rogers, Catherine McCann.

Sanctuary Surpliced choir, led by Rev. John J. Burns; acolytes in cassocks and surplices; officiating clergymen; cross bearer, James Markham.

The blessed sacrament was borne through the church by Fr. Heffernan, the canopy being supported by Messrs. Michael Corbett, James Gorman, Roderick Quirbach and Thomas Ginty.

St. Michael's

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed in a fitting manner at St. Michael's church yesterday. Rev. Fr. Shaw, pastor of the parish, officiated at high mass, and the choir, under the direction of Mr. James A. Murphy rendered St. Cecilia's mass, Miss Carolyn White presiding at the organ.

Immediately after the service a procession of the blessed sacrament was held around the interior of the church. This was followed with solemn benediction.

At St. Anthony's

Two festivals, the feasts of Corpus Christi and of St. Anthony, were celebrated at St. Anthony's church yesterday. The church was prettily decorated, and the services were beautiful and impressive. A large number of boys and girls were given their first communion, and Rev. Fr. Percot officiated at the high mass. The choir, under the direction of Miss Lulu Ginty, gave a special musical program with Mrs. Harriette Sheehan, Mrs. Annie Wilkins, James Haley and Manuel Sousa as the soloists. In the evening at the vespers Rev. Fr. Percot officiated, and the children who had received their first communion were enrolled into the Sodality of St. Anthony. Then followed a procession of the members of the sodality, the boys and the sanctuary choir, the children singing hymns in honor of St. Anthony, whose statue was carried through the aisles of the church. The festival closed with the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

DROWNING ACCIDENTS

Four Persons Lost Their Lives in New England Waters

Four deaths by drowning were reported yesterday in New England.

William Smith of Portland, Me., fell from his motor boat on the Kennebec river late Saturday; John Le Favre of Wakefield was drowned when the home-made boat he was in capsized on Lake Quannapowitt; Miss Jennie Farrell of Boston was attacked by heart failure while bathing in Lake Spofford at Keene, N. H., and drowned before help could reach her; Joseph Ozulaz, a three-year-old child, crawled through the fence and drowned in the Spickett river at Lawrence.

DROWNED IN COVE

BOSTON, June 19.—John D. LeFavre, 32 years old, of 1 Beacon street, Wakefield, was drowned in a cove of Lake Quannapowitt, Wakefield, when a home-made dory which he was sailing with John Harvey of East Boston capsized at 3.40 yesterday afternoon.

After ineffectual attempts to rescue LeFavre, Harvey swam to shore. Harvey told friends the men had been rocking the boat, but went away before the Wakefield police arrived to get further particulars.

LeFavre was married and had six children, ranging from 10 years to 15 months old. He was employed at Locke's Regulator factory.

FALLS OFF BOAT

RICHMOND, Me., June 19.—The drowning of William Smith of Augusta, who fell from the stern of his motorboat while off Swan Island in the Kennebec river late Saturday night, was reported to the police yesterday, and an unsuccessful search for the body followed.

Smith and a younger brother had run down from Augusta during the afternoon and were preparing to return, when a sudden eddy struck the craft, causing the older man to lose his balance and plunge overboard.

The younger man was not an adept at managing the boat, and before he could bring it around and return to the spot where his brother went down, the latter had drowned.

After spending some time cruising around the place in the hope of recovering the body, young Smith headed for Augusta, where he arrived after midnight. Yesterday with relatives he returned here and reported the drowning. Smith was 35 years of age, and is survived by a widow and two children.

OFFICER SAVES MAN

BOSTON, June 19.—Officer Birmingham of the Metropolitan park police, yesterday afternoon rescued a young man from the bottom of an overturned canoe on the Charles river. The canoe containing two young men was upset near Norumbega park, one of the young men swimming to the shore a distance of about 20 feet, while the other being unable to swim clung to the bottom of the canoe until the arrival of the officer.

The young man was taken in the officer's boat to the metropolitan park station where his clothes were dried and he was able to return to his home.

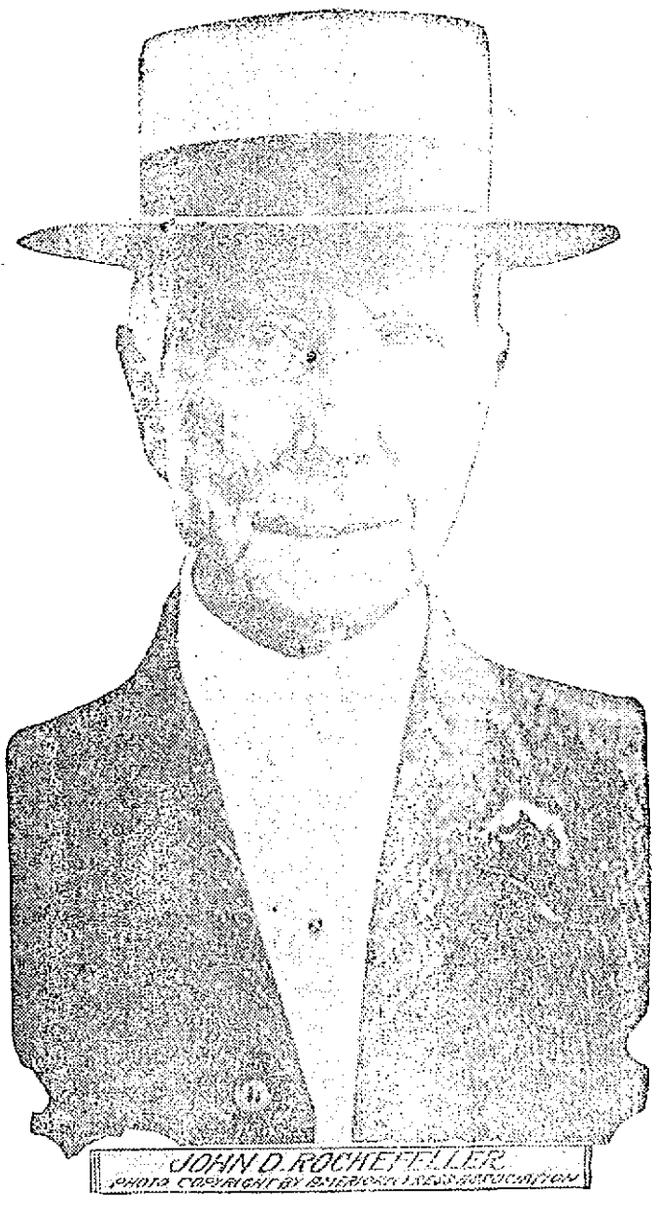
Only one other upset occurred during the day with the many thousand canoeists on the river. Near the Stone house a canoe containing a young man was upset but he walked to shore.

SUCCUMBS TO HEART FAILURE

KEENE, N. H., June 19.—Heart failure came upon Miss Jennie Farrell of Boston, 25 years old, while she was swimming in Spofford Lake yesterday, and the young woman was drowned. She was a domestic employed by Colonel W. B. Porter of this city, and was swimming near the Porter cottage on the lake shore. Her friends say she was a strong swimmer. She was drowned in 18 feet of water.

CHILD DROWNED

LAWRENCE, June 18.—Crawling through a gap in the fence on the banks of the Spickett River yesterday, Joseph Ozulaz, aged three years, fell into the stream and was drowned. The child was the son of a Polish mill operative. Nobody saw him fall in, and the finding of the body floating on the water was the first known of the accident.



HOW AMERICA'S WEALTHIEST MAN, J. D. ROCKEFELLER, APPEARS TODAY

SUCCESSFUL TRIP

THE BALLOON "BOSTON" LANDED AT HAMILTON

As it was announced in Saturday's Sun, the 79th ascension of the New England Aero club was held Saturday afternoon, when the balloon "Boston," piloted by H. Helm Clayton, left the gas works and shot straight up in the air for a few hundred feet and then sailed slowly away in the direction of Lawrence. The other passengers were J. F. Haworth of Pittsburg, Pa., and H. H. Brown of Boston.

Shortly before 7 o'clock the balloon landed at Hamilton, Mass., after a 25-mile flight. During the trip the balloonists were astonished to see a speck in the air which gradually grew into the proportions of an airship, and accompanied the balloon for a short distance circling around it near enough to exchange signals. The aeroplane was a Blerlot machine driven by Earle L. Ovington, who is flying at Mertz field, Waltham.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

AT SACRED HEART

Junior Grade Held Graduation Exercises

Last evening the parents and friends of the five hundred children of the junior grades of the Sacred Heart school assembled in the school hall to witness the varied and pleasing program of their closing exercises.

The new parochial hall was never shown to better advantage. Despite the large audience and the warmth of the evening the hall remained perfectly cool as it is elevated far above the surrounding buildings and received continuous draughts of fresh air through its large windows. The tastefully decorated stage easily accommodated the three hundred children which one number of the program called for, and the light and color effects were singularly beautiful as the juvenile actors, dressed in white and black and variegated bows and ties went through the graceful performance of song and recitation, and the very intricate evolutions of the drills.

The program was as follows: Opening chorus, "The Sacred Heart"; greetings to the very reverend pastor and the clergy; welcome message to parents and friends; musical play, "Mother Goose" scene 1, songs by kindergarten and primary girls; scene 2, rhymes by kindergarten and primary girls; recitation, "Our Grandmothers"; "Sweepers' Circle"; concert recitation; closing hymn, to the Virgin Mary. The accompanists were Misses Helen Kirwin, T. McDermott and J. Sheehan.

The children made a splendid showing and reflect great credit on their patient teachers, the good Sisters of St. Mary. The chorus and drill work were exceptionally fine; but what most pleased and elicited the greatest applause was the musical play entitled "Mother Goose," presented by the children of the kindergarten and primary classes. This, in two scenes, introduced "Mother Goose" herself, "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe," with her many children, "Old King Cole" and "His Fiddlers Three," "Little Miss Muffet," and in fact all the heroes and heroines of the nursery rhymes.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Mother Goose, Florence Seymour; Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, Grace Burke; Old King Cole, Edmund Vaughan; Fiddlers, Joseph Burke, George Hagan, Richard O'Malley; Jack Spratt, Edward O'Connor; Boy Blue, Henry Forrest; Jack Horner, Thomas Poland; Tom Tucker, Timothy Sheehan; Bobby Shafto, Robert Hartley; Miss Muffet, Catherine Mone; Jack and Jill, George and Helen Roberts; children of Old Woman who lived in a shoe, primary and kindergarten pupils.

So many were the compliments passed on the children and the Sisters last evening by all who attended, it is expected that the hall will be crowded to its utmost capacity next Sunday evening when the senior and graduating pupils will have their elaborate program of closing exercises.

The greeting to Very Rev. pastor and clergy was given by Francis Lhuneau. Welcome message to parents and friends by the following: Teresa Donelloe, Catherine Lynch, Catherine Maher, Veronica Daly, Alice Moran, Gertrude Burke, Helen Stafford, Eileen Powers, Theresa O'Hare, Josephine Sheehan, Grace McDermott, Helen Murphy, Catherine Dulligan, Frances Sullivan, Catherine Sweeney, Elizabeth Bassett.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

THE DANCE OF DEATH (Egyptian Dance in Vogue)

During the past year or two there have been many proofs that the public is taking keen interest in the dances of ancient times as rendered by various artists of today. Favor was first sought for the dances of ancient Greece; then came the oriental, headed by the Salome dance; now follow the dances of old Egypt. Some were given recently at the Little Sunday club in London by Sent M'Ahesa, who danced the central dance, the sword dance and the demon of death dance. The last named is here illustrated.

MILLS HOTEL

ONE FOR WOMEN IS VERY MUCH NEEDED

Miss Mae Halstead Beattys, inspector of playgrounds and recreation centers in New York city, has much to say about mistaken philanthropies.

"There have been several hotels erected ostensibly for the working girl and woman," she said recently. "Few working women, as we see the majority of them, can afford to live in these places. Charitably inclined people have done this, but they have not understood conditions and have built places where what one might call the aristocracy of labor may be found. The commoner, the girl who needs a good home most, is left out in the cold.

"I believe that in a city like New York there should be a place on the plan of the Mills hotel given over to the exclusive use of women. Surely men do not need this more than the women do, yet you have several of these hotels for men and not one for women. In such a hotel I believe that a woman who wants to establish a real charity or true benefit to the women who work and the girls who have never known home life should institute a sewing class where for a small fee they could learn practical, useful sewing; a cooking class where real cooking could be taught, one in millinery and another in housekeeping.

"With such conditions established the girl, after she comes home tired from work, need not dress and go to some class many blocks away, but could have the instruction and the good fellowship of her everyday companions without effort. With a lowering of the cost of living for these girls they could afford to take advantage of such classes. They cannot now as conditions exist, and there are not many young women who desire to go to a free class."

Dr. Maude Glasgow, a prominent physician of New York, says in speaking of the up to date figure:

"A woman should be neither thin nor fat. If she is in proper health she will be neither plump nor scrawny.

"Think of the very fat and very thin women you know. Are not the former wheezy and asthmatic and frequently troubled with indigestion? If you were a physician you would probably find that they have weak hearts, too, have apoplectic tendencies and are apt to contract contagious diseases.

"On the other hand, the very thin women at first glance seem to be much more efficient than their stout friends. They accomplish a great deal more—for a time. But very, very often they are working almost entirely on their nerves, and when the end comes it comes with a crash. They are frequently people of low vitality, with little constitutional resistance. When they are narrow chested and stoop shouldered that is a sure sign of pulmonary weakness. Their circulation is poor.

"Of course there are exceptions, but such only prove the general rule that either extreme means weakness.

"The modern woman nearest to physical perfection is tall and strong, broad shouldered and deep chested. She has hips and a waist line, though it isn't an eighteen inch affair. There's not an ounce of superfluous flesh on her. Her hands and feet are not large, but proportionate to her height. The line from shoulder to hip is not straight like a toothpick, nor does it bow sharply like an hourglass. It is a long, gracious curve. Bones don't show, but they are merely covered, not padded. The muscles are elastic, and the body is held gracefully."

That a summer vacation means a real rest from all restriction, duties, etc. was proved by the action taken by Miss Robinson-Smith, chairman of the vacation committee of the women's welfare work of the civic federation. She does not believe a working girl can get the greatest benefit from her summer vacation if it is spent in some semi-charitable home for working girls where there are restrictions as to hours for going to bed, etc.

She inspected boarding places within easy distance of New York where girls can get accommodation at rates ranging from $3.50 to $8 and $9.

Big posters telling where lists of these places can be obtained were placed recently in all the big department stores of New York city.

AMERICAN WOMEN LEADING FIGURES DURING CORONATION

LONDON, June 16.—Three American women who will be prominent in the society affairs attending the coronation festivities June 19 to 30 are the Countess of Granard, Mrs. Dandridge Spotswood and Lady Decies. Mrs. Spotswood, who was Miss Katherine von Wolf, was born in the United States, though her grandfather was a baron. She has long been prominent in London society. One of her prized possessions is a jeweled frog she received from King Edward a short time before his death. Lady Decies was Vivien Gould, daughter of George Gould of New York. The Countess of Granard was Beatrice Mills of New York. She will entertain lavishly during the coronation.

CHILDREN'S DAY

OBSERVED AT THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Children's day was observed at the First Congregational church yesterday. The pastor, Rev. R. A. Willmott, preached an appropriate sermon, and previous to the sermon a number of infants were baptised.

The Sunday school session was devoted entirely to the children's exercises and was very delightful. Gift books were given by the school to those who had been faithful in attendance during the past six months and many beautiful flowering plants were given to all the young people of the school and a special children's day talk was given by the pastor to the children.

THE WATER BOARD

PRESIDENT ROBERT W. VAN TASSELL REPLIES TO CRITICS

The following communication with a few rather abusive passages eliminated is published to give the public an inside view of the water board's reasons for asking $100,000 for the water department:

Editor Sun:

Dear Sir:—At a recent meeting of the board of aldermen, there were certain statements made by Aldermen Barrett and Connors relative to the water board in connection with the proposed $100,000 loan which were not worthy of attention by any fair thinking, intelligent man, and which it was my intention to ignore, believing that the people of Lowell, knowing from whence it came, would make due allowance for the ignorance of the aldermen relative to water department affairs but the Courier-Citizen has since criticized the board and its methods, I feel at this time as though a word from the board, not to the aldermen, not to the paper referred to, but to the people of Lowell, would not be amiss. In the first place, this board feels it is trying to do business in a business like way for the best interests of the city of Lowell. It is willing at all times to be justly criticized, but does feel that, in justice to itself, it should defend its position from such attacks.

For the benefit of those who do not know, I am going to try to explain why we believe we should have this $100,000, and why we believe it to be absolutely necessary for the benefit of the water takers of Lowell.

In the first place, I wonder if the people of Lowell know that the water department is a self-supporting department, that is, that it receives none of the tax money but is supported from its own income, and that any money borrowed is paid, both principal and interest, from its income. This is something that some of the members of the city government do not seem to know, therefore, if this loan for $100,000 was granted it would mean that it would be paid back in ten annual instalments of $10,000 each, with interest from the revenue of the department, without one cent of increased cost to the water takers, and would not that in itself, if all that is said about the extravagance of the water board be true, have a tendency to make this very same board more careful in its expenditures in order to meet its obligations that must be met. Now, the alderman states that he is not going to make a loan of this size until he knows what is is for, or words to that effect. Well, if he would read the communication from the water board to the city council, he would find that we asked for a new reservoir, new wells and a new pump house at the Boulevard pumping station, and our reasons are as follows: While this board would welcome the advice of the best experts to be obtained, and the better he is, the more I believe he would agree with the opinion of this board, still I believe that any man with ordinary intelligence will agree with me that our reasons are not only justified, but for the safe-guarding of the water supply of Lowell are absolutely imperative and that any money that would be spent for expert advice, and it would necessarily be considerable, had better be put to better use where Lowell would get the benefit, for there are enough expert engineers in Lowell who could give you all the expert advice necessary and they could neither be "reached" nor "touched." We asked for a new reservoir, a modern reservoir. In the growth of the city, higher land has come into use than when the present reservoir was built, therefore there is considerable complaint from the people living in the higher parts of the city, of lack of pressure.

Aside from that the present reservoir is antiquated and not in accordance with present day methods. We believe we should have a reservoir that we can clean out. The present one has not been cleaned in over 20 years, no previous board having dared take the chance for fear of a repetition of what happened when last drawn off, and that was that the sides slid in, putting the city to a number of thousands of dollars expense and no end of inconvenience. For these reasons, we believe we should have a reservoir on higher land, one that can be cleaned without imperilling the supply of the city—or the health of its people. Does it need an expert to tell you this?

As to cost, before we asked for a cent we obtained from one of the most prominent reservoir builders in the country an approximate bid of $60,000 for two cement reservoirs of the necessary size. We also asked for sufficient money to put in 300 new wells at the boulevard. I do not believe that there is a water taker in Lowell who will not agree with me when I say that the water has deteriorated in quality in the last ten years, to say nothing of the trouble we are having with rusty water. Ask the woman of Lowell who washes the clothes, if she doesn't think the water board should better the water supply. Aside from that, the supply is diminishing from year to year. These things are a matter of record. The state board of health (recognized authorities the world over as water experts), keeps in close touch with the water of Lowell and its records will show that what we say is so, and that we are working on their recommendation and are being guided by them. Do you need to have an expert to tell you these things and what is necessary to do? Why, the women of Lowell alone would say "go ahead and better your supply and give us water we can use." We estimated the cost of these 300 wells and from the experience of the past know what they would cost. Lowell is recognized as an authority on driven wells, and the advise of the superintendent of the water department is constantly being asked by other cities anxious to better their conditions.

Last but not least, we ask for a new pumping station at the boulevard. We have a beautiful new pumping engine there that cost the city of Lowell something like $35,000 and through lack of money a previous board was obliged to use an old wooden shack that is liable to burn down at any time, which would mean the disabling of the pump perhaps for months and the city would be in very grave danger of a water famine. Does it need an expert to tell you that you need to protect this pump with a modern fire proof building.

Ask any business man you meet, and I think he will agree with me. For this we ask $10,000. Of course, these are all approximate estimates, but understand we do not get this $100,000 even if the city council votes it, unless it takes that amount. I have tried to explain this so that all might understand, and further that the water board has no possible interest in this loan other than to better the department. All we ask is fair treatment and a chance to explain, and we would welcome at any time the fullest investigation of the business and the methods of the board by one capable of investigating the same. As to the remarks made by one of the aldermen as to the total unfitness of the members of the present board, it might be well for him to remember, as others do, that at least one of the members of the present water board could not have been elected had it not been for the vote of this same alderman, and it is my honest belief that not only the interests of the water department were forgotten but the interests of the city as well, in the desire of the alderman to accomplish his purpose as to the personnel of the board at that time. I should further like to say that I should be glad at any time to meet the alderman, or any expert he may name, to discuss the water department and its workings.

The water board never asked for a loan of $70,000 to purchase a pump, and then bought one for $11,000. The facts are these: When a new pump was contemplated, an approximate bid was asked for from the same company, which afterwards secured the contract, as to the probable cost of an 8,000,000 gallon pump, and its bid was $60,000. We of course, did not expect this to be the exact figure, neither did they, but we based our estimate at that figure, and, in addition, asked for $15,000 for the necessary changes, and auxiliaries necessary to the pump, making a total of $75,000 in all. The city government at that time granted us a loan of $50,000—$11,000 of which went for the pump, and it will take about the balance to complete the work. Now, this is a fair statement of facts, which upon investigation will be found to be correct. So far as I am concerned, it is of no interest to me, aside from the benefit that the department will derive from it, whether this loan ever passes, or not. I have not asked a single alderman, or councilman to vote for the loan, neither do I intend to. Before forming your opinion, investigate for yourself. The department belongs to the people of Lowell, and they are welcome at all times to the fullest explanations and information we can give them, but the board intends to administer the affairs of the department so long as it shall be in office; and no one alderman, or a number of aldermen shall be allowed to dictate its policies, for it is responsible not to the aldermen, or the newspapers, but to the people themselves.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Not in many weeks has such a splendid program been arranged for the enjoyment of the patrons of this popular playhouse than that which the management presents this week. Each number is in itself a feature and the combination is one that merits liberal patronage. Besides being cleverly given the acts are clean and the kind to which no one can take the slightest offence or enter the least objection. Women and young folks more especially, will find wholesome amusement at the Merrimack Square theatre.

The return engagement of Mortimer Snow & Co., presenting that popular romantic comedy, "Her Broken Idol," is one of the several good things for the week. An added feature in connection with this presentation is the introduction of a prominent Lowell girl in the cast. Mr. Snow, as is well known, is a capable actor and his assistants, Miss Lee Anderson and Mr. Boshell are especially adapted to the parts to which they are assigned. The staging of the piece will be looked after with special care to detail.

Miss May E. Whiteley, one of Lowell's favorite soprano singers, will appear during the week in the latest songs and her presence should attract a large number for her singing compares with theh very best among local talent.

Simpson and Smith are colored entertainers who have a good line of talk and a gist of amusing songs that combine in making a most enjoyable 20 minutes of entertainment. Christine is one of the cleverest ventriloquists on the stage. His work compares favorably with the best in his line.

By special request the management of the theatre has secured, for the entire week, that wonderful motion picture, "A Trip to Niagara Falls," a 500 foot reel that shows all of the points of interest about this famous place in a most realistic manner. The other pictures are the kind that are sure to please. Patrons are reminded that the Merrimack Square theatre is the coolest spot in town. Baseball results are given daily.—Adv.

FIRE IN CELLAR

THE DEPARTMENT WAS CALLED TO GERSHOM AVENUE

An alarm from box 75 at 9.09 o'clock Saturday night summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in a pile of clothing in the cellar of a house in Gershom avenue. The blaze was soon extinguished but later in the night the fire broke out again and a telephone alarm was sent to the central fire station and several pieces of apparatus were sent to the scene.

The alarm from box 23, which was sounded about 11.41 Sunday morning, was for a fire at 141 Lakeview avenue. The fire was on the roof, and outside of a few shingles burned, no damage was done. Mrs. Mary Gallagher owns and occupies the property.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

JUST THE IDEA.

He—When my ship comes in, we'll get married.

She—And take our honeymoon on the ship, eh?

PAPA WAS RIGHT.

He—My brains are in a whirl whenever I'm with you.

She—Indeed! And papa insists you have no brains.

SHE WAS IT.

"George told me he wouldn't marry the best woman living."

"No. He asked me and I refused him."

REPENT IN LEISURE.

She—Give me just one week to think it over.

He—You'll have lots of time to think it over after we're married.

She—So all the married women tell me.

A HARD HIT.

He—It's just an ideal day to go somewhere and get married.

She—Yes. If I could find my ideal man now, I'd do it.

A LONG WAY OFF.

He—They can say what they want I'm a self-made man.

She—For heaven's sake, George, do you mean to say you have the job finished?

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Probate Court. To all persons interested in the estate of Charles D. Sawyer, late of Antrim, in the County of Hillsborough, and State of New Hampshire, deceased, or in the personal property hereinafter described, and to the Treasurer and Receiver General of said Commonwealth:

Whereas, Martha A. Sawyer, appointed executrix of the will of said deceased, by the Probate Court for the County of Hillsborough, in the State of New Hampshire, has presented to said Court her petition representing that as such, she is entitled to certain personal property situated in said Commonwealth, to wit: Deposit in Lowell Institution for Savings, Lowell; and praying that she may be licensed to receive or to sell by public or private sale on such terms and to such person or persons as she shall think fit—or otherwise to dispose of, and to transfer and convey such estate.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by delivering a copy of said citation to the Tax Commissioner for said Commonwealth fourteen days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex, ss.

At a Probate Court holden at Cambridge, in and for said County of Middlesex, on the eighth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

On the petition of Samuel Orlovetz of Lowell, in said County, praying that his name may be changed to that of Samuel Lovitt, public notice having been given, according to the order of Court, that all persons might appear and show cause, if any they had, why the same should not be granted, and it appearing that the reason given therefor is sufficient and consistent with the public interest, and being satisfactory to the Court, that said petitioner is a minor, and that a guardian ad litem has consented, and no objection being made:

It is decreed that his name be changed, as prayed for, to that of Samuel Lovitt, which name he shall hereafter bear, and which shall be his legal name, and that he give public notice of said change by publishing this decree once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, and make return to this Court under oath that such notice has been given.

CHAS. J. McINTIRE,
Judge of Probate Court.

Notice is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Rachel H. Allyn, late of Charleston, in the State of Vermont, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing William H. Saunders, of Lowell, his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber. Horace W. Bailey, Executor. Address of agent, 12 Hurd st., Lowell, Mass. Address of executor, Newbury, Vt. June 3, 1911.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully libels and represents Caroline L. Miller, of Cambridge, in said County, that she was lawfully married to J. Edward Miller, now of Brooklyn, in the State of New York, at Brooklyn, New York, on the 17th day of January, A. D. 1907, and thereafterwards your libellant and the said J. Edward Miller lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Cambridge; that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said J. Edward Miller, being wholly regardless of the same, at Cambridge aforesaid, on or about the 13th day of November, A. D. 1907, utterly deserted her and has continued such desertion from that time to the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said J. Edward Miller. And that the care and custody of their minor child Cora Lucretia Miller, born June 16, 1897, be decreed to her.

Dated this first day of June, A. D. 1911.

CAROLINE L. MILLER.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex, ss. Superior Court, June 5, A. D. 1911.

Upon the libel aforesaid, it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before our Justices of said Court, at Cambridge, in said County, on the first Monday of July next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said last mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered letter to the residence of the libellee as set out in the libel, that he may then and there show cause, if any he have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

WM. C. DILLINGHAM, Asst. Clerk.

A true copy of the libel and of the order thereon.

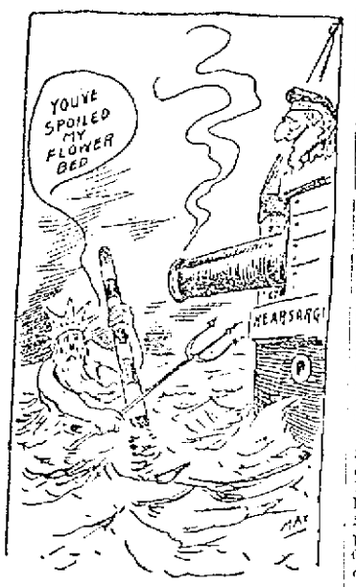
THIS DAY IN HISTORY



CONFEDERATE SHIP ALABAMA

JUNE 19.—The confederate ship Alabama did not bear that name when she was launched on the Mersey in the spring of 1862. Uncle Sam had protested on England building the ship, but there was $250,000 in it for John Bull and John needed the money, as he does now. So she was launched as "290" and was taken to the Azores under command of a young British officer. Here she was manned by Captain Semmes and 145 officers and men. The boat was then given her name and started out as a privateer to raid the shipping of the north. And Semmes made a fine collection of stray vessels. He had captured 66 ships and burned all but seven of them, when he sailed into the port of Cherborg, France, and anchored to make repairs. Captain Winslow, of the United States ship Kearsarge, had been looking for Mr. Semmes for some time and also sailed into the harbor, but went outside without anchoring. Semmes took this as a defi and he also went out. This was on June 19, 1864. The date is important, because like McGinty, the Alabama "is on the bottom yet." The Kearsarge shot her full of holes in exchange of compliments that followed and Semmes and his crew were rescued by a pleasure yacht that stood off to see the meeting. England paid the United States $15,000,000 for that bit of boat building.

The burglar alarm over the Prescott street entrance to the Central Savings bank went on the rampage Saturday night and for about three minutes it clanged, giving people in the vicinity of Merrimack square an impression that some person was trying to break into the bank. An investigation showed that the wires had become crossed.

Miss Elizabeth McCormack was pleasantly surprised last evening at her home, 193 Tremont street, by a large number of her friends. She was presented a gold ring. During the evening a delightful program was carried out. Refreshments were served, and the party broke up, all declaring it a great success.

Carney medals awarded Carney medal scholars at the high school are furnished only by the director of the Mint, Medal Department, Philadelphia, Pa. Several days ago Supt. Whitcomb made requisition for six medals and Purchasing Agent Foye forwarded the order to Philadelphia, money enclosed and in order to send the money along the purchasing agent had to consult his own pocketbook. The requisition was not accompanied by the money and the purchasing agent will have to submit his bill to the city treasurer. Last year the cost of the medals was $8.82.

FUNERALS

BERGERON—The funeral of the late Mrs. Bergeron took place this morning from her late home, 449 Moody street. The large cortege proceeded to St. Jean Baptiste church, where at 8 o'clock high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. Wateele, O. M. I. The choir under the direction of Dr. George E. Caisse rendered the Gregorian chant, Mr. Arthur J. Martal presiding at the organ. The bearers were Messrs. Dubois, Plouffe, Montbleau, Bellemare, Verville and Bergeron. St. Anne's sodality, of which deceased was a member, was represented by the following delegation: Mesdames Pierre Jette, Theophile Dupuis, Onesime Daunais and Joseph Albert. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, Rev. Fr. Berneche, O. M. I., reciting the committal prayers at the grave. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

ARMSTRONG—The funeral of John Twombley Armstrong took place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his parents, John and Margaret, 18 Walker street, and was largely attended. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott conducted the services at the house and also at the grave in the Edson cemetery. The bearers were William Liddell, Wilbur Richardson, Maxwell Cook and Edward Beane. The following flower offerings were placed on the grave: A large pillow of roses, lilies of the valley and pinks from the parents; spray of peonies, roses and pinks from E. A. Wilson & Co.; spray of white pinks from classmates and teacher in Bartlett school; spray of pink pinks from Mrs. Joseph Armstrong and family; spray of mixed pinks from the Congregational Sunday school; spray of pink pinks from Esther and Gertrude Armstrong; spray of white mixed flowers from Mrs. Joyce and family; spray of white pinks from Mrs. Gardener; bouquet of pink peonies from Mrs. R. Walker; spray of pinks from Master Ivan Buchanan; spray of daybreak pinks, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ennis; spray of pinks, the James family; spray, sympathy of Mrs. Mary Mallam; spray of pinks from Mr. and Mrs. George Burns. C. H. Molloy & Sons were undertakers in charge.

ROACH — The funeral of Susan Roach took place from her late home, 522 Central street, and was largely attended. At St. Peter's church at 10 o'clock a funeral mass was sung by Rev. Fr. Burns. The choir under the direction of Mrs. J. W. McKennedy sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by James E. Donnelly and Miss May E. Whiteley. Mrs. J. W. McKennedy presided at the organ. The bearers were John Condon, James Driscoll, Stephen Garrity and James W. Gray. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery. Undertaker John J. O'Connell in charge.

INGRUM—The funeral of Mr. James Ingrum, who passed away Thursday, June 15, in New York, took place from the chapel of Undertakers J. B. Currier Co. on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock and was well attended. The services were conducted by Rev. A. F. Dunnels, pastor of the Highland Congregational church. The bearers were Messrs. O. A. Knapp, W. H. Harrison, Arthur Hope, Roy Hope, Fred Talsey and D. J. Murphy. The committal services were held at the grave by Rev. Mr. Dunnels, and burial was in the family lot in the Westlawn cemetery, in charge of Undertakers J. B. Currier Co.

MOREY—The funeral of Rev. Lewis W. Morey, who passed away in Everett, Mass., Friday, June 16, took place from the Talbot chapel in the Lowell cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. George F. Kenngott, pastor of the First Trinitarian Congregational church, and burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery. In charge of Undertakers J. B. Currier Co.

BETTINCOURT—The funeral of Manuel Bettincourt, child of Joaquim and Maria Bettincourt, who died Saturday morning, took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from 26 North street and was largely attended. There were many beautiful floral tributes. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker Thomas J. McDermott in charge.

MOODY — The funeral of John Moody took place yesterday afternoon from the rooms of Undertaker John A. Finnegan, and proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery, where burial took place in the family lot. Rev. John J. McHugh of St. Patrick's church read the committal prayers. The bearers were John J. Donovan, Charles McCourt, Thomas J. Highland and William McNamara.

The Beautiful Residence of Charles S. Shepard

CONSISTING OF A TWO-STORY HOUSE AND ABOUT 29,724 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 254 PARKVIEW AVENUE, AT THE JUNCTION OF LAUREL STREET AND HOLYROOD AVENUE, PLEDGED TO THE HIGHEST BONA FIDE BIDDERS AT ABSOLUTE AUCTION SALE.

ON WEDNESDAY, JUNE 21st, 1911, AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.

This beautiful residential property has been surveyed and divided by plan into four lots, which will be sold at the advertised time to whomsoever will bid the most for them, without limit or reserve. The property is situated high above the level of the street, within two minutes' walk of the Oaklands line of electric cars; also five minutes of the Boston & Reading line, thus making the accommodations of trolleys the very best and also avoiding the noise, dust and other objectionable features that one might receive if he were directly on the line. The house is entered through a cobblestone archway; it sets back from the street 50 feet, with three terraces, overhung by large shade trees, a plentiful supply of various kinds of fruit trees, beautifully and well kept lawns, lends itself to the beauty of the place.

LOT NO. 2—The house and 10,315 square feet of land with a frontage of 89 feet at No. 254 Parkview avenue. The house is a 2½ story structure, containing nine rooms. The first floor comprises a commodious reception hall with open fireplace, window seat built in, large parlor, splendid dining-room, with china closet built in, kitchen, laundry and toilet. On the second floor are three bright, sunny chambers, billiard room complete, and large bath. The third floor contains one finished room and unfinished attic. The cellar is very well lighted and cemented, the house is high studded, very conveniently laid out, is heated by steam throughout, has electric lights in every room, each light is turned on by a switch, hot and cold water, set wash trays, splendid closet rooms, brass open plumbing, is very heavy timbered and one of the best constructed houses in the city.

LOT NO. 1—At the corner of Parkview avenue and Laurel street, has a frontage of 80 feet on Parkview avenue and 109 feet on Laurel street, and a total area of 8724 square feet; is very attractive and can easily be improved.

LOT NO. 3—At the rear of the house facing on Holyrood avenue, has a frontage on the avenue of 92 feet and an area of 6290 square feet. This lot sits high and commands a most magnificent view.

LOT NO. 4—Contains 4395 square feet, is a corner lot with a frontage of 82 feet on Holyrood avenue and 45 feet on Laurel street. This is a very choice lot, lying as it does on two streets overlooking the entire surrounding country.

Every lot has all modern improvements such as city water, gas and electric lights, etc., and anyone thinking of erecting a home should positively attend this sale.

TERMS: $450 must be deposited with the auctioneer on Lot No. 2 as soon as struck off; $150 each on Lots 1, 3 and 4. The sale will commence promptly at 3 o'clock beginning with lot No. 2.

CHARLES S. SHEPARD.

A detailed plan of the property can be had upon application at the office of the auctioneer, and the premises can be seen at any time before the sale, by calling upon the auctioneer, where all inquiries must be made.

TRUSTEES REAL ESTATE AT PUBLIC AUCTION

DWELLING HOUSE AND 30,253 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 166 THIRD STREET, CORNER OF FREMONT STREET.

SATURDAY, JUNE 24th, 1911, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

By virtue of a license granted me by the Probate Court, I will sell at absolute auction sale this commodious residence containing 10 rooms, besides bath, pantry, hot and cold water, furnace heat, gas, city water, sewer connections, etc. The first floor has reception hall, parlor, library, dining-room, kitchen, with hard-wood floors, pantry and toilet. On the second floor are five very good chambers, and large bath, one unfinished room for storage, the third floor has a large unfinished attic, the cellar is high posted and very well lighted. The house, with a few small repairs, can be made into a most attractive residence, or the building could very easily be converted into a two-family property.

There are 30,253 square feet of land, with a frontage of 125 feet on Third street and 242 feet on Fremont street; on the lot are numerous fruit and shade trees. This area comprises five lots of land and affords an excellent chance for the erection of new dwellings or apartments and in a location which is very central with desirable neighbors, assuring quick and steady rental.

HERE IS AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY FOR EITHER THE HOME-SEEKER, THE INVESTOR, OR THE SPECULATOR.

The location is one of the very best in Centralville, the property sitting high commands a most magnificent view of the Merrimack valley and surrounding country. It is within two minutes' walk of two lines of electric cars, also 10 minutes' walk of Merrimack square, thus making accommodations for anyone working in the down-town district that of the very best.

The property will be sold on the day and hour advertised and anyone desirous of inspecting the same can do so by calling at the office of the auctioneer, where all inquiries must be made.

Terms: $100 must be paid to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off. Other terms made known at the sale.

THE PANAMA LOAN

Announcement of Successful Bidders May be Made Today

WASHINGTON, June 19.— Announcement may be made late today of the investors who bid successfully for the new three per cent $50,000,000 Panama loan. As the tabulating has progressed it has become more apparent that most of the issue will go to individuals, trustees of estates, schools and public institutions rather than to banks. Treasury officials felt they had been vindicated in their prediction that there was a public demand for a government guaranteed form of investment

Although the treasury will realize about $51,200,000 from the sale, that will reimburse the cash drawer for only about a third of what has been advanced for the building of the Panama canal. The proceeds of this loan, however, will strengthen the working balance to probably $80,000,000 and no immediate issue of more bonds seems probable. There are still $240,000,000 of the same sort of bonds available for issue, according to law.

The government will deliver the bonds at the direction of the buyers. As the bonds are dated June 1 the coupon form will be delivered with the first inter coupon clipped off and a treasury check for the proper amount of interest will be mailed to the holders.

FALL RIVER'S WEEK

Big Celebration of Centennial of the Cotton Industry

FALL RIVER, June 19.—Bright skies favored the city today for the opening ceremonies of a week's duration to celebrate the centennial of the cotton industry which has placed Fall River in the front rank on the American continent. Visitors are pouring into the city and indications point to the greatest crowd which has ever gathered within the city's gates by 2.30, when the coronation of the Queen of the Carnival was held in city hall square.

The national colors, flagged, festooned, draped and arched, form a canopy of glowing color over the city which will be considerably enhanced at night by the greatest electrical display the city has ever seen. Thousands of vari-colored electric lights strung across the wires of the street railroad company will vie with the illumination of the magnificent triumphal arch in city hall square and the spectacle after sundown will be dazzling in its brilliancy.

Points of interest, chief among them the old mill in which cotton cloth was first manufactured, have been decorated and placarded so that visitors will have no difficulty in locating them without guides. Even the harbor front is not remiss in celebrating the carnival, for late yesterday two government cruisers steamed up the bay and will remain throughout the week, the forerunner of a fleet of torpedo boats, destroyers and a battleship which will be here during the visit of President Taft Friday and the water carnival Saturday.

The initial number of the week's program was preceded by a band concert by the united bands of the city, commencing at one o'clock. This was much enjoyed by the great gathering. The crowning of the queen by Mayor Thomas F. Higgins was followed by a triumphal procession to the state armory on West Bank street, where the Manufacturers' exposition was formally opened and the great celebration fittingly launched.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING

Observed by President and Mrs. Taft at the White House

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Twenty-five years ago William H. Taft married Helen Herron at her father's home in Cincinnati. Mr. Taft was a young lawyer, Miss Herron had been a school teacher. Today, in the White House, they celebrated the quarter century of married life during which Mr. Taft became a United States commissioner of the Philippines, secretary of war and president.

The celebration began this morning with the arrival on a special of a delegation from the Commercial club of Cincinnati, 50 strong. Many of them called at the White House soon after arriving but others waited to greet the president at the luncheon they had arranged in his honor at the Chevy Chase club. The reception comes tonight. If the weather is good, as it appeared early it would be, the reception will be held on the grounds at the rear of the White House, but if it rains the president and Mrs. Taft will receive in the Blue room.

Both inside and out every preparation has been made for the reception. Every angle and corner of the White House has been festooned with electric lights and a searchlight has been mounted nearby to play upon the fountain near which the president and Mrs. Taft will receive. Six thousand lights have been used in preparing for the display. Japanese lanterns will add to the picturesqueness. One spotlight will be used to throw in relief the American flag that always floats over the White House.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Taft a cluster of silvered incandescent lamps forming the figures "1886-1911" was put up today on the lawn near the point, where the guests will be received.

Expressmen were still busy today delivering presents at the White House. They have come from every section of the country. Former President and Mrs. Roosevelt have sent an antique silver bowl. In addition to the silver service sent by the senate the Vice President and Mrs. Sherman individually sent a tall silver vase marked with the monograms of the president and Mrs. Taft; the speaker of the house and Mrs. Clark sent 25 American beauty roses.

The house sent three dozen silver service plates. The Secretary of State and Mrs. Knox sent a massive silver vase for flowers. The Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. MacVeagh sent a fruit platter of silver, designed by Mrs. MacVeagh and intended for state dinners. It is oblong in shape, two feet wide and very deep, with an inner rim of gold. At either end is a spread-eagle with the coat of arms of the United States. The gifts of the Secretary of War and Mrs. Stimson are a tall silver vase and a silver tray. The Attorney General and Mrs. Wickersham have sent a large repousse silver jewel case of rare workmanship. From the postmaster general and his wife was received a handsome silver vase inscribed with the initials of the president and Mrs. Taft and the date. The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Meyer have sent a loving cup.

There are gifts in silver from all the other members of the cabinet.

Charles D. Norton, former secretary to the president, and Mrs. Norton sent a silver jewel case. Former Speaker Cannon sent a large bunch of American Beauty roses. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cram of Bangor, old camping friends of the president and Mrs. Taft, sent Mrs. Taft one of the best salmon ever caught in the Penobscot river.

Many other gifts, some of great beauty and all of much interest, have been received by the president and Mrs. Taft during the last few days.

THE CHARTER BILL

Passed to a Third Reading by the House Today

The enactment of the Lowell charter seems to be assured now, the bill having passed to a third reading in the house this afternoon. After being unfavorably reported by the committee on cities, Senator Hibbard moved to substitute the bill in the senate for the adverse report. The senate passed the bill by an almost unanimous vote and today the house took up the measure and after some discussion voted in favor of it by a substantial majority, the vote standing 78 to 68 in favor of the charter.

The news was received with great satisfaction by the friends of charter reform in Lowell and many complimentary remarks were heard in reference to the Lowell delegation who supported the bill and spoke in favor of it this afternoon before the vote was taken. The measure will undoubtedly be submitted to the people of Lowell for adoption or rejection.

WRECK REPORTED

Body Seen Floating Off Rockland, Me.

ROCKLAND, Me., June 19.—A marine mystery of floating wreckage and what was believed to have been the body of a person was reported at the custom house today by Captain Richards of the British steamer W. M. Richards, which arrived with a cargo of salt from Turks Island.

The steamer late Friday night while passing 30 miles south-southeast of Seguin encountered wreckage that appeared to be steamboat fittings painted white. Among other things, there were a half dozen mattresses for narrow berths. The wreckage covered a distance of 15 miles and they were still passing through it Saturday morning. A sailor reported to Captain Richards that he saw the body of a person amongst the wreckage, but the report was received by him too late to go back and search for it.

JAPANESE TEAM

TO MEET SEVERAL SEMI-PROFESSIONAL TEAMS

CHICAGO, June 19.—The baseball team of Waseda university, Tokio, which has played a dozen or more games with college teams in Illinois and Wisconsin during the last month, left last night for Ohio points. They play Oberlin college this afternoon and a Cleveland semi-professional club the next day. Games with semi-professional teams have been scheduled in Buffalo and New York city.

INSPECTION TOUR

COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS TOOK TRIP THIS AFTERNOON

The committee on appropriations went out on a viewing tour this afternoon. The committee will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight. The Chelmsford street hospital was the first place to be visited by the committee. Other places visited included the Race Street engine house, the Franklin school and the Back Central street firehouse.

SALE OF LOTS

ON SOUTH COMMON FOR FOURTH OF JULY BEGINS TOMORROW

The sale of lots on the South Common for July 4th will be begun on the common tomorrow forenoon at 10 o'clock. The sales will be made by Supt. Whittet, and it might not be amiss to state, in passing, that the revenue from the sale of lots does not go to the park department but to the city treasury. Mr. Whittet says that the amount left over from last year's appropriation for Shedd park will be exhausted in a week or two and work there will be at a standstill unless the city council votes the $10,000 recently recommended by the committee on appropriations. Mr. Whittet said that Mr. Shedd is going to construct a vitrified brick flagging from Nesmith street to the entrance to the park. Mr. Shedd had quite a long stretch of wall built near the new entrance that will have to be taken down and rebuilt in order to conform with the grade. The taking down of the wall means a big expense and Mr. Whittet says that Mr. Shedd has already expended more money on Shedd park than has the city of Lowell.

DEATHS

BISCORNET—The many friends of Mr. Moise Biscornet of Central Falls, R. I., and formerly of this city, will be pained to learn of his death which occurred yesterday at Central Falls.

Mr. Biscornet was well known in this city, where he lived for a number of years, having been employed as bartender at the Merrimack House and later at F. L. Richard's, in Moody street. The deceased was 70 years old and was a member of several fraternal organizations of this city. He is survived by a mother, Mrs. Rosalie Biscornet of Central Falls, two brothers, Mr. Paul Biscornet of this city, and Napoleon Biscornet of Central Falls, and a sister, Mrs. Noel Poirier of Canada.

Funeral will take place tomorrow morning at Central Falls, R. I.

LAWRENCE GRAFT CASE

Trial Suspended Because of the Illness of a Juror

SALEM, June 19.—The illness of a juror caused a two days' suspension of the trial of the so-called Lawrence graft cases soon after the opening of court here today. Harry Leach of this city is the juror whose indisposition caused the suspension of the trial until Wednesday morning.

Only one witness was heard today, J. R. Lynchford of Sheldon, Conn., called by the defence, testified that he registered at a hotel in New York on Dec. 15 last immediately under the entry "Patrick Lyons, wife and sister." Dec. 15 is the date on which Fred L. Snow, a Westford paving block contractor, who turned state's evidence in the case, alleged that he paid a bribe of $1000 to Patrick Lyons, the Lawrence superintendent of streets, at Lawrence. Lyons had previously testified that he was in New York on the date mentioned by Snow.

COBB A LEADER

THE FIRST PLAYER TO MAKE 100 HITS

CHICAGO, June 19.—Ty Cobb of the Detroit Americans is the first major league player to drive out one hundred hits in the 1911 season. His century hit came in the eighth inning of yesterday's game with Chicago in Detroit. Not satisfied with gaining this distinction for the day, he raised his total to 101 with another safe one in the ninth. Batting is not the only division where Ty leads. His 20 doubles, 20 triples and eight home runs make him the chief of the sluggers; his 30 steals put him at the head among the base-stealers and his record of 59 runs in 55 games has his opponents beaten by a wide margin. The following table shows Cobb's work so far this season:

Games, 55; ab, 228; r, 59; bh, 101; 2b, 20; 3b, 20; hr, 8; sh, 30; sh, 5; tb, 151. Average 443.

CHICAGO PACKERS

WILL HAVE TO STAND TRIAL, THE COURT SAYS

CHICAGO, June 19.—Judge George A. Carpenter, in the United States district court today, denied a motion of J. Ogden Armour and nine other Chicago packers for a re-hearing of their motion to quash indictments charging violations of the Sherman anti-trust act. This means the packers must stand trial.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER

TO ADDRESS MEN'S BIBLE CLASS NEXT SUNDAY

CLEVELAND, O., June 19.—"Church going is getting to be more strenuous than golf," said John D. Rockefeller yesterday after he had shaken hands with more than 200 of his friends at the Euclid Avenue Baptist church. He remarked that his arm and hand would be sore for days from the handshaking.

Rockefeller promised he would have something to say to the Men's bible class next Sunday.

GOLF PLAYERS

READY FOR THE BIG TOURNAMENT IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 19.—The advance guard of a host of professions who will compete in the national golf championships at the Chicago Golf club on Friday and Saturday next, have reached the city. Alex "Nipper" Campbell of the Country Club of Brookline, Mass., Alex Ross of Boston, national champion in 1907, Willie Still, the veteran Scotchman from Indianapolis, and George Sargent, national champion in 1905, being among the arrivals yesterday. The course is said to be in first class condition. It will be gone over by the officials of the United States Golf association, who will arrive on Thursday, and it is expected the playing length will approximate 6340 yards.

AVIATOR ATWOOD

SCHEDULED TO FLY OVER THIS CITY

Word was received today from Waltham that Aviator Atwood of that city was to make a trip to Nashua today and would come through Lowell late in the afternoon. At the time of going to press nothing had been seen of the airship.

WOMAN INJURED

She Jumped From an Automobile

BOSTON, June 19.—Wealthy residents of Beacon street, near Charlesgate east were awakened early today by piercing shrieks. They threw up their windows and looking out saw a young woman standing in a swiftly moving automobile screaming frantically to the chauffeur to stop the car. The next moment they were horrified to see the young woman leap head foremost from the machine. She struck the pavement upon her head and face. The chauffeur did not reduce his speed and soon was lost to sight.

An ambulance carried the injured young woman to a hospital. The hospital authorities say she regained consciousness and may recover, but that she will probably bear for life the marks of the injuries on her face.

The young woman is Miss Mildred Fisher, 25, who has a manicure parlor in this city. She had been out riding with another young woman and a man, the police learned. The chauffeur, whose identity the police believed they had ascertained this forenoon, had driven Miss Fisher's friends to their homes and was taking the manicurist to her lodgings when he suddenly threw on the high speed notch of the automobile. He was headed toward the Fens parkway, Miss Fisher said, when she protested and then jumped from the car.

MAN A SUICIDE

DISAPPOINTED BECAUSE HE DID NOT WIN ARCHERY PRIZE

CHICAGO, June 19.—Chagrin at losing the archery championship of Kane county is thought by friends to have caused John Kindbiade of Batavia, Ill., to take his life. There was a deep wound in his head, but whether this caused his death or whether he drowned in a shallow creek will not be known until the verdict of a coroner's jury, which will sit today, has been returned.

Kindbiade, who was 59 years old, was in his youth an enthusiast at archery and had won prizes at tournaments in various parts of the country.

AMERICAN YACHTS

WON FIRST RACE FOR SONDERKLASS BOATS

KIEL, Germany, June 19.—The American yachts made a clean sweep in the first of the international yacht races for sonderklass boats here today, the Beaver, Cima and the Bibulat, all Americans, finishing in the order named.

STOLEN SACKS

HAVE BEEN RECOVERED BY SHERIFF AND POSSE

ROSEBURG, Ore., June 19.—Sheriff George Quine and his posse have recovered four of the mailsacks stolen by the highwaymen who held up the Shasta Limited train on the Southern Pacific at Yoncala Friday night and the sheriff expressed confidence that he will have the robbers in custody before night. Early today Sheriff Gage started out from Marshfield with a large posse to intercept the robbers as they proceeded down a canyon which furnished the only means of getting across the mountain.

OVER 30 CANDIDATES

Are Looking for Middlesex County Truant School Job

"All applications are in but four and you're one of them," said County Commissioner Richardson to a reporter of The Sun, this morning when the latter asked him if there were many candidates for the position of superintendent of the County Training school.

The county commissioners met at the court house this morning but took no action on the election of a superintendent, the institution at present being in charge of Charles H. Mason, who for the past several years was assistant to the late Superintendent Warren and who conducted the affairs of the school most successfully during the illness of the superintendent. No appointment will be made for the present. Over 30 have applied for the position, many of whom are residents of Lowell, and ten times that many friends have been up against the commissioners in behalf of the different candidates.

Close Bidding

The commissioners opened the bids for contracts to supply coal to all the county buildings in Lowell and vicinity and E. A. Wilson appears to have won out, although the commissioners will go over the schedules once more before formally awarding the contracts. The Wilson firm beat out the Horne coal company by about $50, while Edward Crawley was only 10 cents behind that company. Daniel T. Sullivan also bid while Fred H. Rourke bid on one number in the schedule only. Six different kinds of coal were asked for.

After the meeting the commissioners went to Warren street to inspect the location on which the Middlesex company asks for a private railroad track.

The aldermen recently favored the petition now it is up to the county commissioners and finally the railroad commissioners will pass upon it.

BRUTALLY ASSAULTED

Fred Allard, a Farm Employe, is in a Serious Condition

Fred Allard employed by Jesse R. and John C. Trull of North Tewksbury was badly beaten on the Trull Brothers' farm about midnight last night. He was found in an unconscious condition and removed to the Trull residence where he received medical attention. George Skordas and Simos Derdas who are also employed on the farm were arrested early this morning, it being alleged that either one or both of them assaulted Allard. The pair are also charged with the larceny of 500 cucumbers, each of the value of five cents. When arraigned before Judge Hadley this morning each entered a plea of not guilty to the complaints. Owing to Allard's condition the government asked that the case be continued and the request was granted, the men being held under $1000 bonds for appearance Thursday.

The Messrs. Trull have been missing a great many vegetables of late and they are of the opinion that the larcenies were committed by some person familiar with the premises and that the work was done at night.

Last night John C. Trull decided to stay up and watch the premises in hopes that he could catch the offender. He and Allard left the house at midnight and going to one of the greenhouses saw two men busily engaged in picking cucumbers. It is alleged that the men in the greenhouses were the two defendants.

Leaving Allard to watch the men John Trull went to the house to notify his brother and when the pair returned to the greenhouses they found Allard unconscious on the ground and the two men who had been in the greenhouse were missing.

Allard was carried to the Trull residence and a doctor and the police notified. The police were given a good description of the two men and about 1 o'clock Patrolman McNally found the pair in Perry street near Fort Hill park and placed them under arrest. When questioned as to what they were doing there at that time of the morning and where they were going, they answered they were looking for the Head farm.

Both men were sent to the police station where they were booked for larceny and assault and battery.

At the time of going to press this afternoon Allard was much improved but he is still in a precarious condition.

J. OMER ALLARD

Chosen Chairman of the Registrars

The board of registrars of voters met Friday night and elected J. Omer Allard chairman. The former chairman of the board was John P. Farley and he had to step down and out in order to preserve the political equilibrium of the board which, the law says, must be a bipartisan board. Mr. Farley was succeeded by George C. Evans, who was appointed by Mayor Meehan and confirmed by the board of aldermen at their last meeting. The personnel of the present board is as follows: J. Omer Allard, chairman; George C. Evans, Hugh C. McGlicker, and Stephen Flynn, city clerk.

J. OMER ALLARD, Chairman.

The board met this afternoon for the purpose of attending to the jury list which is being prepared for the printer. The law requires that the list shall be ready by August 1.

BOY SCOUTS' GALA DAY

Held at North Chelmsford and Was a Great Success

Gala day at North Chelmsford, Saturday, was a huge success. The troops represented included the North Chelmsford boys, Eliot church, Calvary Baptist, Centralville, Pawtucketville, Y. M. C. A., Tyngsboro and Chelmsford Centre.

The Middlesex County Training School band was in attendance during the afternoon and gave a very delightful program. Refreshment stands, tables, etc., had been arranged for the occasion and they were well patronized.

Refreshments: Mrs. Frank Ingalls, Mrs. James Tetley, Mrs. R. Polly, Mrs. James Kiberd and Mrs. William Brown.

Candy—Mrs. Nellie Slater, Mrs. Geo. Ridley, Miss E. Draper and Miss Smith.

Pop corn: Mrs. G. Y. Hodge, Mrs. H. Hadley and Mrs. E. Dixon.

Doll stand: Arthur Polly and Roy Larkin.

Rolling balls: Walter Polly and Gilbert Young.

Check sellers: William Brown and John Tabrah.

A fine program of sports was carried out. The tug-of-war was the main event and was won by Tyngsboro. The prize, a beautiful silver cup, will be held by the winners until some other troop defeats them.

The other sports resulted as follows:

100 yard dash, 13 and under: G. Paasche, Chelmsford Centre, first; Clarence Armstrong, Pawtucketville, second; William Mansfield, Pawtucketville, third.

100 yards dash, over 14: Charles Barton, Eliot, first; Lawrence Brown, Tyngsboro, second; Edward Sheridan, Pawtucketville, third.

Obstacle race: Fred Sterling, Truant school, first; Lawrence Brown, Tyngsboro, second; George Chapman, Chelmsford Centre, third.

Shoe race: John Buchanan, North Chelmsford.

Following the sports, an attractive exhibition of acrobatic work was given by Charles Barton of the Eliot troop.

The program for the evening was a very delightful one and was carried out under the most pleasant conditions imaginable. The grounds of the Silesia Worsted Co., where the affair was held, were brilliantly lighted by myriads of electric lamps. There was music by the Vesper orchestra under the leadership of Herbert Waterhouse and a very pleasing entertainment by the Pawtucketville Minstrel club. The program given by the minstrel troupe, led by its conductor, H. A. Maxfield, was as follows:

Solo, "Sunny South," Master Lenfest; chorus, "On Mobile Bay"; end solo, "Negro Melody," I. Leggatt; duet, "When a Boy from Old New Hampshire," Messrs. Putnam and Mathison; end solo, "Mandy Lane," W. Silcox; end solo, "Put Your Arms Around Me," George Axon; solo, "Just for a Dear Little Girl," W. Mansfield; solo, "Old Oaken Bucket," W. Bartlett; end song, "I'm Going to Stay on Solid Ground," L. Conley; end song, "Rickety Rack," J. Grant.

Little Kenneth and Erwin Mitchell danced their minuet in a most charming manner, and Kenneth pleased exceedingly by dancing the sailor's hornpipe. Edna and Ethel Dixon danced the Highland Fling, an Irish jig and a sword dance. An exhibition of wrestling by Mansfield and Mochrie of the Y. M. C. A., in which the various scientific holds were demonstrated, concluded the entertainment, which was a success from start to finish.

DECORATION DAY

Observed by Knights of Pythias

Yesterday was decoration day for the order of Knights of Pythias and was beautifully observed by Wamesit lodge, No. 25, and Samuel H. Hines lodge, No. 56. The members met at their castle hall at 9.30 when the following program was in order:

Chopin's Funeral March, Miss Harriet E. Mansur; opening ode; tribute of respect, John McLeod, C. C., Wamesit; coming of the councillors, Fred W. Ireland, I. G., H. H. Hines; record of the departed, C. W. Peters, K. R. G., Wamesit; song, "Face to Face," Paul Worcester, Wamesit; obligations, Benj. Jordan, M. W., S. H. Hines; benevolence, Alex Fecteau, M. E., Wamesit; roll call of the departed, F. B. Wright, Wamesit; song, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," Edwin W. Killpartrick; symbol of veneration, V. C., F. C. Prescott, S. H. Hines; closing ode. Accompanist on piano, Miss Harriet E. Mansur.

At the close of the services barges were taken for the Lowell and Edson cemeteries, where the graves were decorated with bouquets of flowers.

At the close the members formed a square around the Pythian lot on First avenue when the beautiful closing ceremony of the order was performed. P. C. A. E. Joy of S. H. Hines delivered the oration. P. G. W. H. Gilman of S. H. Hines as prelate rendered the prayer.

A sextette, Mrs. Henry E. King, soprano; Mrs. Robert J. Fullerton, alto; P. C. Samuel Slott, P. C. E. E. Mansur, tenors; P. C. A. E. Joy, P. C. Robert J. Fullerton, basso, rendered selections during the evening.

The castle hall of the order was beautifully decorated with the flags of the order and the Stars and Stripes.

The services of the day were in charge of the following committee: P. C., Frank B. Wright, chairman, Wamesit; P. C., Robert J. Fullerton, secretary, S. H. Hines; P. C., Leon Berry, Wamesit; P. C., Alex Fecteau, Wamesit; I. G., Fred W. Ireland, S. H. Hines; P., Wallace Langell, S. H. Hines.

CHELMSFORD

The members of the graduating class of the Chelmsford High school attended the Central Baptist church yesterday morning and listened to an eloquent baccalaureate sermon on the subject, "I Must See Rome," by Rev. Mr. Ellis. The auditorium was very prettily decorated with wild flowers and ferns, and prominently displayed was a banner in blue and gold, the class colors, with the words "Class of 1911." Clusters of blue lilies and buttercups marked the seats reserved for the graduates. An anthem and response were given by the quartet, and a solo by Mrs. George Blackadar.

DIED SUDDENLY

Geo. Halstead Stricken With Hemorrhage

Fireman George T. Halstead of Engine 3, died rather suddenly Saturday afternoon while watching the parade of Patriarchs Militant.

Mr. Halstead had been at St. John's hospital for treatment for neuritis since June 6, and seemed to be improving right along. Saturday in company with his wife he was watching the parade from the hospital grounds, as the marchers passed along Bridge street, when he dropped to the ground unconscious. He was carried into the institution, where he passed away in a few moments. A hemorrhage of the brain was the cause of his sudden death.

Mr. Halstead was one of the most popular men of the fire department, having an enviable record for bravery on many occasions in his 28 years of service. He is survived by his wife, four sisters, Mrs. E. A. Dean of Everett, Miss Emma Halstead of Everett, Miss Martha Halstead of Hartford, Conn., and Mrs. Lila Clark, and three brothers, Captain William H. Halstead, Lieut. James W. Halstead of the Warren Street Protective, and John R. Halstead of New Jersey; one son, Arnold S. Halstead of New York.

The deceased was 60 years old, a member of the United Workmen and Veteran Firemen's association, and his home was at 111 Westford street.

MILITARY WALK

Lowell Officers Took Part In It

Over a score of local military men, most of them non-commissioned officers, left the local armory in Westford street yesterday morning to meet the non-commissioned officers of the other two companies of the first battalion of the Sixth regiment, at Wilmington. In all there were about 60 men present.

Capt. Walter R. Joyes of Company G was one of the local men to take part in the walk. He was attired in one of the new lightweight officers' uniforms. From Company C there were Lieuts. Patten and Powers. Co. G had 16 men, Co. C 4, and Co. K sent two men. Sergt. Colby of headquarters was also present.

The soldiers were attired in the olive drab uniform and were equipped with haversack and canteen and wore the army shoes.

The men traveled by electrics to Wilmington station and there met the officers and men from Companies A and H of Wakefield and Stoneham. Lieut. Marshall of the 17th infantry U. S. A. also came up as instructor of the day, and the column moved off at a leisurely pace in the direction of Wilmington Centre.

Frequent halts were made and the lieutenant explained the idea to the milltiamen. It was supposed that the enemy was in the direction of Andover. Orders had been given to seize the town in the morning and the company was to form the advance guard and throw out a point and march on with all possible speed to Andover. As he went along, the instructing officer questioned the men, bringing up situations and problems for them to solve, and afterward explaining every little detail. The column pushed on to North Wilmington, had a slight brush with the enemy, drove him back and went on still farther. They halted in a field near a cross roads above North Wilmington for dinner, and then returned, this time taking up outguard work and despatch sending.

Every man was given a map of the country with instructions to follow carefully. There will be another school of the same kind before the summer tour of duty.

...McNeil hoped against hope it might ...t be his wife, until careful examina...on revealed the blackened gold circlet ...hich had been Mrs. McNeil's wedding ...g. This established the identity of ...e body positively.

The other victim, Miss Kelly, had tried to fight her way up the companionway, only to fall back. She managed to reach the cabin, and in order to recover her body the firemen who aided in the search had to chop a hole through the aft deck.

About five feet of water had flowed into the cabin. The body, which was afloat, was easily reached and drawn out. Medical Examiner McGrath examined both bodies and superintended their removal.

It was thought at first Clarence Thompson, second pilot aboard the steamer, had also perished. He was reported missing after the fire, but was located later. He escaped without injury.

The six deckhands who were treated at the East Boston Relief Station were discharged during the day with the exception of Henry Shuman. He was sent to the City hospital, where he is in a serious condition.

The steamer was too badly burned for reconstruction. The hulk will probably be stripped of its metal work this week and arrangements will be made by the Boston, Nahant and Pines Steamboat company to replace her with another vessel.

ST. MARGARET'S

Corner Stone Laid By Rt. Rev. Bishop Anderson

One of the most imposing of all the beautiful outdoor religious events held in Lowell yesterday was the laying of the corner stone of the new St. Margaret's church in Stevens street, in the presence of a gathering of several thousand people of all religious denominations. There were present also many churchmen, despite the fast that the feast of Corpus Christi necessitated many more remaining at their own churches, and the officiating clergyman was Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, D. D., auxiliary bishop of Boston.

All the windows and piazzas of the residences in the vicinity were crowded while the streets and open spaces surrounding the new church were packed with people. From the broad veranda of the parochial residence the exercises were viewed by a large party of well known women, who have been untiring workers in behalf of the new church.

The exercises were preceded by a parade, participated in by the A. O. H., several hundred of whom were in line under the marshalship of Michael McMullin; the fourth degree members of Lowell council, K. of C., who acted as escort; the little girls of the parish in white dresses; the male members of the parish attired in frock coats and tall hats; the altar boys, and priests escorting the bishop and Monsignor Edward Moriarty of Cambridge. The bishop wore a mitre and vestments of gold, while Monsignor Moriarty was gowned in the purple of his office, the priests wearing the conventional black cassocks and white surplices. The procession was headed by the Lowell Military band, William Regan leader. It passed through Chauncey and D streets to Stevens street, where the Hibernians formed open order allowing the clergymen to pass between them to the platform erected over the foundation from which the exercises took place. A choir of mixed voices from all the Catholic churches of the city was congregated on the platform in the rear of the clergymen. The parochial residence and the church grounds were tastefully decorated and Old Glory waved from the flagpole.

The following was the program:

Selection .....Lowell Military Band
Hymn ..... Choir
Veni Creator.....James E. Donnelly
Sermon..Rev. Patrick J. Supple, D. D.
Selection.....Lowell Military Band
Laying of Corner Stone.
Right Rev. Joseph G. Anderson
Address ....Right Rev. J. G. Anderson
Closing Ode, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name"....By the Congregation

The band opened the exercises with the familiar strains of "Adesti Fidelis" and after the singing by the choir, Bishop Anderson proceeded to lay the corner stone. He was accompanied by Monsignor Moriarty, Rev. John Ryan, P. R., of Cambridge; Rev. James McCarthy of Boston, Rev. John J. Shaw of Lowell and Rev. W. George Mullin, acting pastor of St. Peter's church, as master of ceremonies.

In the corner stone were placed coins of today, lists of members of the city government, names of state chief executives, names of local Catholic clergymen, copies of Lowell and Boston daily papers and a brief history of the organization of the church.

Dr. Supple's Sermon

An eloquent sermon appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Rev. Patrick J. Supple, D. D., of Boston. His text was from Psalm 126: Unless the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it." Dr. Supple spoke in part as follows:

"We are laying today the corner stone which completes the foundation upon which will rise in stately grandeur your parish church to be dedicated to the worship of God under the patronage of the illustrious St. Margaret. It is fundamental work that we are accomplishing, for the foundation will give unity, security and stability to the building which rests upon it, and will serve as a permanent base. However resplendent the superstructure may be, it will constantly depend for its permanence upon the solidity of the foundation.

"But necessary as the foundation is to secure the coherent firmness of this material building, it assumes a much larger and deeper importance in what it signifies. For this corner stone binding together and completing the whole foundation, typifies the strength and solidity of the Catholic faith, in giving unity, security and stability to the intellectual, moral and spiritual life of a Catholic people.

"The firmness of the Catholic faith becomes remarkably striking in contrast with the religious condition in the world today. Outside the church, men are still searching for truth. What they hold regarding the origin of the world and the destiny of man, they hold tentatively, expecting further light to strengthen and amplify their conclusions. With them, truth is not a fixed reality, but available, to be set aside upon the discovery of further data. They cling to the idea that there is a continual progress in the development of religious truth, and the final goal of its complete possession is far off, if, indeed, it shall ever be reached.

"This pitiful condition of mind may be directly traced to the denial of the divinity of Jesus Christ. Refusing to believe that he is the Son of God who came into the world to teach men the truths of the heavenly kingdom, they set up in place of this divine oracle the fruitless searchings of their own minds. Refusing to regard him as other than mere man, they have lost the gift of divine faith, and they are floundering in the mazes of their own human speculations.

"What can they expect to accomplish? Their very lives are bounded by the limits of the world. We know when they were born and when they die. They have no experience of things outside this world. They have rejected Jesus Christ and His church, the divine teacher in the world. What, then can they tell us of the great hereafter, which, according to their principles, never falls under their experience? They are 'the blind leading the blind'

"How much more logical and firm the position of the Catholic believer. He believes in the truths of the God-head, in the ineffable and fruitful life of the Holy Trinity from all eternity, in the immortal destiny of man, and in that whole series of supernatural truths proclaimed by the church because Jesus Christ has revealed them. Here is no inconsistency, no contradiction. He believes that Christ is the God man. Whatever then, he has revealed concerning the life of God and the origin and destiny of man, is true, for he is the eternal witness of all.

"With the Divinity of Jesus Christ for a foundation all else is secure. This fundamental truth gives firmness to the whole circle of truths which centers around it and rests upon it. It is the corner stone of your faith. Being the saviour of the human race who came into the world to teach men the truth, it is preposterous to suppose that Christ did not make some provision for the conservation and dissemination of the truth. To hold that he left it to the caprice of the human intellect is to disparage his wisdom, and practically to deny his divinity.

"That he did make such provision is patent to all who wish to see and who are not wedded to some personal point of view. The records are open and the history of the world since his departure from the earth testifies to the existence among men of a church which he founded and which has endured by his divine assistance.

"We congratulate pastor and people upon the energy with which this work has been advanced, and we see in it a pledge of spiritual work in this place that will for many years to come be an inspiration to those who come here to worship."

Bishop Anderson made a brief congratulatory address. "I desire to express our appreciation of this demonstration in behalf of the church," said the bishop. "It is certainly a happy day for you and your pastor. You have convincingly demonstrated your faith and devotion to the Catholic church, and I may say that the city of Lowell has been conspicuous in its loyalty and in its progress in this diocese. Additional evidence of this will soon be found in the laying of another corner stone in a different part of the city. This splendid response is an indication of what you are about to do. I ask God's blessing on the work before St. Margaret's church."

REV. JOHN J. HARKINS, Pastor.

REV. W. G. MULLIN, Acting Pastor, St. Peter's Church.

Among the clergymen present in addition to those above mentioned were: The Rev. D. J. Hefferman, the Rev. T. S. Schofield, the Rev. John J. Burns, the Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I.; the Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., the Rev. Frances Mullin, Rev. Henry C. Reardon, Rev. Fr. Dugan, Rev. James McCarthy, Rev. Timothy Mahoney, the Rev. Fr. Chmielinski.

John J. Pinder was chairman of the committee on arrangements, and George M. Harrigan chairman of the reception committee.

Fr. Harkins Present

While general regret was expressed at the inability of the Rev. Fr. Harkins to take part in the exercises, the parishioners had the satisfaction of knowing that the popular pastor was at least an eye-witness. Fr. Harkins insisted on leaving the hospital to be present, and with the understanding that he should not participate in the exercises he was permitted to come to Lowell and he viewed the laying of the corner stone from a window in the parochial residence.

The coins placed in the corner stone box were secured after considerable work by George M. Harrigan, president of the Lowell Trust Co. They all bear this year's date, and Mr. Harrigan was obliged to communicate with officials at the mint in Philadelphia and the treasury department at Washington before he secured the coins.

Card of Thanks

The following card of thanks is addressed to The Sun by Rev. John J. Harkins, writing from the Carney hospital in Boston:

The Rev. J. J. Harkins, pastor of St. Margaret's church, desires to thank very sincerely Rev. W. George Mullen, acting pastor of St. Peter's church, for his untiring efforts, in the entire arrangements of the very successful exercises connected with the corner stone laying of St. Margaret's church, Sunday. Fr. Harkins wishes to voice hereby not only his own personal gratitude, but that of his parishioners, to Fr. Mullen, to the A. O. H., the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, and all others who contributed their efforts on this occasion. To one and all he is deeply grateful.

(Signed) J. J. Harkins.

AT PICNIC OF THE FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH

The annual picnic of the First Trinitarian Congregational Sunday school was held at Willow Dale Saturday and the affair which was largely attended proved to be very enjoyable for the younger class as well as for the grown up people who were also in attendance.

Special cars conveyed the children to Lakeview, whence they were taken to the Dale on the steamer. There were games of all sorts on the grounds and at 1 o'clock a dainty dinner was served. The prizes were awarded as follows:

100 yards dash: Herbert H. Taylor; second, Alfred Booth; third, William B. Mochrie.

Young boys' 100 yards dash: First, Emery Dearth; second, Herschell Clough; third, Frederick Goodale.

Girls' race: First, Bessie Hamlett; second, Rita Taylor; third, Marion Clark.

Running broad jump: First, W. B. Mochrie; second, H. H. Taylor.

Pole vault: First, Rothwell Smith, and second, W. B. Mochrie.

An exciting ball game was later played between the Y. M. C. A. Indians of the Interurban league and the Sunday school team, the Indians winning out by a score of 17 to 6. The lineup of the teams was as follows: Indians: Snyder c, Smith p and lf, Monahan p and 2, Bennett 1b, Kerr 2b, Clark ss, Booth 3b, Cameron rf and McGrath and Taylor cg.

Sunday school team: Hazeltine p, Stanley c, Ramsay 1b, Cashin 2b, Upton ss, Bayshaw 3b, Monahan lf, Mochrie cf and Burke rf. Rev. Mr. Kenngott was the umpire and Fr. H. H. Sumner the score-keeper. The feature of the game was the batting of Bennett, who drove out two home runs and two singles.

Supper was served at 6 o'clock, and many of those who had gone to the Dale returned home on the special car at 7 o'clock. Mr. Joseph C. McGray had charge of the tickets and sports, and Nelson C. Hill of the lemonade and refreshments.

BADLY INJURED

COLLINSVILLE MAN FELL FROM ELECTRIC CAR

Joseph Kennedy of Mill street, Collinsville, suffered a bad accident Saturday evening while returning from Canobie Lake park. The man was sitting on the end seat of a car and when the car reached the Meadow road turnout, in some unaccountable manner Kennedy was pitched headlong on the ground and was badly cut and bruised about the head and face. He was removed to his home in an unconscious condition but today he is reported as resting comfortably.

PRESENTED A SILVER SET

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Miss Lillian Harrington of 30 Crawford street, when about 50 of her friends presented her a beautiful silver set. The presentation speech was delivered by Miss Ella Callahan. There were piano selections by Misses May Tulstie and Katherine Wholey; songs by Messrs. Frank Cogger, Roy Dunfey, Dan Wholey and John Moynahan; readings by Miss Rita Murray and Mr. George Reynolds. Refreshments were served and the guests departed wishing the hostess many happy returns. Those in charge were the Misses Grace Reynolds, Esther Schonborn, Katherine Cogger, Bertha Douglass and Ella Callahan.

BARROWS STILL LEADS

Lowell Captain Tops New England Batters

Some of the leading batters of the New England league found the going rather hard last week, although the avalanche of hits last Saturday helped some. Capt. Roland Barrows of the Lowell club is still the leading swatter, but with a reduced average. Those two games Saturday gave him just enough hits to keep him at the top. Pearson, the Lawrence pitcher, who led several weeks and fell back to second a week ago, is now fourth, having been passed by Joe Briggs of the same team and Burkett of Worcester, who is tied for second place with Briggs. Russell of Worcester is coming strong, jumping from 17th place to fifth in a week. Henriksen and Boardman of Brockton and Phoenix of Lawrence, showed great stickwork last week and are up with the leaders.

Of the 26 leading batters Lawrence has five, Brockton, Lowell and Worcester four each, Haverhill three and Lynn, New Bedford and Fall River two each.

CAPT. ROLAND BARROWS,
Leading Batter, New England League.

Moulton of Lowell is still leading in runs scored, having made the circuit 47 times, seven of which he made Saturday. Magee of the same team is second with 43 and Henriksen is third with 40.

Lonergan of Brockton has lost the lead in stolen bases to Carlstrom of Lawrence, who has 18, one more than the Brockton flyer. Courtney of Haverhill is third with 15.

Haas of Worcester leads in sacrifice hits with 14, having broken the triple tie with Carlstrom and Grob, the latter two having 12 each.

Ward of Brockton continues to lead the pitchers. Van Dyke lost two games last week and dropped from second to sixth. Harrington of Lynn is now second.

The averages of the 26 leading batters and 11 leading pitchers, including Saturday's games, are as follows:

MALCOLM'S DAY

Haverhill High Pitcher Squared Old Account

Malcolm, the crack pitcher of the Haverhill Highs, who was pounded off the mound a short time ago vindicated himself Saturday when he put it all over the local boys, defeating them 7 to 3. Leggat was in fine form for Lowell, but he received poor support. The score:

WALTER JOHNSON

Seems to Be Losing His Speed

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Local baseball critics say that Walter Johnson, the star twirler of the Washington team, has changed his whole style of pitching, thus making strikeouts fewer. Formerly Johnson would not pitch more than two or three curve balls during a game when he was at his best. Now he is curving almost every other one, besides resorting to a change of pace frequently. But that speed with which the ball fairly hopped over the plate is sadly missing.

WHY THEY FAIL

MOST PILE REMEDIES MISS THE CAUSE OF PILES

Disagreeable treatment with ointments or suppositories usually fails to cure piles and cutting them off won't remove the cause. Such treatment only moderates the outside effects of the disease and fails to remedy the inside cause. The up-to-date doctors now use internal medicine, to free the circulation in the lower bowel, and so remove the disease.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Rold, the first and only guaranteed internal pile cure—in the form of tablets—cures any kind of piles. Sold by Carter & Sherburne Co., Lowell, Mass., and druggists everywhere. $1.00 for large box. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y.

YOUNG TWIRLER

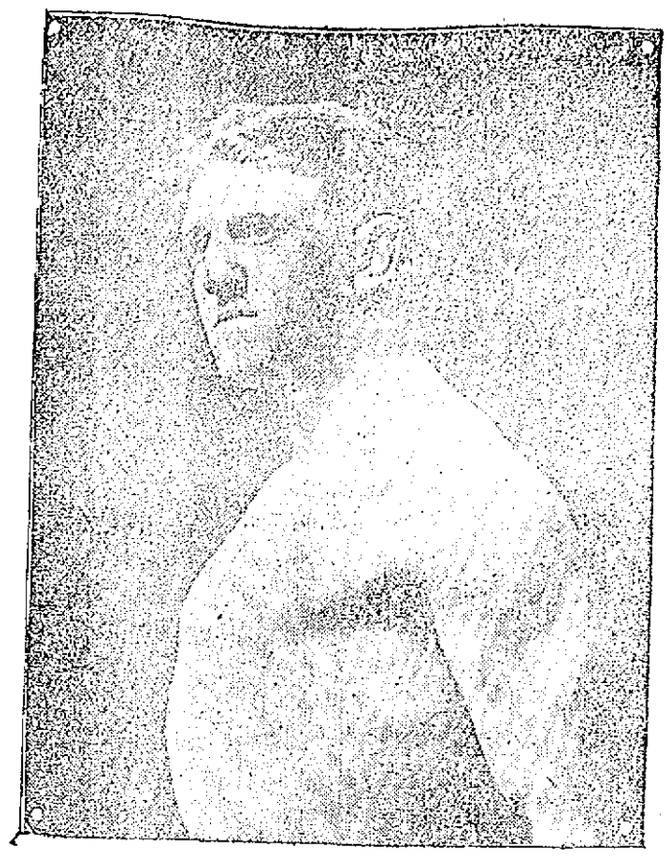
Fisher May Be Find of Season

NEW YORK, June 19.—In figuring on the star twirlers this season the official scorer had better keep an eye out for Ray Fisher of the New York Americans. Early in the spring Manager Hal Chase predicted that Fisher would be one of the greatest young twirlers of the year. On several occasions this year he got away to a bad start, but in the second battle with the Detroit Tigers recently the youngster flashed across the baseball sky like a meteor and pitched one of the best twirled games of the season. Though the Tigers scratched him for five singles, they were scattered through nine long innings, no two of them coming in a single round. Not alone that, but he made two hits. He will be heard from later.

J. B. REICHMANN

Charged With Making False Statement

NEW YORK, June 19.—Joseph B. Reichmann, ex-president of the Carnegie Trust company, charged with having made a false statement to the state banking department officials in a report, is now on trial here. The offense is claimed to constitute perjury. Andrew Carnegie was examined by District Attorney Whitman regarding his alleged connection with people interested in the company before he sailed for Europe.



LOU ELLIS.

WRESTLING BOUT

A FINE PROGRAM TO PLEASE LOCAL FANS

Local fans will have a chance to witness one of the best matches of the season tomorrow night at the Hathaway theatre, when Lou Ellis, the southern champion, known as the mountain lion, undertakes to wrest the 170 lb. eastern championship from Jim Prokos, the local wrestler, whom Boston fans call the Terrible Greek. Both men are evenly matched in weight and it looks as though the Greek will have to go some if he expects to carry off the long green. If confidence counts for anything, Ellis will undoubtedly win as he says he will win two straight falls in jig time. The semi-final should be equally as good as the main bout. Wilfrid Barrette, the French middleweight champion, will meet Joe Turner, middle weight champion of America, who made his first appearance in this section on the mat in a fast match in Boston, last Friday. The papers spoke highly of his work.

GUESTS OF KING

Reach London for the Coronation

LONDON, June 19.—A score of King George's coronation guests, accompanied by their suites, reached London today and with as many more from foreign courts and states due to arrive this afternoon will complete practically the assemblage of foreign missions. John Hays Hammond, special United States ambassador, and his suite will be included in the late arrivals coming from Dover on a special train. The night-long work of the army of decorators served to enliven most of the streets in the center of London. Flags gave a gala appearance while the intermittent rainstorms could not spoil. The decorations and illuminations are on a scale never before attempted in England and the demand for electric lighting is so great that the electrical companies have served public notice that their capacity to supply the current has been exhausted and that they cannot undertake further contracts.

THE BIGELOW CO

To Build Another Large Mill

The Bigelow Carpet company has made application for a permit to build another large mill in connection with and to add to its present plant. A permit for the foundation was issued about two years ago. The new building will be known as mill No. 17, and will be built along the Pawtucket canal between mills No. 16 and 18. It will be used as a dyehouse and will be of brick, steel and concrete construction. It will be 277 feet long and 46 feet wide. The mill will probably cost in the vicinity of $100,000.

AN AWFUL SLAUGHTER

Lowell Made 40 Runs and 42 Hits Off Haverhill

There were nearly 5000 enthusiastic baseball fans at Spalding park Saturday p. m. to witness the double header between Lowell and Haverhill. It was the largest crowd that ever assembled on the field and people present enjoyed two record breaking games. Owing to the large attendance it was necessary to make ground rules.

The grandstand and bleachers were packed with people and those who were unable to secure seats sat on the grass in right and left field.

There was one mishap in the first inning when Reynolds of the visiting team while running for a fly near the right field foul flag, collided with one of the boys who sells peanuts, corn cakes, chewing gum, etc. Reynolds and the boy and the contents of the basket were all over the field as a result of the collision but neither Reynolds nor the boy was injured but the latter had a job collecting his wares.

Lowell started off bad but Wolfgang pulled the team out of a hole. In the first half of the first inning three errors were made by Lowell allowing the visitors to score a run. Then Wolfgang struck three men out. In the latter half of the first the Lowell players hammered the life out of McIntire, by which, together with errors by the visitors, Lowell managed to score six runs.

James Bannon made his first appearance as an umpire and he was loudly applauded by the crowd when he started to operate his high-tenor voice.

Lowell won by a score of 26 to 2.

THE SECOND GAME

After an intermission of 10 minutes the second game was started with the fans calling lustily for another victory. They got it for the home team were on their mettle and once more put two pitchers out of commission winning the second game by a score of 14 with 15 hits. While the second game was in progress the balloon passed over the field and it proved to be a good omen. Lowell played a sharp fielding game in the second as well as in the first a double play brought about by Boultes being the fielding feature. The score:

STOCK MARKET

A VIGOROUS BUYING MOVEMENT AT THE OPENING

Active Stocks Eased Off Early in the Afternoon—The Market Was Steady at the Close—Hill Issues Showed a Degree Of Heaviness

NEW YORK, June 19.—Stocks responded to a vigorous buying movement at the opening of the market today and prices improved. U. S. Steel improved ½ on the opening transactions of 3000 shares. Gains of the same amount were made by Amalgamated Copper, U. P., Southern Ry., Kansas City Southern, N. P. and American Telephone, while Canadian Pacific moved up ¾. A few of the industrials were heavy. Virginia Carolina Chemical lost a point, International Steam Pump ⅜ and International Harvester ½.

There were sharp additions to the opening advances, but after a number of important stocks had risen a point or so the demand became less urgent and speculation grew dull.

A decidedly stronger tone prevailed this morning in the market, which exhibited none of the weakness that appeared toward the close of last week. Prices rose generally and although trading fell off at the higher range the advances were fully maintained. The more confident tone was attributed in parts to the success of the Panama bond issue and the part which it is expected to play in improving the tenor of speculation. The Erie stocks moved up from 1 to 2 points. Many of the important issues were quoted in the neighborhood of a point from above Saturday's close. Bonds were firm.

Some of the southern groups of stocks responded to widespread rains in the cotton districts and the whole market was measurably benefited by the steady accumulation of various leaders. Southern Railroad pfd. improved 1⅜ and Reading, Northern Pacific, Atlantic Coast line and Westinghouse Electric 1.

Active stocks eased off a trifle from the best, but the undertone continued strong and a number of specialties and minor railroads moved up materially. Nearly $750,000 of the Panama threes were dealt in on the curb. The closing price on Saturday, before the awards were made, was 103.

The market closed steady. Moderate profit-taking cost the standard stocks most of the day's rise and the Hill issues showed a degree of heaviness, hardened 2 and 3 points respectively.

AVIATORS KILLED

At the Start of the Great Race in Paris

PARIS, June 19.—Fifty aviators took wing early yesterday from the field at Vincennes on the first stage of the European circuit race, which calls for a flight to London and return, with stops at various places going and returning.

Two of the aviators, almost immediately after the start, met with tragic deaths, one was killed later and at least one was gravely hurt.

Of the 50 aviators who started the race 38 were civilians and 12 officers assigned to the contest for military duty. Hung up for the competitors are prizes amounting to $94,000.

Dawn at Vincennes saw many hundreds of thousands of persons—variously estimated at from 500,000 to 1,000,000—massed around the military exercise field to witness the start of the race. Omnibuses, cabs and automobiles had been running thither throughout the night with spectators.

The roads were choked with vehicles and reserves of troops had to be hastily summonded to deal with the refractory crowds. There also, were on the aviation field multitudes of persons on foot who had come from the nearby underground railway stations besides 6000 soldiers and 4000 police, most of them mounted, trying to keep the field clear.

Preceded by a Mass

A single gun fired at 5.45 signaled the commencement of the preliminaries to the races. Abbe Lerebourg was just finishing the mass at an improvised altar in an aeroplane hangar for some of the aviators who desired spiritual preparation for the perils of the day.

M. Le Martin, who was dying within the hour, was among those who were kneeling for blessing and consolation.

The second gun sounded at 6 o'clock and Maurice Tabuteau, Pierre Vedrine and M. Bathiat, who were already in position at the starting line, whirled away within a minute of each other amid a volume of cheering.

The aviators started from three parallelograms from one to three minutes apart. Tetard, Kimmerling, Andre Beaumont, Gaget, Henri Molla, Roland Garros, Vidart, Henri Wynmalen, Morin and Prevot were off within 20 minutes.

Then followed Jean Bielovucci, Amerigo, Pascal, Duval, Bobba, Count Laespel, Loridan, Cemenes, Charlix, LaBouret, LeLasseue, De Nissote, Allard, Charles T. Weymann, Barra, Gilbert, Valentine, Marquis de Romanee, Lendron, Morrison, Bille, La Martin, Verrpt, Euhling, Dalger, and last of all, Emile Train, whose machine recently killed Minister of War Berteaux and wounded Premier Monis.

Killed Near the Start

Among those in the official stand were Premier Monis' son, Anyoln, who was injured when M. Berteaux was killed; Gen. Francis Goiran, minister of war, who succeeded M. Berteaux; M. Delcasse and M. Lepine, prefect of Paris.

The wind was rising at the start of the contest and Le Martin, who was one of the most experienced aviators in France, recked about a good deal as his machine cleared the ground and swept across the field.

His aeroplane had reached the woods a quarter of a mile beyond the barriers when it was observed to pitch swiftly downward and into the trees. Le Martin was using a biplane, which was broken badly as it landed at the foot of an oak tree.

A corner of the motor struck Le Martin's head, crushing his skull and his right leg was fractured in two places. The aviator was barely alive when he was taken away by Red Cross surgeons, whose stations surrounded the field, and died in a few minutes after he reached the hospital.

Stearing Gear Out of Order

Something was wrong with the stearing gear of Le Martin's machine. It had acted badly earlier in the morning and Le Martin in endeavoring to adjust the difficulty, asked his friend, Roland Garros, to assist him.

Garros advised him not to go up, but Le Martin, after, as he believed, putting the apparatus in order, decided to attempt the flight.

Garros himself had trouble with his machine, which acted rather wildly, but after two ineffectual attempts at starting he got away safely.

Army Experiments

Gen. Goiran, the new war minister, had selected yesterday for comprehensive scouting maneuvers by the army aeroplanists. Twelve were detailed to work out certain problems in reconnoissance.

One set forth from Chalon, four from St. Cyr and seven from Issy les Molineaux. Among the latter was Capt. Princetau. He had scarcely got well into the air when one of the planes of his machine caught fire.

Capt. Princetau, it was seen by his fellow officers, was struggling to undo a strap that was holding him firmly in his seat so as to be free to jump as he glided toward the earth.

Before he could loosen the belt however, the motor of his machine exploded and flaming benzine gushed over him. He did not utter a cry and when the wreckage fell to the ground the captain was dead.

His body was fearfully burned. Capt. Princetau probably had been asphyxiated by the first burst of the benzine flame. He was one of the most courageous and capable aviators in the army.

Just Gazetted Captain

Princetau had been a lieutenant since 1900 and yesterday was gazetted a captain in the official gazette, the decree reading: "By a ministerial decision of June 11, 1911, M. Princetau, lieutenant 7th chasseurs, is detached from the service of aviation and is advanced to the grade of captain for exceptional service rendered to military aviation."

A tragic coincidence of Princetau's death was that at the exact spot where he fell Laffert, the French aviator, and Pola, a passenger, were killed last December in the competition for the Auto club's prize for a flight from Paris to Brussels and only a few yards away the French minister of war met death four weeks ago.

Ten Come to Grief Early

Ten of the competitors in the race yesterday, although they started officially, never got beyond the limits of the maneuvering field. Either on account of the gusty wind or because their machines developed eccentricities they all came down and gave up their chances of winning the contest.

Sixteen different styles of monoplanes and biplanes were used. The troops and police before and during the starting of the contestants had much trouble in keeping the unruly, pushing crowds from storming the enclosures.

They did invade the field at several places, once almost occupying the starting reservation. Mounted troops, however, slowly forced the people back and 200 persons were more or less injured, chiefly by being trampled by the horses of the cavalry and by the feet of the mob when they lost their footing and fell.

The Red Cross surgeons had a busy time in dressing the wounds of those injured.

LAWN PARTY

TO BE HELD AT THE HOME OF P. A. BROUSSEAU

A lawn party will be held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Pierre A. Brousseau, 13 Essex street, Centralville. The affair will be given under the auspices of J. N. Jacques council, U. S. J. Bte. d'A., and the proceeds will be devoted to the fund for the purchase of the Mallett library now at Woonsocket, R. I.

This library is the property of L'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amerique, but as it was purchased with the funds of the society, the insurance commissioners advised the officials of the society to sell it. The councils of this organization want to retain the said library and for this purpose they are organized socials of all kinds to raise funds for its purchase and it will be later returned to the union.

Council Jacques of this city has taken up the initiative of these socials and the first one will be held Thursday evening. There will be a special program of music and speeches, and whist will also be in order.

Among the speakers expected at the lawn party are Felix Gatineau of Southbridge, president general of the union, M. Bisson of Manchester, N. H., Achille Dreuix of Lawrence, Rev. Frs. J. N. Jacques and R. A. Fortier, pastor and curate respectively of St. Louis' parish.

The committee in charge of the affair is composed of the following: Adelphe Bouchard, Pierre A. Brousseau, Elphege J. Beaudette, Albert Marcotte and Henri Poirier.

SECRET AGENTS

Say They Have Discovered Frauds

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Frauds amounting to several millions of dollars on duties on cutlery during the last few years have been discovered by secret agents of the customs service who under the direction of Chief Wilkie have been working quietly in this country and in the Sollgen district of Germany, whence most of the imports came to the United States.

FINES OF $5000

Paid by Officers of Investment Co.

BOSTON, June 19.—A roll of $5,000 in bills was thrown down in front of counsel for Rev. Norman Plass and Charles H. Brooks, former president and general manager of the Redeemable Investment Co., in the United States district court today when fines of $2,500 each were imposed on them for using the mails in a scheme to defraud by selling stock in the company. Mr. Brooks tossed the roll down and after the money had been turned over to the clerk and the discharges read to the two defendants they walked out of the court without comment. John I. Traphagen, the assistant treasurer, will be sentenced next week. All three pleaded guilty to the charge, Plass and Brooks changing their attitude in the midst of their trial.

The fine imposed today was by arrangement with the district attorney, when he accepted the pleas last week.

Rev. Mr. Plass was at one time president of Washburn college, Topeka, Kansas, and was engaged in selling investment stock in Providence previous to his coming to this city.

THREE MEN HELD

Are Suspected of Being Burglars

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 19.—Three men who say that they belong in Fitchburg, Mass., but who are believed by the police to be professional burglars, are held at the police station here on suspicion of having dynamited the safe at the Sussex Cheese and Butter Co. at Sussex last Friday. The men gave their names as Dennis Cormier, Oliver Cormier and Joseph McCoy.

When arrested they had just completed the 46 mile walk from Sussex to this city.

REAR ADMIRAL DEAD

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., June 19.—Rear Admiral Cipriano Andrade, U. S. N., retired, died at Dr. Wadsworth's sanitorium yesterday and the body was sent to Washington today for burial in the national cemetery at Arlington. Rear Admiral Andrade, who was second on the retired list of rear admirals, had made his home in New York city, where his widow and two sons reside.

PLANTING OF IVY

TOOK PLACE AT SMITH COLLEGE TODAY

NORTHAMPTON, June 19.—The planting of the ivy, one of the most picturesque features in connection with the commencement festivities at Smith college, took place today under ideal weather conditions and in the presence of the entire student body of the college and a large number of visitors and townspeople.

The procession formed on the campus, in front of the student building, and the line of march was taken up to Seely hall across the campus, thence to the new library building, where the ivy was planted. The procession was led by the juniors acting as escort to the 365 members of the senior class. All of the seniors were gowned in white and each carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The juniors, also dressed in white, bore in their hands a long chain of mountain laurel.

The ivy was planted by the president of the senior class, Miss Laura E. Willsar of Bridgewater, Mass., and Smith songs were sung by the students, after which the exercises were transferred to one of the halls.

CARBONOL

Cleans Everything

CARBONOL is a coal tar extract. It cleans better than soap. Put a spoonful in a bucket of water, and it will kill germs of decay, dissolve grease, kill smells, especially musty odors in old houses, and make the home healthier. Use it in cleaning the sick room. Keep flies away by sprinkling the garbage with it. It dissolves grease in waste pipes; removes stains; disinfects wounds and sores. Kills bacteria anywhere. 10c and 25c a bottle.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

The virtues of those Indian remedies were quite strikingly shown upon the death of the late Mrs. Ole Bull. When people of wealth place themselves in the hands of such spook fakers they may know what to expect.

The Fall River Herald is to be congratulated on the splendid industrial edition it has issued in honor of the Cotton Centennial celebration now in progress in Fall River. It is a great boom for the city and a great feat for The Herald.

On September 26 the people of this state will have the first opportunity to test the direct nomination law that applies to all officers. There is plenty of time to educate the voters to the importance of attending the primaries on that date and voting for the best men on the respective tickets.

Premier Laurier of Canada is winning some important points at the conference of premiers in London. He has just had ratified an agreement by which foreign powers will be negotiated with to permit any colony to withdraw from a commercial treaty without abrogating the treaty so far as the other colonies are concerned.

The Boston school board should arrange to grant an increase to the elementary teachers and thus save the reputation of Boston and at the same time the principle of home rule. The whole world knows now that they are poorly paid and that by a single vote the legislature was prevented from making the increase compulsory.

Cuban gratitude to the United States for our helping the people to complete independence does not extend to the abandonment of the mother tongue, the adopting of English and eventually the loss of their national character as a people. Indeed they seem to be jealous of the United States, evidently fearing annexation in case of disturbance.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION WORK

The society for the extension of university teaching has issued a prospectus for the coming year and a report of its last year's work, showing that it has steadily extended the scope of its influence. Any number of people in any city who get together and agree to apply to this society for a course of lectures by college professors upon any subject the applicants may select, can have those lectures if they pay the moderate fee and provide the hall, warmed and lighted, together with a sufficient number of students to make the lecture worth while. This affords a means by which adults may continue their education through life in a variety of branches at a nominal expense.

WHO'S HEAD OF OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT?

Under our present charter and ordinances not even the city solicitor can tell who is head of the fire department. Within the past few weeks we have had the spectacle of the committee on fire department investigating one of the fire houses on certain charges and recommending that the captain be transferred and reduced to the ranks. So far as can be learned the superintendent of the fire department will refuse to carry out the recommendations of the committee and may decide also to take no action in the matter.

Here we have an instance of the need of fixing responsibility for the right management of a municipal department, so that if anything goes wrong the people may know to whom they should look for a remedy. It is quite likely that this state of affairs will not be set right until we have a new charter which will leave no mistake as to who is responsible for the management of each and every department. It is understood, of course, that power must go with responsibility, for no official can justly be held responsible for conditions unless she has power to change them.

TO REGULATE PUBLIC UTILITIES

Considerable interest centres in the meeting of the national committee of the American Civic Federation in New York this week for the specific purpose of framing a law for the regulation of railroads and other public utilities. This committee appointed by Seth Low is composed of practical men who are well able to deal with this difficult problem. For some time past there has been an effort by many states and also by the federal government to bring the great combinations of capital under definite control, so as to restrain their action and prevent them encroaching upon the rights of the people. Ever since the days of Mark Hanna these combinations have in various ways been overriding the rights of the individual; but the government has called a halt and the trusts and the railroads are to be so regulated that they will no longer be able to fix prices of commodities and thus reduce the purchasing power of the dollar as much as they please. Already something has been done to curb their power, and a variety of laws has been framed by various states with this end in view. To draft a model law for this purpose is the aim of the meeting in New York, and the outcome will be watched with interest.

The task in hand is one surrounded with a great many legal and other difficulties, one that has already taxed the skill of the ablest lawyers; but the time is ripe for a remedy, and it is bound to come. The Civic Federation may point the way to a solution of the problem and thus hasten the day when the stability of business and the welfare of the individual will be equally protected.

THE SURVIVAL OF THE UNFIT.

'Tis the cracked and noiseless pitcher
That survives the hardest knocks;
'Tis the gown that least becomes us
That outwears our favorite frocks.
'Tis the broken ribbed umbrella
That confronts us, rainy days,
While our own, pearl-handled treasure
In some other hall-rack stays.

'Tis the coarse and common fabric
Goes unscathed through suds and dust.
While our best and finest linen
Gets the coffee-stains and rust.
'Tis the weed that's most obnoxious
That is left to spread and grow,
While the slips we dearly cherish
Fall a victim to the hoe.

'Tis the battle scarred old Thomas,
Who spits and growls and bites,
Who stays with us from year to year,
And murders sleep o' nights,
While frolicsome young Tabby,
With temper sweet and mild,
Becomes the prey of vandal boys,
Or is by thief beguiled.

'Tis the friend our heart most longed for
Who can just a minute stay,
While the family aversion
Comes prepared to spend the day.
Thus, numberless examples
Do not prove one little bit
The correctness of that saying—
"The survival of the fit."

SOME HATCHING

Si Stebbins bought a setting hen,
The best he ever got.
He set it on a door-knob
And it hatched a house and lot.

Josh Brewster bought a setting hen,
And now he's in a quandary.
He set it on a Chinese egg
And it hatched out a laundry.
Bill Sprucely bought a setting hen,
And, much against his wishes,
It, too, sat on a china egg,
But hatched out a set of dishes.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed in St. John's church yesterday morning. Two masses were celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield. At each mass an instructive sermon on the gospel of the day was preached by Fr. Schofield. There was special singing by the boys of the Training school at the communion and at the close of the mass. A procession in honor of the blessed sacrament was held around the church and the priest and altar boys took part.

A triduum in honor of the Sacred Heart will open Wednesday evening at 7.30 and close Friday evening at the same hour.

The various committees in charge of the picnic are hustling, and Fr. Schofield asked the people yesterday to give Fr. Doherty their best support to make this affair the best ever conducted in the history of the parish.

Announcement was also made to the parishioners of St. John's about the splendid success Fr. Schofield has achieved in the completion of the church in Graniteville. Special mention was made of the check of $1630 he received from Messrs. Cameron and Abbott, the manufacturers in Forge Village and Graniteville.

HOW TO GET RID OF PIMPLES

It is truly remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently helped in a week, and sometimes even sooner. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off, leaving the skin as soft and smooth as a baby's. Pimples are a disease of the skin and are not caused by bad blood, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these annoying and disfiguring facial blemishes because it can be applied direct to the trouble, and its soothing, antiseptic and healing powers stop the itching at once. Cadum is equally good for rash, blotches, scaly skin, chafings, eczema, sores, eruptions, acne, psoriasis, etc. 10c and 25c per box at all druggists.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Alfred Waterhouse and Miss Fabiola Lefebvre was solemnized this morning at St. Jean Baptiste church. The ceremony took place at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Bernecie, O. M. I. The young couple were attended by Messrs. L. J. Z. Robillard and M. Dion. After the ceremony the party repaired to the home of the groom's parents in Willard street, Dracut, where a dainty breakfast was served, followed by a reception. Among the guests present were friends from Boston and other cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. They will leave tomorrow morning for a short honeymoon trip to New York. After their return they will make their home with the groom's parents in Willard street.

LATOUR—MARCHAND

Mr. Ernest Latour and Miss Marie Rose Marchand were united in marriage this morning, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Fr. Denizot, O. M. I., D. D., at a nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory. The witnesses were Messrs. Pierre Latour and Ephrem Marchand. The young couple left on a wedding trip immediately after the mass.

LUSSIER—McDONALD

A pretty wedding took place this morning when Mr. Theodore Lussier and Miss Adrienne McDonald were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at St. Louis' church at 6 o'clock by Rev. J. N. Jacques. The witnesses were Rosario Lussier and Ferdinand Lussier. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Lussier, 83 Lilley avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Lussier left on the 10 o'clock train for Brockton, where they will spend a short honeymoon. After their return they will make their home at 83 Lilley avenue.

A Suggestion for Outings

When you pack your bags and baskets remember it may not be all fun. Sunburn, brown tail poison, mosquito bites, poison ivy—are all things that may spoil a lot of your pleasure if you don't protect yourself against them. A small bottle of Toiletine will save you lots of discomfort from these things. Get it at our druggist's and always take it along when you are going away from home. It soothes inflamed parts and heals cuts, sores and wounds. It is entirely harmless and can be used freely and safely at all times.

PATRIARCHS MILITANT

Well Pleased With Their Reception in This City

The visiting Patriarchs Militant who were in town Saturday as the guests of Canton Pawtucket, I. O. O. F., were delighted with the way they were received by their fellow brethren of Lowell.

They also made a very good showing for the procession was one of the prettiest of its kind ever held in this city. An ideal afternoon was spent at Willow Dale and it was late in the evening when the return trip was made.

Charles J. Morse, the efficient chairman of the committee of arrangements, may well feel proud of the Department Council meeting and the parade.

Comrades John S. Dennett and Erwin A. Wilson had a joy ride to Willow Dale and Chevaliers Holt, John S. Dennett and Erwin A. Wilson were the great stalwarts in the "line up" of Canton Pawtucket.

Much regret was expressed at the absence of Col. John C. Bennett. He was much sought for by his friend, Major A. W. Rose of Manchester, N. H.

Then there were Past Department Commanders "Steve" Welch of Lynn, A. E. Bliss of Malden, and Department Commanders H. B. Farrington of Manchester, who is now serving his fourth term in that office, all leaders in the Patriarchs Militant branch of the order.

W. D. McFee of Haverhill is a hustling colonel and is much respected by the chevaliers who compose his staff.

Mr. Charles A. Roberts, artist of The Sun, was introduced to many of the prominent officials of the order at Willow Dale.

Past Department Commander Frank M. Merrill was "Johnny on the spot" in looking out for the welfare of the department and past department commanders during the council meeting and the entire day.

Night Editor William J. Welpley of the Brockton Times was a visitor and came with Canton Nemasket, also of Brockton.

Lieut. Frank H. Gunther of the local canton had an auto at the service of all committees, thereby expediting all matters pertaining to the council meeting.

Among the visiting brethren were many members of the B. P. O. E. They were cared for by members of Lowell lodge, who were on the several committees of Canton Pawtucket. Col. McFee is esteemed lecturing knight of Haverhill lodge, and Department Commander Zenas W. Lewis a member of Brockton lodge. They were recognized during the parade and loudly cheered.

Assistant Adjt. General R. E. Brayton makes an efficient clerk for Department Commander Z. W. Lewis.

"Tom" Boucher is favorably known throughout the state among the fraternity of the Patriarchs Militant and he is greatly appreciated by newspaper men as the man who has the facts at his finger tips.

It was a merry procession that "hiked" by the roadway to the Dale with inspiring music from the band, "Lou" Weller, leader.

KNIGHTS OF EQUITY

HELD A GRAND OUTING AT JUNIPER PARK

The Lawrence and Lowell Courts of the Knights of Equity held their annual joint outing at Juniper park, Lawrence, yesterday. It was an all day affair, the two courts going up in the morning and staying till night fell. About 300 in all were present. Three special cars were used to convey the Lowell Knights to the scene of the affair.

An elaborate banquet that tickled the palates of all those present was prepared by Caterer Finn and each and every one did full justice to it.

The afternoon was given over to sports and besides a ball game between teams from the courts of each city a long list of track games was run off. Lawrence, with Tommy Jordan and Joe Shine in the points won out over the Spindle City boys by a score of 5 to 4. "Nixey" Corcoran, an old New England leaguer, did the twirling for Lowell. The summary of the track sports:

100-Yard Dash—Won by Woods, Lawrence; Andrew Minahan, Lawrence, second.

Shoe race, won by Thomas Terlihy Lawrence; Patrick Fitzpatrick, Lawrence, second.

Shot Put—Won by James Clancy, Lowell; Simon Dean, Lowell, second.

75-Yard Dash (for married men)—Won by Thomas Jordan, Lawrence; John O'Neil, Lawrence, second.

Potato Race—Won by William Kelley, Lowell; Henry O'Brien, Lawrence, second.

Hop, Step and Jump—Won by Michael Mahoney, Lowell; Dr. Edward Lynch, Lawrence, second.

75-Yard Race (for fat men)—Won by John O'Neil, Lowell; James Clancy, Lowell, second.

Backward Race—Won by John Shea, Lawrence; Joseph Shine, Lawrence, second.

56-Pound Weight—Won by Dean, Lowell; Clancy, Lowell, second.

Irish Jig and Hornpipe—Won by Patrick Galvin, Lawrence; Andrew Herlihy, Lawrence, second.

RECEIVES LITERATURE ABOUT SIMPLIFIED SPELLING

Arthur K. Whitcomb, superintendent of schools, is in receipt of three or four cart loads of literature from the Simplified Spelling board of New York, and Mr. Whitcomb rather allows that the board would simplify matters for him if it would but keep its literature at home. Mr. Whitcomb is not adverse to simplified spelling, and he is a pretty good speller, too, but he hasn't room for more than three tons of literature on the one subject at one time. Mr. Whitcomb, like a good many others, sympathizes with the fellow who is a little out on spelling and if the simplified method will help a weaker soul along, he would like to see it adopted. One of the circulars received by Mr. Whitcomb says that the simplified method is going to come just as sure as little apples. The circular says: "It is time to act. The time is propitious. The simplified spelling movement is steadily growing public support. Knowledge and reason will win against ignorance and prejudis."

IMPOSING SERVICES

In Honor of Corpus Christi Held in Catholic Churches Yesterday

Yesterday the solemnity of the feast of Corpus Christi was observed in all the Catholic churches in Lowell with solemn processions of the Blessed Sacrament, most of the churches holding impressive exercises in the open-air and through the streets, each feature having its own significance well understood by most Catholics.

At St. Patrick's

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed at St. Patrick's church yesterday with time-honored splendor, for at St. Patrick's an elaborate outdoor procession has been in vogue for over a generation, and yesterday's beautiful event was thoroughly in keeping with the magnificence of its long list of predecessors.

The exercises opened in the church at 2 o'clock, where the marching societies were assembled in reserved seats. Vespers were sung, concluding with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Rev. Joseph Curtin, assisted by Rev. John J. McHugh deacon, Rev. Timothy Callahan subdeacon, and Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., master of ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the church services, the procession formed, headed by the Lowell Cadet band, John J. Giblin, leader.

The procession was headed by the pastor, Rev. William O'Brien, followed by Daniel Powers as censer bearer, and Edward O'Neil as cross bearer. The attendants to the latter were Daniel Daly and John Burt. Then followed the Boys' Infant Jesus sodality and the members of the Girls' Infant Jesus sodality.

The boys and girls who recently made their first communion followed, and after them came the members of the Sacred Heart sodality. The pupils of the parochial school came next and after them the members of the Children of Mary sodality. The members of the Immaculate Conception sodality followed, preceding the members of St. Cecilia's choir. The sanctuary choir came next and then the flower girls. The sacred host, carried by Rev. Joseph Curtin, was attended by Rev. John J. McHugh and Rev. Timothy P. Callahan. The canopy was carried by Hon. John F. Meehan, Brother Osmond, John J. Sullivan and John McCarthy. The acolytes were Edward Flannery and Michael Doherty and the thurifers James King and Michael Coyle, while the lanterns were carried by E. Dean, P. Gill, F. Kelley, John Bardon, John O'Brien and Edward Keleher. The incense bearers were R. Campbell and G. Tobin, while the master of ceremonies was Bernard O'Reilly and his assistant, Edward Nelligan. The members of the Holy Name society acted as a guard of honor.

With the band playing "Graces from My Jesus Flowing," the chimes alternating with the band in playing the familiar hymn, the procession moved slowly to the grotto in the academy garden, where a flower-bedecked temporary altar had been erected. Here benediction was given by Fr. Curtin, the church, sanctuary and academy choirs singing "Pange Lingua" and "Tantum Ergo" as the procession moved along. Thence the procession emerged through the garden gate into Fenwick street to Suffolk and into the church yard, where at the monument a temporary altar also beautifully adorned was erected. Here also benediction was given, after which the marching societies re-entered the church where the service was concluded. Several thousand people assembled in Fenwick and Suffolk streets and in the church yard kneeling in the streets as the Blessed Sacrament passed. The scene was most impressive throughout. The parochial residence and St. Patrick's Home were tastefully decorated in the national and papal colors, while lighted candles lined all the windows in the two buildings.

Immaculate Conception

The Corpus Christi services at the Immaculate Conception church were held in the beautiful Columbus park in front of the church and were most elaborate. Hundreds thronged the vicinity of the church during the procession, which was held in the evening at 6.30 o'clock.

In the line were the young communicants, the Children of Mary and the Immaculate Conception sodality. The O. M. I. Cadets appeared as a guard of honor, and the Holy Name society was in charge of the park. The scene presented was one of rare beauty. During the procession the hymn "Pange Lingua" was sung. Benediction in the church closed the service.

At the 7.30 mass, the children who recently received their first communion were again at the altar. They were dressed in their communion suits, with veils and ribbons.

At the solemn mass at 11 o'clock Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., was the celebrant, assisted by Frs. Sullivan and McQuaid, O. M. I., deacons. The blessed sacrament was exposed throughout the ceremony and benediction was given at the close. The choir sang Blasel's mass, and at the offertory Rossino's "O Salutaris."

At Sacred Heart

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed at the Sacred Heart church yesterday with beautiful ceremonies. At 10.30 o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated. Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., was celebrant, Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I., deacon, and Rev. James McDermott, O. M. I., subdeacon. James Mahan was master of ceremonies. Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., occupied a seat in the sanctuary and also preached the sermon. The altar and sanctuary were beautifully decorated for the occasion. During the mass the choirs alternated in singing the responses, the solos being sustained by Miss Katherine Hickey and Messrs. Henry Curry and William Finley. John Kelty presided at the organ.

At the close of mass a procession, headed by Rev. Fr. McDermott as cross bearer, with the altar boys, members of the sanctuary choir and the officers of the mass, marched through the aisles of the church, singing appropriate hymns. The blessed sacrament was carried by Rev. Fr. Flynn.

After the procession, solemn benediction of the blessed sacrament was given.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock services were held in the church, and there was a procession, vespers and solemn benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Next Friday at the church the beautiful service of the forty hours' devotion will begin at the 9 o'clock mass. The sacrament will remain exposed until Sunday, when the service will come to a close with solemn high mass at 10.30 o'clock.

St. Peter's Church

The Corpus Christi procession at St. Peter's church was held at the conclusion of the high mass and was confined to the aisles of the church, being participated in by the Children of Mary society, the sanctuary choir and altar boys. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Fr. Heffernan and the sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. O'Brien. The procession was in charge of Rev. W. George Mullin.

The formation of the parade was as follows:

Chalice Banner—Marietta Markham; lilies, Mary Kenney, Josephine Flanagan, 30 children with veils and lavender sashes, carrying small bouquets, lamb, Elizabeth Joyce; floral emblems, I. H. S., Sally Flanagan, Molly Whelan, Catherine Cryan.

Children of Mary Banner—Rita Nawn, 44 children with veils and blue sashes, carrying large bouquets; wheat, Ruth Kirby; grapes, Mary Corbett, lilies, Lena Sharkey.

Sacred Heart Banner—Jennie Frawley, 40 children with veils and red sashes, carrying cross; palms; lantern bearers, Anna Rogers, Catherine McCann.

Sanctuary Surpliced choir, led by Rev. John J. Burns; acolytes in cassocks and surplices; officiating clergymen; cross bearer, James Markham.

The blessed sacrament was borne through the church by Fr. Heffernan, the canopy being supported by Messrs. Michael Corbett, James Gorman, Roderick Quirbach and Thomas Ginty.

St. Michael's

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed in a fitting manner at St. Michael's church yesterday. Rev. Fr. Shaw, pastor of the parish, officiated at high mass, and the choir, under the direction of Mr. James A. Murphy rendered St. Cecilia's mass, Miss Carolyn White presiding at the organ.

Immediately after the service a procession of the blessed sacrament was held around the interior of the church. This was followed with solemn benediction.

At St. Anthony's

Two festivals, the feasts of Corpus Christi and of St. Anthony, were celebrated at St. Anthony's church yesterday. The church was prettily decorated, and the services were beautiful and impressive. A large number of boys and girls were given their first communion, and Rev. Fr. Percot officiated at the high mass. The choir, under the direction of Miss Lulu Ginty, gave a special musical program with Mrs. Harriette Sheehan, Mrs. Annie Wilkins, James Haley and Manuel Sousa as the soloists. In the evening at the vespers Rev. Fr. Percot officiated, and the children who had received their first communion were enrolled into the Sodality of St. Anthony. Then followed a procession of the members of the sodality, the boys and the sanctuary choir, the children singing hymns in honor of St. Anthony, whose statue was carried through the aisles of the church. The festival closed with the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

DROWNING ACCIDENTS

Four Persons Lost Their Lives in New England Waters

Four deaths by drowning were reported yesterday in New England.

William Smith of Portland, Me., fell from his motor boat on the Kennebec river late Saturday; John Le Favre of Wakefield was drowned when the home-made boat he was in capsized on Lake Quannapowitt; Miss Jennie Farrell of Boston was attacked by heart failure while bathing in Lake Spofford at Keene, N. H., and drowned before help could reach her; Joseph Ozulaz, a three-year-old child, crawled through the fence and drowned in the Spickett river at Lawrence.

DROWNED IN COVE

BOSTON, June 19.—John D. LeFavre, 32 years old, of 1 Beacon street, Wakefield was drowned in a cove of Lake Quannapowitt, Wakefield, when a home-made dory which he was sailing with John Harvey of East Boston capsized at 2.40 yesterday afternoon.

After ineffectual attempts to rescue LeFavre, Harvey swam to shore. Harvey told friends the men had been rocking the boat, but went away before the Wakefield police arrived to get further particulars.

LeFavre was married and had six children, ranging from 10 years to 16 months old. He was employed at Locke's Regulator factory.

FALLS OFF BOAT

RICHMOND, Me., June 19.—The drowning of William Smith of Augusta, who fell from the stern of his motorboat while off Swan Island in the Kennebec river late Saturday night, was reported to the police yesterday, and an unsuccessful search for the body followed.

Smith and a younger brother had run down from Augusta during the afternoon and were preparing to return, when a sudden eddy struck the craft, causing the older man to lose his balance and plunge overboard.

The younger man was not an adept at managing the boat, and before he could bring it around and return to the spot where his brother went down, the latter had drowned.

After spending some time cruising around the place in the hope of recovering the body, young Smith headed for Augusta, where he arrived after midnight. Yesterday with relatives he returned here and reported the drowning. Smith was 35 years of age, and is survived by a widow and two children.

OFFICER SAVES MAN

BOSTON, June 19.—Officer Birmingham of the Metropolitan park police, yesterday afternoon rescued a young man from the bottom of an overturned canoe on the Charles river. The canoe containing two young men was upset near Norumbega park, one of the young men swimming to the shore a distance of about 20 feet, while the other being unable to swim clung to the bottom of the canoe until the arrival of the officer.

The young man was taken in the officer's boat to the metropolitan park station where his clothes were dried and he was able to return to his home.

Only one other upset occurred during the day with the many thousand canoeists on the river. Near the Stone house a canoe containing a young man was upset but he walked to shore.

SUCCUMBS TO HEART FAILURE

KEENE, N. H., June 19.—Heart failure came upon Miss Jennie Farrell of Boston, 25 years old, while she was swimming in Spofford Lake yesterday, and the young woman was drowned. She was a domestic employed by Colonel W. R. Porter of this city, and was swimming near the Porter cottage on the lake shore. Her friends say she was a strong swimmer. She was drowned in 18 feet of water.

CHILD DROWNED

LAWRENCE, June 19.—Crawling through a gap in the fence on the banks of the Spickett River yesterday, Joseph Orzulaz, aged three years, fell into the stream and was drowned. The child was the son of a Polish mill operative. Nobody saw him fall in, and the finding of the body floating on the water was the first known of the accident.

HOW AMERICA'S WEALTHIEST MAN, J. D. ROCKEFELLER, APPEARS TODAY

Junior Grade Held Graduation Exercises

Last evening the parents and friends of the five hundred children of the junior grades of the Sacred Heart school assembled in the school hall to witness the varied and pleasing program of their closing exercises.

The new parochial hall was never shown to better advantage. Despite the large audience and the warmth of the evening the hall remained perfectly cool as it is elevated far above the surrounding buildings and received continuous draughts of fresh air through its large windows. The tastefully decorated stage easily accommodated the three hundred children which one number of the program called for, and the light and color effects were singularly beautiful as the juvenile actors, dressed in white and black and variegated bows and ties went through the graceful performance of song and recitation, and the very intricate evolutions of the drills.

The program was as follows: Opening chorus, "The Sacred Heart"; greetings to the very reverend pastor and the clergy; welcome message to parents and friends; musical play, "Mother Goose," scene 1, songs by kindergarten and primary girls; scene 2, rhymes by kindergarten and primary girls; recitation, "Our Grandmothers"; "Sweepers' Growl"; concert recitation; closing hymn, to the Virgin Mary. The accompanists were Misses Helen Kirwin, T. McDermott and J. Sheehan.

The children made a splendid showing and reflect great credit on their patient teachers, the good Sisters of St. Mary. The chorus and drill work were exceptionally fine; but what most pleased and elicited the greatest applause was the musical play entitled "Mother Goose," presented by the children of the kindergarten and primary classes. This, in two scenes, introduced "Mother Goose" herself, "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe," with her many children, "Old King Cole," and "His Fiddlers Three," "Little Miss Muffet," and in fact all the heroes and heroines of the nursery rhymes.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Mother Goose, Florence Seymour; Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, Grace Burke; Old King Cole, Edmund Vaughan; Fiddlers, Joseph Burke, George Gagan, Richard O'Malley; Jack Spratt, Edward O'Connor; Boy Blue, Henry Forrest; Jack Horner, Thomas Boland; Tom Tucker, Timothy Sheehan; Bobby Shafto, Robert Hartley; Miss Muffet, Catherine Mone; Jack and Jill, George and Helen Roberts; children of Old Woman who lived in a shoe, primary and kindergarten pupils.

So many were the compliments passed on the children and the Sisters last evening by all who attended, it is expected that the hall will be crowded to its utmost capacity next Sunday evening, when the senior and graduating pupils will have their elaborate program of closing exercises.

The greeting to Very Rev. pastor and clergy was given by Francis Linehan. Welcome message to parents and friends by the following: Teresa Donohoe, Catherine Lynch, Catherine Maher, Veronica Bard, Alice Moran, Gertrude Burke, Helen Stafford, Eileen Powers, Theresa O'Hare, Josephine Sheehan, Grace McDermott, Helen Murphy, Catherine Dulligan, Frances Sullivan, Catherine Sweeney, Elizabeth Bassett.

SUCCESSFUL TRIP

THE BALLOON "BOSTON" LANDED AT HAMILTON

As it was announced in Saturday's Sun, the 79th ascension of the New England Aero club was held Saturday afternoon, when the balloon "Boston," piloted by H. Helm Clayton, left the gas works and shot straight up in the air for a few hundred feet and then sailed slowly away in the direction of Lawrence. The other passengers were J. P. Haworth of Pittsburg, Pa., and H. H. Brown of Boston.

Shortly before 7 o'clock the balloon landed at Hamilton, Mass., after a 25-mile flight. During the trip the balloonists were astonished to see a speck in the air which gradually grew into the proportions of an airship, and accompanied the balloon for a short distance, circling around it near enough to exchange signals. The aeroplane was a Blerlot machine driven by Hamilton L. Orvington, who is flying at Merrifield, Waltham.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

PHILIP LETOURNEAU

Alleged to Have Put Up a Battle With Police Officer

Philip Letourneau put up a battle Saturday night while Patrolmen Provencher and Lemay were arresting him and it is alleged he swung his right arm and landed on Patrolman Provencher's jaw and nearly put the latter out of business for several minutes. A tussle ensued in which Letourneau came out second best, and he was finally landed at the police station where he was booked for drunkenness and assault upon an officer. Albert Rivet who happened to be in the vicinity attempted to interfere, it is said, and he, too, was sent in for drunkenness.

When Letourneau was arraigned in police court this morning, through his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, he waived the reading of the complaint and asked for a continuance. The case was continued till Friday. Albert was charged with being drunk and after entering a plea of guilty was fined $2.

Charged With Larceny

Cornelius F. Moran charged with larceny entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued until Saturday. The alleged larceny has to do with the amount of cement put in a sidewalk.

The case of Edward J. Doyle charged with the larceny of a trip book was continued till next Monday.

Reckless Rider Arrested

Joseph Zajichowski was charged with riding a bicycle in Merrimack square at a rate of speed greater than ten miles an hour. Joseph admitted that he was going some but did not think he was violating the law. Patrolman David Petrie testified that at about seven o'clock Saturday night when scores of people were alighting from a Lakeview car in Bridge street, the defendant was riding his bicycle at the rate of about 12 or 15 miles an hour and upon turning from Merrimack street into Bridge street crashed into the crowd and besides knocking several against the car the rider himself was thrown to the ground. He further testified that the young man upon arising from the ground used some vile language. Joseph was found guilty and a fine of $10 was imposed.

Basil Chauvell was charged with the larceny of a pocketbook and $10.14 in money, the property of Joseph Leblanc. A plea of not guilty was entered and as he was anxious to secure the services of a lawyer the case was put over until tomorrow morning.

Kicked a Boy

Michael Augustina was charged with drunkenness and assault on Henry Duprez, a small boy. He pleaded guilty to both complaints and after being found guilty was ordered to pay a fine of $10 for assault and $5 for drunkenness. Duprez informed the court that he was walking along Gorham street last night and without any warning or provocation, he said, Augustina kicked him. The boy's mother testified to having witnessed the assault. The defendant said that the boy asked him for a cigaret and when he refused to give the lad one the latter called him names and that was his reason for kicking the boy. The court, however, did not place much credence in the man's story and therefore found him guilty on both complaints.

Drunken Offenders

Narcisse Bouret after being found guilty of drunkenness was sentenced to the reformatory.

Frank Laba got drunk in Chelmsford yesterday and this morning in court he was fined $5. Frank McQuade was also fined $5.

Mary Taylor and James Whelan were each sentenced to two months in jail. Whelan appealed but later withdrew his appeal. Thomas F. Cummings was sentenced to jail for four months, while Patrick Beecher was sent to the state farm.

John J. Kelly and Percy Dane were fined $5 each and seven simple drunks were released prior to the opening of court.

THE BENEDICTION AT THE OPEN AIR ALTAR AT CORNER OF PAWTUCKET AND CHEEVER STREETS

French Catholics Observed the Feast of Corpus Christi

The feast of Corpus Christi was observed in an elaborate manner in all of the French Catholic churches of the city yesterday. Services were held in the church followed by a solemn procession along the principal streets of the parish. Temporary altars were erected along the route of the processions, and solemn benediction of the most blessed sacrament was held in the open air, the ceremonies being witnessed by several thousand people. The decorations along the routes were magnificent, and all in all the observance was one of the most successful ever held in this city.

St. Jean Baptiste

In the parish of St. Jean Baptiste church, the procession was the second annual and proved by far superior to the one of last year. The service began with solemn vespers at the church at 2 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Frs. Brullard, O. M. I., D. D., Rev. Fr. Berneche, O. M. I., and Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., superior of St. Joseph's church. The service was for men only, and the spacious church was literally filled.

The choir, augmented by members of other choirs, rendered Stearn's vespers, Dr. George E. Caisse directing and Mr. Arthur J. Martel presiding at the organ.

A short instruction on the observance of the day was delivered by the Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I.

At 2.45 o'clock the procession formed at the church and the surrounding streets as follows:

Cross, chandeliers, and altar boys in column of fours.
The boys of St. Joseph's college and the Anges Gardiens sodality.
The little boys of three classes at the Convent of St. Joseph.
Children of Mary.
The girls of St. Joseph's convent.
Group of 60 girls from Pawtucketville with veils and flowers.
The women of St. Anne's Sodality.
Group of little girls.
The girls of Notre Dame de Lourdes sodality.
The children of the orphanage.
Lowell Independent Band.
Union Garin Nationale.
Court Samuel de Champlain.
Conseil Carillon.
The Artisans and l'Union St. Joseph.
Court St. Paul.
Court St. Antoine.
The C. M. A. C.
The Holy Family Sodality.
The choir.
Group of girls from the convent with garlands and crowns.
The censers, the Blessed Sacrament, the altar boys and gardes.

The blessed sacrament was carried by Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., under a canopy carried by four of the oldest members of the parish. In the front were some 60 little girls dressed in white, scattering flowers along the way. The other clergymen in the procession were: Rev. Fr. Thomas Marie, O. S. F., of Montreal, Rev. Fr. Chaput, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, Rev. Frs. Denizot, Gratou, Brullard, Baron, Paquette, Berneche, Racette, Lefebvre, O. M. I., of St. Joseph's parish, Rev. Bros. Bolduc and Jalbert, O. M. I., of Tewksbury, Rev. Bro. Fortier, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Texas, and Rev. Bro. Levasseur, O. M. I., of St. Joseph's parish.

XAVIER DELISLE.
Marshal of Procession.

The route of procession was as follows: from the church in Merrimack street, to Aiken, to Hall, to Tucker, to Cheever, to Pawtucket, where a halt was made for benediction, to Moody, to Austin, to Merrimack and into the church.

The repository, a magnificent piece of work, was erected in Pawtucket street opposite Cheever street by Messrs. Eucharist Champagne and Laurier Tremblay. It was a huge monument of wood about 60 feet high and richly decorated with potted plants, flowers, shrubs and greeneries. On its summit rested a temporary altar decorated with candles, pictures of Our Lord and angels, and flowers. The entire repository was also draped with bunting and flags of the national colors.

Here the procession halted and solemn benediction was held. The 25 steps of the temporary altar were lined with little girls dressed in white, while others represented angels. The guards were lined on each side of the repository and presented arms at the benediction.

Over 10,000 people were in attendance at the repository, including about 6000 in the procession. The large crowd conducted itself with the utmost decorum and courtesy, but on account of the immense crowd at the repository the congregation could not kneel.

The procession then continued its march as far as Knapp's place in Moody street, where another halt was made, and there again benediction was held at another temporary altar erected in the middle of the yard. This one was also lavishly decorated and was the work of Mesdames Forget, Collette, Lacharme, Daignault, Lebrun and Miss Fournier.

At the church, after the procession, solemn vespers were again held, this time for women only. Again the Rev. Frs. Watelle, Brullard, Baron and Berneche, O. M. I., officiated.

The decorations along the route were very artistic and every building was literally covered with bunting and flags of the national colors. Small altars, pictures of saints and statues were also very numerous along the line. A grotto containing the life figure of Our Lord was erected on the land adjoining the church in Moody street. This was admired by every one who chanced to see it. It was erected and decorated by the Sisters in charge of the rectory.

The chief marshal of the procession was Mr. Xavier Delisle, president of the C. M. A. C., and his aids were the Messrs. Joseph Payette, Alderic I. Tellier and Onesime Tremblay.

St. Louis'

The first Corpus Christi procession at St. Louis' church was held yesterday immediately after high mass. The Rev. Fr. J. Henri Filion of St. Joseph's parish, Salem, Mass., officiated at the church, and the sermon, an eloquent one on the feast of the day, was preached by the Rev. Fr. Fortier.

After the mass the procession formed as follows:

First Division.
Cross and acolytes.
National and French colors.
Garde Frontenac.
Banner of St. Louis.
School Children.
Parishioners not affiliated with any sodality.

Second Division.
Garde Jacques Cartier.
Artisans.
Catholic Foresters and L'Union St Jean Baptiste.
Cercle St. Louis.

Third Division.
Sacred Heart League.
Children of Mary.
St. Anne's Sodality.
Third Order of St. Francis.

Fourth Division.
Choir.
Altar boys.
Children distributing flowers.
Torches.
Censers.
Canopy.

Blessed Sacrament, escorted by a detachment of the Garde d'Honneur.

Mr. Pierre A. Brousseau was chief marshal, and the aids were Messrs. Joseph Delorme and Marcel Roussel. The canopy was borne by four well known men of the parish, Messrs. J. H. Beaulieu, J. A. Filion, Simeon Lagasse and J. A. Foisy. Rev. Fr. J. N. Jacques, pastor of the parish, carried the blessed sacrament as far as the repository at the home of Mrs. Pierre Z. Hebert in Hildreth street, where he officiated at the benediction. Then Rev. Fr. Filion carried it to the church. The route of the procession was from the church to Boisvert street, to Victor, to Ennell, to Hildreth, to Aiken avenue, to West Sixth and into the church. The choir was under the direction of Mr. Olier J. David. Rev. Fr. R. A. Fortier had general charge of the procession. The decorations along the route were splendid.

Notre Dame de Lourdes

The procession after high mass at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in Branch street was a pretty feature, although the route of the procession was just around the church into East Pine street, where a repository had been erected. All the societies of the parish as well as everyone attending high mass took part in the observance. Rev. Fr. Lamothe, O. M. I., pastor of the church, officiated at the benediction, and Rev. Frs. Magnan and Barette, O. M. I., assisted.

The blessed sacrament was escorted by Garde Sacre-Coeur. The choir was under the direction of Mr. H. A. Raelcot.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

With the opening of the Lakeview theatre tonight, the summer season is in full swing at Lakeview. Mr. Joseph J. Flynn, the manager of the Stock company this year has spared no expense to make the opening this season one that will be remembered for the high class attraction that will be presented. The company consists of the following: Arthur Behrens, leading man; Miss Marie Horton, leading lady; Miss Holly Hollis, Miss Louis Willard, Wm. A. Williams, J. J. Owens, Henry Sherwood, Robert Lee, Cecil Lugrin, Daniel Pagnell, Loyd Foster and Mr. Bartley McCullum as stage director. The opening play selected is one of the best of the high priced attractions, "The Man of the Hour," which will be presented by this company for the first time at popular prices which will prevail at the Lakeview theatre. Matinees, 10 and 20 cents; evenings, 10, 20 and 30 cents. There will be a matinee every day excepting Monday. Seats are on sale at Carter & Sherburn's drug store. Owing to the length of the performance of "The Man of the Hour," which curtain will rise promptly at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m.—Adv.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Not in many weeks has such a splendid program been arranged for the enjoyment of the patrons of this popular playhouse than that which the management presents this week. Each number is in itself a feature and the combination is one that merits liberal patronage. Besides being cleverly given the acts are clean and the kind to which no one can take the slightest offence or enter the least objection. Women and young folks more especially, will find wholesome amusement at the Merrimack Square theatre.

The return engagement of Mortimer Snow & Co., presenting that popular romantic comedy, "Her Broken Idol," is one of the several good things for the week. An added feature in connection with this presentation is the introduction of a prominent Lowell girl in the cast. Mr. Snow, as is well known, is a capable actor and his assistants, Miss Lee Anderson and Mr. Boshell are especially adapted to the parts to which they are assigned. The staging of the piece will be looked after with special care to detail.

Miss May E. Whiteley, one of Lowell's favorite soprano singers, will appear during the week in the latest songs and her presence should attract a large number for her singing compares with their very best among local talent.

Simpson and Smith are colored entertainers who have a good line of talk and a gist of amusing songs that combine in making a most enjoyable 20 minutes of entertainment. Christine is one of the cleverest ventriloquists on the stage. His work compares favorably with the best in his line.

By special request the management of the theatre has secured, for the entire week, that wonderful motion picture, "A Trip to Niagara Falls," a 500 foot reel that shows all of the points of interest about this famous place in a most realistic manner. The other pictures are the kind that are sure to please. Patrons are reminded that the Merrimack Square theatre is the coolest spot in town. Baseball results are given daily.—Adv.

LAWYER THORNDIKE DEAD

BOSTON, June 19.—The death of Samuel Lothrop Thorndike, a prominent Boston attorney, was announced today. Mr. Thorndike died at his home in Weston yesterday following a short illness. He was vice-president of the Suffolk Savings bank, vice-president of the New England Conservatory of Music, president of the Boston & Roxbury Carpet mills, and trustee of the Perkins Institute for the Blind. Mr. Thorndike was born at Beverly 82 years ago. He was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1882.

FIRE IN CELLAR

An alarm from box 75 at 9.09 o'clock Saturday night summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in a pile of clothing in the cellar of a house in Gershom avenue. The blaze was soon extinguished but later in the night the fire broke out again and a telephone alarm was sent to the central fire station and several pieces of apparatus were sent to the scene.

The alarm from box 23, which was sounded about 11.41 Sunday morning, was for a fire at 141 Lakeview avenue. The fire was on the roof, and outside of a few shingles burned, no damage was done. Mrs. Mary Gallagher owns and occupies the property.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

JUST THE IDEA.

He—When my ship comes in, we'll get married.

She—And take our honeymoon on the ship, eh!

SHE WAS IT.

"George told me he wouldn't marry the best woman living."

"No. He asked me and I refused him."

A HARD HIT.

He—It's just an ideal day to go somewhere and get married.

She—Yes. If I could find my ideal man now, I'd do it.

PAPA WAS RIGHT.

He—My brains are in a whirl whenever I'm with you.

She—Indeed! And papa insists you have no brains.

REPENT IN LEISURE.

She—Give me just one week to think it over.

He—You'll have lots of time to think it over after we're married.

She—So all the married women tell me.

A LONG WAY OFF.

He—They can say what they want. I'm a self-made man.

She—For heaven's sake, George, do you mean to say you have the job finished?

Sawyer, late of Antrim, in the County of Hillsborough, and State of New Hampshire, deceased, or in the personal property hereinafter described, and to the Treasurer and Receiver General of said Commonwealth.

Whereas, Martha A. Sawyer, appointed executrix of the will of said deceased, by the Probate Court for the County of Hillsborough, in the State of New Hampshire, has presented to said Court her petition representing that as such, she is entitled to certain personal property situated in said Commonwealth, to wit: Deposit in Lowell Institution for Savings, Lowell; and praying that she may be licensed to receive or to sell by public or private sale on such terms and to such person or persons as she shall think fit—or otherwise to dispose of, and to transfer and convey such estate.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by delivering a copy of said citation to the Tax Commissioner for said Commonwealth fourteen days at least before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex, ss. Probate Court. At a Probate Court holden at Cambridge, in and for said County of Middlesex, on the eighth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

On the petition of Samuel Orlovetz of Lowell, in said County, praying that his name may be changed to that of Samuel Lovitt, public notice having been given, according to the order of Court, that all persons might appear and show cause, if any they had, why the same should not be granted, and it appearing that the reason given therefor is sufficient and consistent with the public interest, and being satisfactory to the Court, that said petitioner is a minor, and that a guardian ad litem has consented, and no objection being made:

It is decreed that his name be changed, as prayed for, to that of Samuel Lovitt, which name he shall hereafter bear, and which shall be his legal name, and that he give public notice of said change by publishing this decree once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, and make return to this Court under oath that such notice has been given.

CHAS. J. McINTIRE,
Judge of Probate Court.

Notice is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Rachel H. Allyn, late of Charleston, in the State of Vermont, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing William H. Saunders, of Lowell, his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber. Horace W. Bailey, Executor. Address of agent, 12 Hurd st., Lowell, Mass. Address of executor, Newbury, Vt. June 3, 1911.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully libels and represents Caroline L. Miller, of Cambridge, in said County, that she was lawfully married to J. Edward Miller, now of Brooklyn, in the State of New York, at Brooklyn, New York, on the 17th day of January, A. D. 1907, and thereafter-wards your libellant and the said J. Edward Miller lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Cambridge; that your libellant has always been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said J. Edward Miller, being wholly regardless of the same, at Cambridge aforesaid, on or about the 13th day of November, A. D. 1907, utterly deserted her and has continued such desertion from that time to the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said J. Edward Miller. And that the care and custody of their minor child Cora Lucretia Miller, born June 19, 1907, be decreed to her.

Dated this first day of June, A. D. 1911.

CAROLINE L. MILLER.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex, ss. Superior Court, June , A. D. 1911.

Upon the libel aforesaid, it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before our Justices of said Court, at Cambridge, in said County, on the first Monday of July next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and of the order thereon, to be published in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the said last mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered letter to the residence of the libellee as set out in the libel, that he may then and there show cause, if any he have, why the prayer in said libel set forth should not be granted.

WM. C. DILLINGHAM, Asst. Clerk.

A true copy of the libel and of the order thereon.

Attest,
WM. C. DILLINGHAM, Asst. Clerk.

CONFEDERATE SHIP ALABAMA

JUNE 19—The confederate ship Alabama did not bear that name when she was launched on the Mersey in the spring of 1862. Uncle Sam had protested on England building the ship, but there was $250,000 in it for John Bull and John needed the money, as he does now. So she was launched as "290" and was taken to the Azores under command of a young British officer. Here she was manned by Captain Semmes and 145 officers and men. The boat was then given her name and started out as a privateer to raid the shipping of the north. And Semmes made a fine collection of stray vessels. He had captured 64 ships and burned all but seven of them, when he sailed into the port of Cherborg, France, and anchored to make repairs. Captain Winslow, of the United States ship Kearsarge, had been looking for Mr. Semmes for some time and also sailed into the harbor, but went outside without anchoring. Semmes took this as a deil and he also went out. This was on June 19, 1864. The date is important, because like McGinty, the Alabama "is on the bottom yet." The Kearsarge shot her full of holes in exchange of compliments that followed and Semmes and his crew were rescued by a pleasure yacht that stood off to see the meeting. England paid the United States $15,000,000 for that bit of boat building.

An investigation showed that the wires had become crossed.

Miss Elizabeth McCormack was pleasantly surprised last evening at her home, 193 Tremont street, by a large number of her friends. She was presented a gold ring. During the evening a delightful program was carried out. Refreshments were served, and the party broke up, all declaring it a great success.

Carney medals awarded Carney medal scholars at the high school are furnished only by the director of the Mint, Medal Department, Philadelphia, Pa. Several days ago Supt. Whitcomb made requisition for six medals and Purchasing Agent Foye forwarded the order to Philadelphia, money enclosed and in order to send the money along the purchasing agent had to consult his own pocketbook. The requisition was not accompanied by the money and the purchasing agent will have to submit his bill to the city treasurer. Last year the cost of the medals was $5.52.

FUNERALS

BERGERON—The funeral of the late Mrs. Bergeron took place this morning from her late home, 448 Moody street. The Beautiful Residence of Charles S. Shepard

CONSISTING OF A TWO-STORY HOUSE AND ABOUT 29,724 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 254 PARKVIEW AVENUE, AT THE JUNCTION OF LAUREL STREET AND HOLYROOD AVENUE, PLEDGED TO THE HIGHEST BONA FIDE BIDDERS AT ABSOLUTE AUCTION SALE.

ON WEDNESDAY, JUNE 21st, 1911, AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.

This beautiful residential property has been surveyed and divided by plan into four lots, which will be sold at the advertised time to whomsoever will bid the most for them, without limit or reserve. The property is situated high above the level of the street, within two minutes' walk of the Oaklands line of electric cars; also five minutes of the Boston & Reading line, thus making the accommodations of trolleys the very best and also avoiding the noise, dust and other objectionable features that one might receive if he were directly on the line. The house is entered through a cobblestone archway; it sets back from the street 50 feet, with three terraces, overhung by large shade trees, a plentiful supply of various kinds of fruit trees, beautifully and well kept lawns, lends itself to the beauty of the place.

LOT NO. 2—The house and 10,315 square feet of land with a frontage of 89 feet at No. 254 Parkview avenue. The house is a 2½ story structure, containing nine rooms. The first floor comprises a commodious reception hall with open fireplace, window seat built in, large parlor, splendid dining-room, with china closet built in, kitchen, laundry and toilet. On the second floor are three bright, sunny chambers, billiard room complete, and large bath. The third floor contains one finished room and unfinished attic. The cellar is very well lighted and cemented, the house is high studded, very conveniently laid out, is heated by steam throughout, has electric lights in every room, each light is turned on by a switch, hot and cold water, set wash trays, splendid closet rooms, brass open plumbing, is very heavy timbered and one of the best constructed houses in the city.

LOT NO. 1—At the corner of Parkview avenue and Laurel street, has a frontage of 80 feet on Parkview avenue and 109 feet on Laurel street, and a total area of 8724 square feet; is very attractive and can easily be improved.

LOT NO. 3—At the rear of the house facing on Holyrood avenue, has a frontage on the avenue of 92 feet and an area of 6290 square feet. This lot sits high and commands a most magnificent view.

LOT NO. 4—Contains 4395 square feet, is a corner lot with a frontage of 82 feet on Holyrood avenue and 45 feet on Laurel street. This is a very choice lot, lying as it does on two streets overlooking the entire surrounding country.

Every lot has all modern improvements such as city water, gas and electric lights, etc., and anyone thinking of erecting a home should positively attend this sale.

TERMS: $450 must be deposited with the auctioneer on Lot No. 2 as soon as struck off; $150 each on Lots 1, 3 and 4. The sale will commence promptly at 3 o'clock beginning with lot No. 2.

A detailed plan of the property can be had upon application at the office of the auctioneer, and the premises can be seen at any time before the sale, by calling upon the auctioneer, where all inquiries must be made.

TRUSTEES REAL ESTATE AT PUBLIC AUCTION

SATURDAY, JUNE 24th, 1911, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

By virtue of a license granted me by the Probate Court, I will sell at absolute auction sale this commodious residence containing 10 rooms, besides bath, pantry, hot and cold water, furnace heat, gas, city water, sewer connections, etc. The first floor has reception hall, parlor, library, dining-room, kitchen, with hard-wood floors, pantry and toilet. On the second floor are five very good chambers, and large bath, one unfinished room for storage, the third floor has a large unfinished attic, the cellar is high posted and very well lighted. The house, with a few small repairs, can be made into a most attractive residence, or the building could very easily be converted into a two-family property.

There are 30,253 square feet of land, with a frontage of 125 feet on Third street and 243 feet on Fremont street; on the lot are numerous fruit and shade trees. This area comprises five lots of land and affords an excellent chance for the erection of new dwellings or apartments and in a location which is very central with desirable neighbors, assuring quick and steady rental.

HERE IS AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY FOR EITHER THE HOME-SEEKER, THE INVESTOR, OR THE SPECULATOR.

The location is one of the very best in Centralville, the property sitting high commands a most magnificent view of the Merrimack valley and surrounding country. It is within two minutes' walk of two lines of electric cars, also 10 minutes' walk of Merrmack square, thus making accommodations for anyone working in the down-town district that of the very best.

The property will be sold on the day and hour advertised and anyone desirous of inspecting the same can do so by calling at the office of the auctioneer, where all inquiries must be made.

Terms: $100 must be paid to the auctioneer as soon as the property is struck off. Other terms made known at the sale.

Developing and Printing Done Here

Do you leave your films at the first store you see a sign displayed in reading as above? The better way is to find out where the best results are to be obtained from your snaps.

My Workrooms

are open to you at any time, that you may see the care taken with your films in order to deliver you better prints from them than you can obtain at any store. I earnestly request that you inspect the results obtained here. Leave one roll of films and if you do not have better prints than you have obtained elsewhere (in this city) say so, and there will be no charge. Can you find a fairer proposition?

Going to Retire From Business

And I have a tremendous stock to dispose of, at prices better than an auction. If you are going to make a present, you cannot do better than to look at our bargains before you spend your money.

Have you some spaces on the wall that need pictures or mirrors? Measure them and let us help you find your favorite subject that will give you pleasure to look at.

If you have frames you would like new pictures for bring us the size. Bring all your pictures you want framed, as our factory stock is to be sold also.

We have a limited number of frames for diplomas, in mission oak, one and one-half inches wide. While they last, 50 cents. Other bargains of equal value in all our lines.

If customers having goods here will kindly call or send for the same, it will be greatly appreciated, as everything must be disposed of.
